THEY ARE STRIKING IN THE RIGHT PLACE

From Tuesday's Daily.

Alderman C. Kunsman is doing the kindly thing when he has gotten out a force of men to wash the mud and slime off the streets, which has made it almost impassable for some time past. The swish of the stream of water as it rushed from the hose, is music to those who have waded muddy streets for so long, and slipped back two steps when they went forward one. Anyway it should be better afterwards, and we surely appreciate the kindness of the city in getting after the matter.
