WRITES HIS MOTHER FROM GERMANY

HENRY LAMPHEAR, COOK IN
THE UNITED STATES ARMY
IN EUROPE WRITES HOME.

TELLS AN INTERESTING STORY

As He Sees It In the Army of Occupation Now In Germany.

Kyllburg, Germany.
Jan. 24, 1919.

Dear Mother and All:

Will drop you a few lines tonight to let you know I am well. I hope you are all well, as we hear of so much sickness over there. I often wonder if any of you folks are sick. I received your letter today of Dec. 29. Was sure glad to hear from you. Well at present things look pretty good toward starting home. We might start home about the 1st of February. I hope so for I am pretty anxious to get home. We are still at Kyllburg. It is not a bad place about the size of Plattsmouth, a little larger I guess. I am staying with a private family here. Our company is scattered all over town. I guess I have as nice a place though as any of them. I have a feather bed to sleep in. A fine Victrola here in my room, plenty of German records, and a good heating stove, and everything is kept just as neat as a pin. They won't even allow me to build the fire in the stove. They wait on me like I was the honor guest. And the best part of all, at the end of the week or month there ain't no landlady around going to throw me out for not paying the rent, for they won't accept a cent for the room. Well Ma, there is not much news to tell, only I am still looking fine and that Uncle Sam furnishes me plenty to cook and I am feeding the company fine, that is there is no complaining. We have the very best of eats and plenty of it. Of course I could tell you a lot of news about things that happened at the front, either the St. Mihiel or the Verdun. I could tell you things that would make you feel sad or I could tell you things that would make you feel glad or I could tell you something that you could laugh about. And again I could tell you things that would make you wonder why there wasn't more of the boys killed than there were. I could tell about some of the nights. I slept in shell holes, or right out in the mud and rain. I could tell of some of the long weeks under shell fire, when every minute might have been my last; what is the use trying to write it all, when I get home I'll tell you all about it, that way I can make a long letter short and still tell you all the late news. I am looking for the news that we are going to start home, but I guess that news will never come. I'd like to get back to South Dakota by spring, but the chances are beginning to look slim.

I received a letter from Eva the other day. She said everything was fine up there. Only it was rather cold. She also sent me a picture of her and baby. Well it is getting rather late. It is past my bed time now and I have to get up at five o'clock in the morning. So I will close for this time. Good-bye and good luck to all. I look to be home soon.

REMEMBER THEIR FELLOW WORKMAN

From Friday's Daily.

The employees of the Burlington Supply department, yesterday remembered their departing co-worker, E. C. Hill, who as store keeper of the Burlington at this place, is just severing his connection with the Burlington, and will on the first of March engage in farming near the city of Beemer. Mr. Hill by his straight forward dealing and the very courteous treatment of all who have worked under him, made for himself a friend of everyone with whom he has worked. As an expression of their feelings toward this excellent citizen, this fellow worker in that departed of the service for the Burlington yesterday made him an elegant present, and accompanied it with their best wishes for his success in his new venture. Mr. Hill will take a ten day vacation which is due him at this time, and will at its expiration move to his farm home near Beemer. With the rest of the citizens of this place, we are wishing Mr. Hill whom we have learned to love, the greatest prosperity and happiness in his new home, and are sure that he will merit and obtain it.

RETURNS HOME AND EYESIGHT RESTORED

From Saturday's Daily.

C. R. Burbridge, who has been here for some time past, and who has been having some growths removed from his eyes, that he might see clearly.

The operation which was on both eyes, restored the sight which was about gone, and Mr. Burbridge who has been staying at the home of his son C. C. Burbridge while here, departed last evening for the home of his daughter Mrs. Anna Stilbauer, who makes her home near Danbury, and where Mr. Burbridge's aged and invalid wife is making her home.

Mr. C. R. Burbridge departed overjoyed with his restored eyesight, that he might be able to go care for his wife, whose health is not the best.

Frank E. Lorenz who has been in Iowa for the past week, where he is selling the Oliver typewriter, and will spend Sunday at home.

LETTER FROM ROBERT WILL IN GERMANY

TELLS OF BATTLES IN WHICH HE PARTICIPATED—GERMANS
NOT STARVING

WAS IN MUCH HARD FIGHTING

Says Report Current They are Going to Get a Furlough—Wants to Go to Coblenz on Rhine.

From Thursday's Daily.

