PRETTY HARD RAILROADING.

From Saturday's Daily. The story is told that still last evening train six, the finest of their passenger trains on the Burlington was stuck at Arapahoe, and that is endeavoring to get the roads cleared for the passage of the train, three engines with snow plows had become derailed. While they were still working, they were finding some drifts as much as twenty feet deep, which makes the work slow and tedious.

From Thursday's Daily. Night before last Joseph Lahoda, who has been in the service of the United States Army for the past many months, and who was first sent from here to Ft. When Mr. Lahoda was sent to Fort Logan, with others from here, he was hastened to Camp Fremont, which is near Los Angeles, for training, and there remained until in the fall, where he was transferred to Camp Lee, Va., passing through Omaha, on his way to the east. He was among those who had been selected to go over, but a few days after the signing of the Armistice and as that cancelled the arranged program, he was kept there and at Camp Mills until a short time since when he was sent with others to Camp Dodge for discharge. Joseph departed this morning for Omaha, where he is looking after some business matters for the day.

He said that he was getting along nicely, and that he would write and furnish them his address as soon as he should be assigned to a hospital, after his arrival. He also said that he had not received any news from home since his last injury, and that was near the first of November last year.

Not having a cash balance sufficient to meet the terms imposed by the law and Judge A. J. Heeson, he languished in the county jail this morning when he with the sheriff went to Omaha, where the young man claimed he had the money on deposit. There he expected to secure the money and pay the deficit, and thus gain his liberty.

SOLD MANY DELICIOUS PIES AT SOCIAL LAST EVE

THE M. OF H. CLASS OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL ENJOY EVENING.

From Friday's Daily. Last evening at A. O. U. W. hall the M. of H. class of the Christian Sunday School, held their pie supper, to which a large number of the older folks and a sprinkling of the older ones were in attendance as well, notwithstanding the weather man, and enjoyed the occasion to their full—that is full of pie—and were making the 'welkin ring' until a late hour.

During the early evening the young folks as well some of the older ones, as to that, participated in games, which drew prizes, all beautiful, and some useful. When all was in readiness, the supper was on, and partners were selected, by the purchase of the pies at auction, the young men buying the pies, guessing as to whether their sweethearts baked the flaky pastry or not, some making food guesses, while others drew a lemon (pie), and not so bad either. The merry laughter which had been one of the features of the games, before supper, caused by some of the games played, now subsided, during the eating, only to be renewed with more merriment after the repast. Notwithstanding the evening not being such as to invite the people out, the attendance was good and the class, with Mrs. Phillip Rhin were well satisfied with the results of their work.

CONRAD LYNCH IMPROVING.

S. Hall building, and will when the place shall have been placed in condition for the business to be removed. The place which he has purchased will make a good place for the business as the room is both wide and deep and will afford a great deal more room than the place where he is now located. He will remain in the present room for some time.

"Doll"ers and "Sense"

THERE may and may not be sentiment in business—that seems to be an open question. However, there is one phase of business, that affects men in every walk of life—that is the way they dress. Taste and good sense are not reflected in flashy clothes, as a general thing, but they should be neat and of a style appropriate for the man who wears them. Clothcraft Clothes appeal to men who are thoughtful of their dress—because the designing, fabrics and moderate prices are in keeping with good judgement.

JUST BACK FROM FRANCE.

From Friday's Daily. This morning Merritt Mendenhall of Pacific Junction was over for a short stay and to look after some business. Merritt has just returned from France where he with a detachment of one hundred men were employed on radio construction of the French. On Christmas day he took his dinner in Paris little dreaming that he would soon be on his way home and was called to Bordeaux where he was notified he was to sail for home on the 27th of December and has just been mustered out of the service. He says he sure was pleased to get home. The war is all right when one has to engage in or if there is a cause for fighting but when it is over to civil life for him.

Wortman, who will be remembered as formerly county superintendent, is now county judge at Miami, and has been slated for the position of District Judge of a new district which is just being formed. He has declined the proffered position, as he prefers the position of County Judge under the circumstances. The position of county judge pays $2,500.00 and one is allowed to practice law, while the District judgeship pays $3,000.00 and one is barred from practice.
