Business dull.
How about garden?
Don't be too hasty about it.
And still beautiful weather.
A perfect weather breeder, too.
Don't let your supply of coal get out.
Monastery always becomes, after a while, very monotonous.
We are always passing through the most trying period of human history.
What has become of the Commercial Club? Now don't all speak at once.
When you see an excited man he is probably trying to raise the wind to meet the draft.
If the violent death was what Rosa Luxemburg, we see no reason why we should kick 'way over here.
The wise Plattsmouth boy first kisses the girl and then reasons with her and asks her permission.
From the way they are behaving themselves in Berlin and Germany, they are hardly entitled to a place at a peace table.

Young fellow bear in mind that the girl who will not help her mother before marriage will not help you after marriage.
With Europe needing 1,400,000 tons of our food the outlook for a little bit cheaper grub here at home is not very promising.
What will not profit the United States if provides absolute for Europe and lose its own freedom? Lets go back to true democracy at home and show Europe how it is done.

When the Sinn Fein envoys arrive in Paris will they present to the peace congress, as their credentials, the record in the Casement case showing Germany's activity in the Dublin insurrection?
It appears that one of the brewing companies which prided itself on making near-beer so well has been making it too near. Now is a good time for those companies to begin seeing how far they can miss making beer.

The position of some senators seems to be that while they care nothing for the 100 million dollars necessary to feed Europe's hungry, they cannot surrender the principle that no sum above $40 should be entrusted to Mr. Hoover.
It is said that the Bolshevik leaders in Germany might have been cleared out long before they were, but for the fact that when they found themselves hard pressed by the Ebert forces they cunningly ran and took refuge in a brewery. This may serve to answer the Kansas editor's recent question as to what became of the old fashioned boy who soaked a friend with a snowball and then stood in front of a plate glass window.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured
with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best known ingredients with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine results in catarrh conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

The weather is still spring like.
The country is full of unrest, and will be for some time yet.
One of Nebraska's greatest needs is taxation without preparation.
Butter has declined in the wholesale markets 19 cents on the pound.
The peace congress, desiring to be perfectly fair, has decided to give Bolshevism a hearing before ruling against it.
Some fellows would feel a whole lot better if they took as good care of their stomachs as they do of their automobiles.

The government promises to make the profiteers hunt their holes on high prices. It will be a happy day for the consumers when it does.
Automobile thieves are still on the job in Omaha. Four and five a night and one or two machines in the day time, is pretty good averages.
A great many things in the eating line have declined, but the consumers are not going to get the benefit if they don't watch the markets.

It will not be long now until our head flyers will be able to eat breakfast in New York, dine in Denver and eat supper in San Francisco.
Mankind are very odd creatures; one-half censure what they practice; the other half practice what they censure; the rest always say and do as they ought.
There are always some residents of a town that the people can get along just as well without. But how are you going to get rid of them? That's the question.

After all, though, there is much to support Mr. J. Ogden Armour's contention that his firm is not part of a trust. Sales of $61 million dollars do not, off hand, strike one as being part of anything.
Isn't it a wonderful comfort, you fellows just about second draft age, to be told, when your hair is found to be coming out in great handfuls, that it is on account of your late flu, and that it probably will grow back?

The broadness of Cardinal Gibbons's humanity is shown in his appeal for aid for the Armenians and Syrians. They are not of his church. But they are Christians oppressed by Mohammedans, and they are hungry. That's enough for the cardinal.
The state board of education has resolved not to invest any of the permanent school funds in any bonds not bearing at least 5 1/2 per cent interest annually. That means that none of those funds are to be invested in Liberty bonds, and if other people followed in the footsteps of the board there would be mighty light sales of the next issue.

Now that the war is over, the government should give the people back some of the freedom they enjoyed before the war. For instance, let the freedom of open competition prevail in the groceryship, the butchery, the buttership, the eggshop, the drugshop and the railroadshop. McAdoo's prices may have been all right for war purposes, but they are dead wrong on an everyday basis.

A NOTE ON IGNORANCE.

Some people think that ignorance is merely an accumulation of facts. But that hypothesis reveals a lack of imagination. Ignorance, any more than knowledge, is not concerned with facts. It is concerned quite largely with feeling, and feeling is the product of one's general intelligence.

The Germans had plenty of facts at their disposal, but they were ignorant. Their feeling was not intelligently distributed over certain areas of their national consciousness. This is true, more or less, of all of us. When we are truly ignorant, it is a case of arrested development in certain directions. A man who has not brought up a family may have at his call all the statistics about families. But he is truly ignorant in the sense of not being developed in the feelings that intimate contact with one's family produce.

To have knowledge of a particular thing is simply to have come in contact with it in such a manner that one's feeling has been aroused about it.

We acquire knowledge largely by contemplation and meditation. But the thing we are learning must impose itself upon us in such a way that we are forced to understand it through our feelings and not our minds.

There is nothing harder to overcome than ignorance. It must be beaten to a standstill. We have done this to the Germans. We must now conclude our moral contract by bringing them into contact with the right things.—Thomas L. Mason in the Outlook.

GOMPERS AND HIS MISSION.

