Mrs. Mary K. Schwab, wife of Rev. A. H. Schwab, died at the M. E. hospital in Omaha on last Wednesday January 15th, aged 45 years, 3 months and 19 days, after intense suffering for the past two months. Since last April she has undergone six operations for different things, but it was a cancerous condition which brought death to this good woman. She was a very patient sufferer during all this time. She leaves besides her sorrowing husband, one son Harvey and two daughters, Ethel and Lola. Nearly four years ago the Rev. Schwab family moved to our little town and the entire community grieves to know of their great loss. The funeral, which was one of the largest ever held in Plattsmouth, occurred Friday afternoon, when the people gathered at the Evangelical church to pay their last respects to one who was indeed a friend to all. Each and every one of us extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow. The body was taken to Clay Center, Nebraska, the former home of Mrs. Schwab, for burial on Sunday afternoon.

The sad news of the sudden death of Roy Robertson, of Pawnee City, Nebraska, reached relatives here on Monday evening. He farmed the Al Weichel place east of town about ten years ago, but has lived near Pawnee City for the past four years. The body was brought to Elmwood for burial Thursday afternoon. Short funeral services were held at Clement's chapel. He is the youngest brother of Orville Robertson, of this place. His mother and two sisters arrived from St. Paul, Minn., Wednesday for the funeral. It was indeed sad as this death is the first break in the family circle of seven children. He was taken without a moment's warning while unloading corn. He accidentally fell and life was extinct when friends reached him.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shaffer enjoyed a visit with the latter's cousin, Talmage B. Weaver, of South Bend, who was discharged at Camp Dodge, Iowa, January 13th, after a three months' sojourn overseas. Private Weaver suffered a severe attack of the "flu" about four days out from Liverpool on the trip over, about the 1st of October, and was in a hospital for some time. Later he was transferred to a Rest Camp and was on his way to Southampton, enroute to France, when the armistice was signed. He was in Co. C, 326 Bu. Light Tank Corps and considers himself very fortunate not to have been in any engagements in them, especially since he has seen some of the "Treat 'em Rough" boys, who were badly wounded. He arrived in New York December 21 on the transport "Baltic" which carried Gen. Pershing and his men to France. He says "Merrie England" was courteous to a "Yank" or "Sam" as they call them, although the English press gave little space to mentioning the deeds of valor performed by the Yanks at the battle front in France and when they did it was usually at the bottom of the last page.
