Western Front from north to south. I suppose you've heard of these towns. I've been in them all: Amiens, Montdidier, Ham, Noyon, St. Quentin, Origny, Toul, Nancy, Compeigne, Keccur Aisne, Soissons, Verdun, Charny and Chalons, Paris, etc. We've been under shell fire some times every day for a week. Jerry dropped all the scrap iron made in Germany around us. Your young nephew was a scared baby, believe me. I was talking to a bunch of Engineers one afternoon and Jerry started to sephl a nearby crossroad and got 2 soldiers the first shell. I beat it for a dugout and had to stay there all afternoon. We lost 3 fellows here. Will not write all about it, but will tell you some of these days. We will probably be here until peace is signed. I am expecting to stop off in Nebraska. Get a job, go home for a while and then work till Sept. and go to school.

Was tickled to get the pictures from Mildred. I've sure got some good son, eh?

I'll bet you're proud of your bunch. I'd sure be, Gee, I used to tote Mildred around in a baby buggy and now she's bigger than I.

Well so long Uncle Frank. Love to all, especially Aunt Dora and Jake (ob).

Your nephew,
F. N. TIGHE.

HAVE A VISITING NURSE NOW.

The Metropolitan is evincing their idea of having the members of their company, or rather the policy holders of their institution, have the best of care, and they have in this city consummated what they long have cherished, that of providing a visiting nurse, for those sick who hold policies. The duties of the visiting nurse, is to visit the families of those who hold policies, and ascertain the conditions that prevail, to assist in as much as is possible in the time which she could devote to each place, but is not supposed to make a visit extend over an hour, in the care of the sick, and a suggestion for their treatment, and to know and report the sanitary conditions obtaining at the place where the visit is made.

The appointment of Mrs. Glen Edwards, assures that the work of the visiting nurse will be the best. Mrs. Edwards has just been appointed a few days since, and has found her services in great demand, as she is supposed to visit and assist with suggestion and advice as well as materially, in nursing as she can in the care of those sick.

WAS TO BE MARRIED SOON.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Miss Frances Kushinsky whose fiancée occurred this morning and who died a few days since, was the affiancée of Corporal Virgil Redmond, who is now in France, and is expected home with the others of the boys who are there. The wedding was to have occurred on his arrival from the other side.

Contradiction.

When a young man Rear Admiral Stephen B. Luce of the United States navy was extremely popular with the "smart set" at Newport. With him on the same ship was a stern disciplinarian, ever on the lookout for some neglect of duty. After a round of pleasure one evening Luce met this martinet, who remarked sharply: "Luce, you're tight!" "Parole me, sir," Luce promptly replied. "If Stephen B. Luce, how can he be tight?"

Air Raid Nerves.

A straw that shows how the wind is blowing is the demand of the Frankfurt Gazette that the German imperial government no longer delay in providing the people with state insurance against air raid damage. A leading article contends that "it is the absence of this protection that is causing such a wide-spread feeling of insecurity."

German Marching Music.

When the Germans entered Brussels they sang as they marched "Every Little Movement." They do not sing now because every little movement still has a meaning of its own, the same being retreat.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Too Early for Him.

"How does your son like the army?" "Not at all. He says they make him get up just at the time he used to think about going to bed when he was at home."

FARM FOR SALE.

A good improved 220 acre farm 2 miles east of Murray, what is known as the F. M. Young estate. Good improvements. Possession can be had March 1st, 1919. Enquire of Lloyd Gapon, Murray, Nebraska. 29-4wksd&w

FRANCES KUSHINSKY DIES AT OMAHA

DEATH CAME QUICKLY, AS YOUNG LADY SICK ONLY FOR A SHORT TIME BEFORE DEATH.

HAD MADE HER HOME THERE

Daughter Of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kushinsky Of This City, Funeral Tomorrow.

From Monday's Daily.

It was with somewhat of a shock that the news came yesterday of the death of Miss Frances Kushinsky, who had been seen but a few days since at Omaha, she saying that she was feeling very well with the exception of a cold. The young lady was born in this city, and grew to womanhood and has been making her home in Omaha for some time, where she was employed as a clerk. She was taken last week with the influenza and which later developed into bronchial pneumonia, developing very rapidly. Death came yesterday morning at about four o'clock. The remains of the young lady were brought to this city, where they lie in state at the home of her parents on Winterstein hill.

The funeral will be held from the St. John's Catholic church tomorrow, Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, and the interment made at the Catholic cemetery west of the city.

BOARD ADVISES EXTREME CARE IN ISOLATION OF CASES IN HOMES

Suggests Towns Adopt Measures That Will Bring Disease Under Control; Urges Avoidance of Crowds.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 17.—Rigid quarantine of the homes of persons suffering from Spanish influenza is the principal recommendation of a program adopted here today by the Nebraska Board of Health.

All counties and cities in Nebraska are advised to take this action in an effort to stamp out the epidemic.