While it may be possible that too many causes, even those legitimate ones of races and nationalities representing grave problems, may be forced on the peace conference, the new mission of Mr. Gompers, who has gone abroad to interest the conference in his Inter-national Federation of Labor, is an extremely practical one and quite without the chimerical ideas which have thrown suspicion on so many other projects which the peace conference is to be asked to settle. Moreover, Mr. Gompers in leaving, as has been his wont, spoke in no uncertain tones as to organized labor's objection to the Russia poison which would abolish poverty by reducing all human beings to a condition quite below that which is called poverty in civilized industrial states. It is also to be noted that Mr. Gompers's international federation idea is a federation of nationally well-organized and mutually self-respecting bodies. This kind of internationalism, similar to that proposed for a league of real nations, is quite the opposite of the formless internationalism of the German and Russian extremists, who would gain a world-wide rule of the nebulous incapacity by first destroying all those things that the capable among the leading nations have built up with such toil and travail over hundreds of years. Mr. Gompers has always had a clear vision on this issue and he has ever stood for an articulated and national scheme of things in his labor organizations and not the spineless jelly-fish type that is now threatening eastern Europe without form or function except a capacity to destroy. Much good will doubtless come from Mr. Gompers's conferences, and not the least will be his heartening message to French, British and Italian labor that social and industrial progress lies through evolution of the hands-around-the-world idea and not through devotion toward the individualism of cavemen and their haphazard communal life.—Philadelphia Ledger.

EUROPEAN AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS

The Secretary of Agriculture has just given out a statement summarizing the results of a study of agricultural conditions in England, France and Italy which was made by a special Commission appointed in August, 1918. The Commission arrived in Liverpool on September 5, 1918, and made its investigations between that date and October 29, 1918, when it left Liverpool for this country. The Commission consisted of W. O. Thompson, President of Ohio State University, Chairman; Carl Vrooman, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture; R. A. Pearson, President Iowa State College of Agriculture; Thomas F. Hunt, Dean of the College of Agriculture, University of California; William A. Taylor, Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry; David R. Coker, Cotton Grower, Hartsville, S. C.; George M. Rommel, Chief of the Division of Animal Husbandry; and George R. Argo, of the Bureau of Markets. Although the work of the Commission was completed prior to the Armistice, which was signed on November 11, the suggestions and recommendations are of special economic value in connection with the appraisal of the agricultural responsibilities of the United States for the year 1919, and also for the years immediately following. Furthermore they disclose certain new angles of international responsibility and interest, as explained in the following paragraphs quoted from the Secretary's summary of the Commission's report: "Some of the outstanding facts are: "Great Britain's war agriculture in 1918 increased her home-grown bread supplies fourfold. "France's production of foods decreased sharply, especially in sugar beets, which were grown principally in the northern area, where the ravages of war were greatest. "France's production of breadstuffs also declined, though the production of 1918 was somewhat better than the production of 1917. "In Italy there has been some reduction of the cultivated area, but except for wheat the reduction in the volume of breadstuffs has not been very serious. "Italy's wheat production in 1918 was estimated at 43,000,000 quintals (220 pounds), compared with 46,153,000 quintals in 1914. The penalty for being good natured is that you always get imposed upon. Here is a question that will be up for decision in a few weeks: May a girl wear a service pin for her beau in Southern baseball camp? or here at home, either? Now that Missouri, Nebraska and almost every state in the nation have ratified the dry amendment, there is less need for reconsideration of capital punishment. One Plattsmouth man said to us the other day that the reason black socks are more popular than white socks is that a fellow can wear a pair of black ones till they crack, and they'll still hold their color. Eggs are lower; the hens are laying more, according to the market figures. Butter also is coming down, for the same reasons, allowing for the substitution of cows for hens. Well, if the hens and the cows think spring is here, we don't care what the groundhog says. Of course we don't know just what time our boys will get home, but we should keep agitating the Home Coming Celebration. No one but slackers can oppose such a movement and we all know why they hate to see our boys returning. It is not a healthy movement for the slackers. It is now reported that sixty counties in Nebraska have lady county superintendents. Cass county enjoyed the first one, in the person of Miss E. Foster, who served two terms and acquitted herself most creditably. The present county superintendent is Miss Alpha Peterson and like Miss Foster she is an accomplished lady, and is doing her duty to the letter.

COMMON SENSE OR BUREAU?

Why all this silly hubbub, at this time, over the method of electing delegates to the constitutional convention decreed by voters of Nebraska at the last election?

True, the legislature is charged with enacting the useful laws to provide for the meeting of the constitution-makers, but the legislature is bound by the limitations in the present constitution, and has little if any leeway or discretion in the matter.

The constitution of Nebraska, in the section relating to amendment through constitutional convention, says in so many words:

"The convention shall consist of as many members of the house of representatives, who shall be chosen in the same manner."

If the law-makers observe their oath of office to obey the constitution of the state, how can they provide for the election of members of the constitutional convention in a manner different from the methods observed in their own election?

For ourselves, we would much prefer to have a portion of the seats in the convention filled by election of delegates to represent the state at large, which is done, for example, in New York state, rather than have them all chosen by legislative districts, but to demand that now, in the face of the constitutional provision would be foolish, because useless.

To urge that the delegates to the convention be presented as "non-partisans" rather than as party nominees is nothing but a piece of petty camouflage, unless its advocates are ready to go the whole length of choosing members of the legislature without reference to party affiliation. What difference is there between making the laws and making the constitution in the matter of party responsibility except in degree?

And then, when we get that far, is there any difference between the state legislature and the national legislature, or any more or less reason for electing congressmen or senators as republicans or democrats instead of as pretended nonpartisans?

The elimination of partisanship may be all right in judicial or purely administrative or scientific fields but give us a rest on the "non-partisan" bunk for offices that are essentially political, and therefore necessarily partisan.—Omaha Bee.
