PLATTSMOUTH BOY WOUNDED IN FRANCE

LOUIS ROTHMAN RECEIVES A WOUND IN FOOT, IN BATTLE IN OCTOBER, IS WELL NOW.

DID NOT WANT FOLKS TO KNOW

Has Written Two Times Since Occurrence, Last Times Says Feeling Fine.

From Saturday's Daily.
The great big hearted man that he is, caused Louis Rothman, when wounded in battle on the western front, to endeavor to keep the fact from the knowledge of his mother in order to save the worry, did not write home about the accident. With studied phraseology, he said that he had not been with the company for some two weeks, when he was in the hospital recovering from the wound which has taken him there. Later on, Dec. 3rd, he wrote again, telling that he had not been with the company for some six weeks, and saying he was feeling fine and thought that he would be home in a short time, still endeavoring to keep the matter from his mother, that she might not grieve. This last letter was received a few days since. But from other sources has filtered through the news of the wound, in which the fact of his wounding comes out. The partner of Louis, the man who occupied the same bunk with him, and was his chum, during their stay there wrote to his brother-in-law, who lives at O'Neill, where he is working in the railroad shops, and as it happened was the fellow employe of Henry Rothman, who is a brother of Louis Rothman, the letter was read to Henry, who wrote his sister Mrs. G. G. Ramsey of Omaha, spending Christmas at the home of her parents brought the news. The letter from Louis arriving the day before and telling of his feeling fine and was coming home, is good news, and shows him to be in fine form, which keeps the mother, who has had un-easiness since the close of the war, on account of not hearing from her son, from worrying as she would have necessarily done. We cannot help but admire the noble young man who endeavors to shield the loving mother, from the worry and suffering which would have come to her had she had knowledge of the facts, during the time when it was not known what the result would have been. The mother at home is suffering with the son, who is wounded and many times, when the son is not hurt, as on account of the uncertainty, as to their condition, and which could not be ascertained. We are pleased to know that Louis is getting along all right, and that he will soon be at home again.

GOT A BARREL OF RABBITS.

From Saturday's Daily.
Frank R. Gobelman and Alex Campbell do not lay any claim to be rabbit hunters, but yesterday they were out for a while and found some pretty good shooting, as they bagged so many that they left off counting, but at the division Frank had a barrel of common cotton tails for his portion and three Jack Rabbits besides.
This morning when the reporter watched the barrel emptied he was surprised, as the heap looked like about three bushels of corn, just forty-five of the cotton tails, and three of the big Jacks. A pretty good days work for two amateurs.

REV. J. M. DELEZENE DIES IN HOSPITAL

From Saturday's Daily.
George Delezene received the announcement of the death of his son, Rev. J. M. Delezene, at a hospital in St. Joseph, Mo., Sunday morning, after an operation for appendicitis.

The news of his death was a great shock to his many Louisville friends. The remains will be brought to Louisville Wednesday, the funeral services being held Thursday in the Christian Church. Interment will be in River View cemetery.
The deceased grew from childhood in Louisville. After finishing the Louisville school he went to Cotner University where he received his ministerial education and for some time past has been doing evangelistic work for the Christian church. By special invitation he came to Louisville last summer and preached a sermon which was listened to by one of the largest audiences ever congregated together in Louisville.
He leaves a wife and four children, his father, George Delezene of this place, a brother, Virgil, two sisters, Mrs. George Schoeman of Louisville and Mrs. C. W. Trembley of Colorado, besides a number of relatives and hosts of friends who extend sympathy to the bereaved family.
The Courier will contain a more complete obituary notice next week.—Louisville Courier.

IS ASKING LEGAL SEPARATION

From Saturday's Daily.
There is a petition just filed in the district court, wherein Mrs. Agusta Price is asking a separation and support from her husband John Price of Louisville, alleging that her husband had abandoned her and had not provided for her or her children's support and called her vile names, and threatened to do her bodily injury. That he is unable to support her and there is no reason why he should not. He is possessor of two automobiles and has property to the amount of $2,000.00. They have two living children both boys, aged respectively 8 and 4 years.

IN THE COUNTY COURT.

From Saturday's Daily.
Yesterday was heard the last and final settlement of the Wm. A. Brown estate, late of Murray, Nebraska. Also that estate of Gallant Rakes. This closes both of these estates in the court.

MUSTERED OUT OF THE SERVICE

From Saturday's Daily.
This morning Elwood Bottery, who last summer departed for Kansas City, where he entered the army service as an Auto Mechanic, returned from Camp Funston, where he was mustered out of the service yesterday.
Elwood after having been in the school at Kansas City for some time was transferred to the Field Artillery, as there was need of more men in that department at that time and was sent to Camp Jackson, South Carolina, at which point he remained until a short time since when he was sent to Camp Funston for discharge. Elwood will make his home here and will rest a few days before returning to his work.

FOUR BROTHERS WITH HER.

PLATTSMOUTH BOY MAKES GOOD IN WEST

NOEL B. RAWLS, FORMERLY OF THIS PLACE, MAKING GOOD IN STATE OF MONTANA.

AS A PARTNER IN BUSINESS

Our Former Townsman Was Reporter On This Paper Before Going to the West.

From Saturday's Daily.
The following clipping from the Lewistown Mont Argus, tells of the advancement of one of the former citizens of this town. Noel B. Rawls son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rawls of this city, was while here employed as the local reporter on the Journal, and was an excellent young man a good worker and able. He relinquished his position here to accept a similar position on the Idaho Statesman, at Boise, Idaho, which was several years ago, and has remained in the west ever since. Noel B. Rawls is an exemplary young man and one with much capacity, his brother J. A. Rawls, mentioned in the article is also an excellent young man:
"The deal was consummated this week by which Noel B. Rawls purchased a one-half interest in the state agency for Montana of the Dakota Life Insurance company of Murray L. Goff. The offices of the company are located in the Montana building.
Mr. Goff came here about a year ago as state agent for the company and opened offices. About seven months ago Mr. Rawls left his position as assistant cashier of the Lehigh State bank and associated himself with Mr. Goff and he has proven such a success in the business that Mr. Goff has now taken him in full partnership.
Since the office was opened here last February the Dakota Life has loaned a large amount of money on Montana farm lands; in fact, it has more money now invested in that manner than it has realized from business in Montana.
Mr. Rawls is a brother of J. A. Rawls, the popular Milwaukee conductor. He came here from Idaho a year ago and was for some time employed as a special writer on the Argus.

LOCATE YOUR NEW HOME ALONG THE BURLINGTON

Soldiers, sailors and civilians, in seeking free homestead lands or buying deeded lands, will do well to search in the territory served by the Burlington Route. Its lines through Western Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado and Montana have been populated within the past twenty years by a civilization of the most prosperous type.

There are yet in the Wyoming territory served by the Burlington large areas of grass-covered lands for homestead entry in 620-acre tracts. You can buy deeded lands for dairy farming in Western Nebraska and Eastern Colorado on terms that any good farmer can meet. From year to year the Government is opening irrigated lands in the Big Horn Basin, with perpetual water rights almost a gift. If you settle along the Burlington you rear your home in a progressive locality, where every community is increasing in population. Write me. I want to start you thinking as to where you or your son had best locate.
