Why Colds are Dangerous.
 You are often told to "swear of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ diseases, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.

FIFTY YEARS IN BUSINESS IN OLD NEBRASKA

WITH A REPUTATION AS GOOD AS THE BEST—BUSINESS STILL GROWING.

JULIUS PEPPERBERG, LINCOLN

The Oldest Cigar Manufacturing Establishment in State Today—Had Small Beginning

Fifty years ago Julius Pepperberg came to Plattsmouth, a young man filled with all the ambition necessary to make a business venture of any sort a genuine success, and established a little cigar store and manufacturing plant in this city, at that time making most all the goods he sold over the counter and to the trade, himself.

The little frame building shown below stood on the Main street of Plattsmouth, on the south side, about opposite where the court house now stands, and was the home of the now and then very popular brands of Pepperberg's cigars, of which the "Buds" has always been a favorite. Mr. Pepperberg stands in the center of this picture, and as you will note by him stands one of the "good Indians" of Nebraska, as in those days they were very numerous in this part of the state, and very few of them were as well behaved and kept their place like this old trusty Pepperberg Indian.

Mr. Pepperberg remained in this location for a number of years, and as the city advanced, Mr. Pepperberg grew with it and moved farther west on Main street, and at the time the Journal publisher came to Plattsmouth, he occupied the two-story brick building where the S. S. Chase meat market now is located. This was seventeen years ago. During all these years the cigar business with Mr. Pepperberg was increasing steadily, and at this time, he was employing in the neighborhood of twenty men, and his brands were then sold in many towns over eastern Nebraska and western Iowa.

Julius Pepperberg was always a good man for the town he called home, and he was always a good man for Plattsmouth and Cass county, and still has a world of friends in his old home who will stand behind everything that can be said good in his behalf. It was with the deepest regrets that they received the news of his removal to Lincoln.

state of Nebraska and in adjoining states.
 According to the records of the Omaha Internal Revenue Collector's office, the Pepperberg factory is the oldest in the state, and during that fifty years since its establishment on the banks of the Missouri river, they have made over fifty million cigars, with a continued growth right up to the present time.
 We also print here a picture of Mr. Julius Pepperberg as he is today, looking hale and hearty, after fifty years of work with a growing business from the day of its inception. May he long live and continue to prosper in the wish of the Journal.

Since moving to Lincoln, Mr. Pepperberg has associated himself with his son, Roy V., who has been taking a large portion of the business burden from the shoulders of his father in late years, and in celebrating their fiftieth anniversary in business they can almost look forward to another fifty under the management of the junior Mr. Pepperberg.

ALTHOUGH NOT THE BEST SELLER, WAS 'MOST BELOVED'

STORY OF "THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS" WAS LIKED BY ALL CLASSES.

And Now Has Been Filmed for the Movies—Coming to Parmele Theatre Two Days.

Harold Bell Wright, at the head of the Harold Bell Wright Story-Picture Corporation, of which Elisabeth W. Reynolds, his publisher, is president, will filmatize the most popular of the works from his pen. Already one of these, "The Eyes of the World," has been shown in this city and now comes the announcement that a second, "The Shepherd of the Hills" is coming to the Parmele theatre on next Wednesday and Thursday, March 5th and 6th.

Of all the Wright stories perhaps a more suitable choice for transformation to moving pictures could not be made. Although "The Shepherd of the Hills" may not have been Mr. Wright's greatest work from a literary stand point, it is thought to be the "best beloved" of all his stories. The characters, from "Preaching" Bill down to little "Pete" have found numberless friends in all living languages.

A story so rich in symbolism that it approaches the allegorical, yet so lucid and real that it may be said to have attained the grandeur of simplicity.

Mr. Wright is truly a man with a mission and a message. A great story-teller, a creative imaginative genius, as it were.
 The limitless possibilities of the motion picture camera will enable him to bring his great word pictures to his millions of readers with renewed interest. To this end let us be grateful as never before for the motion picture camera. In these days when pictures are funded on meaningless themes and built from shallow stories, the public cannot help but welcome those founded on such high class fiction as emulates from the pen of Harold Bell Wright, and the work of himself and associates to that end will meet with decided success.

This premier production of "The Shepherd of the Hills" will be in ten reels with incidental music, and forming an evening's entertainment well worth the seeing.