The following letter has been received from Robert Will, who is now in Germany, and but a short distance from the Rhine river, where he is doing duty with the Army of Occupation, after a long siege of hard fighting with the A. E. F., in which he barely escaped injury several different times. It is Robert's greatest desire to be privileged to visit the city of Coblenz, on the Rhine, and to get a good look at this great German stream before he returns to the states, but if they told him he might sail for home tomorrow, we bet dollars to doughnuts that he'd forget all about his ambition to take a sail on the Rhine. His letter, written to his mother, Mrs. A. S. Will, of this city, follows:

Ringer, Germany, Jan. 16.
Dear Mother:

Having a little time this morning, I am writing you a letter to tell you I am still feeling fine and hope this finds you likewise. We are staying five in a small room, but with plenty of heat and light.

We certainly have had fine weather here since we landed. It has hardly been cold enough to freeze the ground. I hope it remains warm, for doing guard duty on a cold night is not just to the liking of most of the boys.

The report is current here now that they are going to give us a furlough, and if so I want to go to Coblenz, which is on the Rhine, and is about fifty miles, or thirty miles to the east of us. I hope the leave of absence is allowed, for I would like to see the city and take a sail up the Rhine. Our largest town close here is Ahsweiler, and it is here we go when not on duty.

By the looks of things, I think we will be home by 1920 if nothing else turns up. We had thought that we would be among the first to return, but those who fought so hard in the S. O. S. near Paris, and who are all run down, were decreed to be the ones needing the rest more than we, and so have been ordered back first.

Say, by the way the papers talk, one would think the Germans are starving, but from what I have seen, they are not so bad off, although I will admit they have poor bread. Let them eat it a few years though, and maybe they won't be so anxious for another war. They raise lots of wheat, potatoes and sugar beets and every barn is full of cows, while the yards are filled with chickens, so they cannot be so badly off as they pretend to be.

Here is a brief account of where we have been from July 1st until the 11th of November, the day the armistice was signed: Landed July 1st at Liverpool, England, and from there went to South Hampton, leaving there July 4th on our trip across the English channel. We landed at LaHarve, France, where we remained but a few days, and then went by rail to the Champagne front, where I joined the 149th Field Artillery, 42nd Division, and was there in the critical fighting from July 14th to July 18th, and had the honor of being with the only American Division to fight in General Goman's army, where we so gloriously obeyed his orders, "We will stand or die," and by our iron defense crushed the German assault, making possible the offensive of July 18th to the west of Rheims. From Champagne we were called to take part in exploiting the success north of the Marne.

Fresh from the battle front before Châlons, we were thrown against the picked troops of the Germans. For eight consecutive days we attacked skillfully prepared positions, capturing great stores of arms and ammunition.

We forced the crossing of the Orucq, took hill 212, Sergy, Meney, Femmes and Segnes. We drove the enemy, including the Imperial Guard division, the depth of fifteen kilometers, and when our Infantry was relieved we were in full pursuit of the retreating Germans.

So our Artillery continued to progress and support another American Infantry division in the advance to the Vesle. After being there for some time another unit came along and relieved us, and we thought we were going to get a good long rest, but after being back at the little village of Hellcourt for ten days, we were called to help take part in the battle of St. Mihiel, where on September 12th, we helped to drive the Germans back toward Metz, taking many towns and villages. From there we went to the Argonne front, where on November 1st we started the last drive, following the retreating Germans to the gates of Sedan, where we were on November 11th when the armistice was signed. So we pulled back and got the rest of our campaign and started on our journey to the Rhine, and I am now waiting at the little village of Ringer for the peace pact to be signed, after which we expect to get the orders, "Home-ward March."

ONLY A CHIMNEY BURN- ING OUT, BUT EXCITING

From Thursday's Daily.

This morning at an early hour, the chimney at the home of Adolph Wesch, the shoemaker, caught fire and burned out the soot that had collected on its interior surface. The blaze created a good deal of excitement for a short time as it appeared at first as though the house was burning. No damage was done.

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD, HE SAYS

Milwaukee Men Say Mother Suffered
Eighteen years—Tanlac
Restores Her.

"If everybody in Milwaukee knew how much good Tanlac has done my mother there isn't a one who would not think just as I do—that it's worth its weight in gold," was the interesting statement made by Frank J. Passage, brakeman on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, living at 26 35th St., Milwaukee, recently. Mr. Passage's mother, Mrs. Minnie Passage, at the time she came to Milwaukee, four years ago, had been a resident of Shannon, Illinois, for fifty years and is beloved by all who know her.