The program was decided upon at a conference of physicians and public health officers from all parts of the state. It follows the Omaha plan in the main features.

The health board estimates there have been 5,500 deaths in Nebraska from influenza since the disease first became prevalent.

Advise Use Quarantine.

The following resolutions were adopted, prepared by a committee consisting of Dr. William F. Wild, Dr. J. A. Jennison, of Harvard, and Superintendent A. H. Waterhouse, of Fremont.

"Inasmuch as in some counties, cities and villages in the state no local health organization exists, although such organization is already provided for by law, we urgently recommend that in such counties, cities and villages, health boards be organized for the purpose of assisting in the control of the present epidemic; and we particularly urge all local health boards to enforce the present laws relating to the control of contagious diseases, especially as applied to the present epidemic; and we recommend that in

TAKING WAR PICTURES IS DANGEROUS WORK

SIGNAL CORPS CAMERA MEN RISKED LIFE AND LIMB TO FILM THE STIRRING SCENES OF 'AMERICA'S ANSWER.'

It is probable that very few of the hundreds of people who will crowd into the Paramount Theatre Sunday and Monday to see "America's Answer," the second official Government war picture, will realize the time, effort and risk involved in the taking of the negatives from which this thrilling and instructive picture was made.

The taking of pictures for the United States official war film is thoroughly hazardous. The pictures are taken in different sections by different photographers assigned from the Signal Corps. These photographers, who are all experienced men, know exactly what is expected of them, and, being given carte blanche by Gen. John J. Pershing to go anywhere, either back of the lines or in the front trenches, in pursuit of their work, they are indefatigable in securing striking and effective scenes. Often they are under fire; several have already lost their lives or been incapacitated by wounds, but the work goes on. The photographers are taking their chances with the soldiers who go "over the top" or who lead the charge, and they do not know the meaning of the "white feather." The usual war drama is staged, "America's Answer" visualizes the greatest of all war dramas, and no incident is spared. It is all real.

The work of the Signal Corps photographers is not confined to the taking of pictures for exhibition. Thousands of feet of film recording the events of the war are photographed for the archives of the United States and will be preserved in fireproof vaults for the benefit of posterity. But apart from this the army photographers serve a tremendously useful purpose by taking pictures of the enemy's lines from airplanes and thus aiding the batteries to locate the enemy guns.

Admission to this wonderful picture is fixed by the government at 17c.

"FLU" MUCH WORSE THAN THE WAR

Since September 15 between 300,000 and 350,000 deaths from influenza and pneumonia occurred among the population of the United States. American soldiers who died in France numbered only 58,478. The danger of a repetition of the epidemic is imminent. All official bulletins contain the recommendation: Keep your bowels open! For this purpose Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine is a highly dependable preparation. Being prepared from medicinal bitter herbs and pure and natural wine, Triner's remedy cleans the Intestines, but does not debilitate the body. On the contrary, it strengthens the entire system. At all drug stores, $1.10. For colic and cough Triner's Cough Sodyline is the best remedy, 25 and 50 cents at drug stores, by mail 25 and 60c. Joseph Triner Company, 1333-1343 S. MEETING WITH BEST SUCCESS

THE AMERICAN PATRIOTISM BEING DEMONSTRATED BY THE ANSWERING TO ROLL CALL

From Tuesday's Daily.

The American Red Cross, which stands for everything distinctively American, in their drive for the Christmas Roll Call, is demonstrating that there is patriotism in this country, which is mingled with Christianity, and an endeavor to emulate the Master. We heard some people talking this morning, both professional and, and they were saying "What are they going to do with all this money now the war is over."

Neither one of these men, have any boys in the war, they have purchased some war-savings stamps and some bonds have joined the Red Cross, but when they ask a question like that in justification of the withholding further subscriptions, where are they in being informed what the needs of this country needs, they surely do not realize, that there is much work to be done, and it will take money to do it. Do you suppose that you can lay down on the proposition that the world war is over, have you done your portion that the war should be won, you are not if you are not doing all you can to make a concrete working force of this Red Cross.

We can say that the money can be used to close up this war which some of those who are objecting to and their families may enjoy the benefits, which they have failed to contribute to.

Let all patriotic people get behind this movement and make it a society of more than one hundred millions members.

WHAT IS THE NAVY?

A LETTER FROM F. TIGHE, TO HIS UNCLE F. E. SCHLATER OF THIS PLACE.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Frank E. Schlater received a letter from his nephew, telling of some of the things in the navy, and how he likes it. His description of the world as seen from the battleship is indeed interesting. Here is what he has to say. The letter is blown in by a land breeze:

Monday, Nov. 18, 1918.

Dear Uncle Frank:

Received your welcome letter today and one from Mildred. Was sure glad to hear from you. It was an unexpected pleasure believe me.