"For eighteen or twenty years," continued Mr. Passage, "my mother has had trouble with her stomach, and I can truthfully say that Tanlac is the only medicine I have been able to find in all that time to do her any good. Nothing she would eat agreed with her and she was subject to frequent attacks of acute indigestion. In a little while after eating, her food would sour and beat her up with gas and cause her to suffer for hours. At times the gas would press on her heart, almost cutting off her breath, and I actually thought she was going to die. She complained of awful pains through her stomach and left side and would belch up sour gas for hours. I have often had to get up in the middle of the night and doctor her on account of this gas, and I don't believe she ever got a good night's rest on account of the pain she suffered. During the past year she lost twenty-five pounds in weight, or more, and all her strength seemed to leave her. During the past six months she has failed very much faster. All she was able to eat was a little soup or milk and soft boiled eggs, and even this would hurt her. Her condition became so serious that on December the seventh I quit work in order to stay home and take care of her.

"One day I noticed a Tanlac testimonial in the paper which was so straightforward and convincing that I told mother I wanted her to try the medicine. She agreed and at the time she started taking it she had been down in bed for five weeks and couldn't stand on her feet but a few minutes, if she tried. Well, she has taken two bottles now and you may believe it or not, she is up doing all her cooking and housework and is just feeling fine. She is now sixty-nine years of age, but I declare she gets around like one many years younger. She sleeps like a child, eats anything she wants and that gas and indigestion has stopped bothering her almost entirely. I have never seen such a change in anyone as Tanlac has made in mother. I am very grateful for it, and she is feeling mighty happy herself. We can't say too much in behalf of Tanlac, and have been telling everyone in the neighborhood about it."

Tanlac is sold in Plattsmouth by F. C. Fricke & Co., in Alvo by Alvo Drug Co., in Avoca by O. E. Copes, in South Bend by E. Sturzenegger, in Greenwood by E. F. Smith, in Weeping Water by Meier Drug Co., in Elmwood by L. A. Tyson, in Murdock by H. V. McDonald, in Louisville by Blakes Pharmacy, in Eagle by F. W. Bloomenkamp, and in Union by E. W. Keedy.

Miss Nettie Moore departed this morning for Omaha, where she is spending the day with friends.

A WELL ATTENDED DANCE

From Saturday's Daily.

To those who think that there are too many dances being given of late, the attendance last night at each of the two given in Plattsmouth is cited as an example that the people here do like to dance. The one at the Coates hall was attended by a crowd greatly in excess of the expectations of the young men responsible for its being given. Music was furnished by Des Dune's orchestra of Omaha. This well known aggregation of colored players are popular in Plattsmouth, where they played on numerous occasions last year, but this was their first engagement here this winter. The Eagles have arranged for them to play for another dance here on Tuesday evening, March 11th.

THAT FIRE LAST EVENING.

From Saturday's Daily.

There was a little alarm last night of fire, which was supposed to be at the apartment house, the janitor had built a little extra fire, and as the rooms got warmed, the radiators were closed down, and this raised the steam in the boiler, and the pop valve popped off, and with the escaping steam one of the tenants turned in the fire alarm. When the department responded there was no fire to be found. Some excitement but no fire.

Ray P. Davis of west of Murray was a visitor in this city for a short time today, coming to see about some business here. Mr. Davis has concluded not to farm this year, and will have a sale on the 12th of March, preparatory to moving into town the coming fall, in order to send his daughter to school.

From Saturday's Daily.

W. E. Brantner of Pender arrived in this city this afternoon, and is visiting for a short time with relatives and friends here. Mr. Brantner is in the Hotel business at that place and is doing well, and comes to visit especially Mrs. Brantner's mother Mrs. John Cory who is at this time very sick at her home. Mr. Brantner will remain only for a few days.

Mrs. R. P. Westover arrived last evening from Omaha, where she is teaching and will spend the week end at home with husband and family.

Lieut. Harding who has been visiting in this city for the past week or more departed last evening for his station at Camp Funston, where he is on duty.

Misses Clara and Mary Bookmeyer, who are teaching at Omaha, arrived home last evening and will spend the week end at home as guests of their mother.