Right now we are standing by, doing nothing. Were busy, enough before the since leaving St. Nazaire about the middle of August we've pulled the gun nearly 2500 miles. I've helped dig pits, dugouts, run telephone lines, fired the gun, gandy danced or in other words laid ties and rails, repaired the locomotive, etc. Join the navy and learn a trade, eh?

I don't know whether I told you or not but we have a rather large gun, or a car and have been doing fairly good work. Have had pretty good writings in papers, here in the states.

Uncle Frank, we've seen the

CASE KEROSENE TRACTORS

Save Horses—Fewer Needed

Case 10-20 Features

- 1—Pulls these 14-inch plows anywhere a team can continuously pull one plow.
- 2—Most powerful tractor in the 2000 pound class. Delivers 17-20 per cent more drawbar horsepower than rated.
- 3—Has 4-cylinder Case valve-in-head motor—head removable. Burns kerosene successfully and economically. Efficient air strainer prevents dust and grit entering cylinders.
- 4—Cut steel heat treated transmission gears, enclosed and running in oil. Hyatt Roller Bearings.
- 5—When plowing all wheels travel on unplowed ground. Combined tire width 42 inches. Absolutely no side draft.
- 6—Friction clutch pulley with brake, regular equipment. Drives 28x36 Case Thrasher with blower, feeder and grain handler; Case No. 15 silo filler and other machines requiring similar power.
- 7—The 10-inch idler can be quickly clutched-in with a lever and used as an extra driver.

HARVESTING is mighty hard on horses, sometimes cruel. You're liable to ruin your best. But this Case 10-20 Kerosene Tractor doesn't mind heat nor long hours. Plenty of power to operate up hill if your land is not level. The hitch is such that you can cut a full swath all the time.

This means you can do all your harvesting at proper time and run no risks. You can do your own and a couple of neighborhood jobs.

This Case 10-20 pulls two 7 to 8-foot binders. It burns kerosene economically while working, and costs nothing to feed when idle.

Let us tell you all about this powerful tractor, or others of the Case line.

counties, cities and villages where the law is not enforced by local authorities, that the State Board of Health assume authority and establish a local health organization at the expense of the community involved, as provided by law, section 2730, revised statutes of Nebraska, 1913. And we recommend that in these places where the local organization is unable to cope with the situation, that additional help be employed at the expense of the county or municipality concerned.

Regulations for Nurses.

"We strongly urge that each county, city or village organize a corps of nurses, to be trained along practical lines, to act under the instructions of the board of health, to be sent to the places where, in his opinion of the board of health they are needed.

"We recommend that influenza be considered and treated as a quarantinable disease, under the present quarantine regulations of the state board of health.

Inspection in Schools.

"We recommend that public schools, as far as possible, adopt the policy of medical inspection; where this is not possible, that the teachers be instructed to send home any children showing signs of illness; and we also recommend that all employers of labor be requested to excuse any employee who shows signs of illness, recommending that a physician be consulted, to determine the character of said illness; and we recommend that in case of said child or employee, if distance requires, that a conveyance be secured for said person, in order to avoid undue exposure of the person himself and the spread of the infection to those with whom said person may come in contact.

Cut Out Gatherings.

"We recommend that all gatherings for the purpose of pleasure and all other unnecessary public gatherings, be discontinued.

"We particularly urge the immediate reporting by every physician or, if no physician is in attendance, by the head of the house, of all cases of communicable disease, including influenza, and we recommend that in localities where the secretary of the local board of health cannot always be reached that a suitable place be provided where these reports may be received."

Activity of Germ.

Dr. Manning told of tests made as to the distance the disease could be communicated. He said that in ordinary conversation the germ would reach four feet, while sneezing or coughing they were communicable at 12 or 15 feet. He said the disease was hard to handle because unlike smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever and like diseases, there were no advance symptoms to indicate the disease. He opposed the general use of the flu mask, except in the sick room. He believed it more of a disease spreader than a preventative.

not resume their normal work for at least two weeks. Vaccine, he said has not proved satisfactory, and is as yet in the experimental stage.

Due to prostration and the proximity of the bodies, dancing is one of the surest ways to spread the disease. Neighbors should not be allowed in the sick room except the nurse and physician.

Manning Gives Talk.

In the afternoon addresses were made by Rev. W. B. Moore, of Holbrook, who did not believe in the quarantine; Dr. Ely, of Ainsworth, who was strongly in favor of quarantine, Representative Trimble, of Hazard, who thought the matter ought to be left to the state board and Dr. Conway, of Neligh, who was for absolute quarantine.

Dr. Manning, city health commissioner, of Omaha, made an interesting address, prefacing his remarks by saying that there were 250,000 people in Omaha and 150,000 of them have opinions regarding the handling of influenza, and most of them had given their opinions to him. He was opposed to the quarantine as it applied to the handling of the epidemic in Omaha. He believed the most effective way to handle the disease was to send people home at the very slightest suspicion that they were going to come down with it and then keep them there until long after there was danger. The crowds should be kept down.
