tember 1917, where he remained for a number of months, and was transferred from there to Camp Pike, where he remained until his discharge just now.

DOUBT CANNOT EXIST

Investigation Will Only Strengthen the Proof We Give in Plattsmouth.

How can doubt exist in the face of such evidence? Read here the endorsement of a representative citizen of Plattsmouth.

Louis Kroehler, prop. hardware store, 521 Main St., says: "About a year ago I had a pain in my back and I was so lame I couldn't stoop. My kidneys were weak and I had a tired, languid feeling nearly all the time. Headaches were common. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills from Edward Rynott & Co.'s Drug Store and they soon relieved me." (Statement given April 19, 1912).

On February 22, 1916 Mr. Kroehler said: "I still hold the same opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills as when I first endorsed them. It has been several years since I have had to take a kidney medicine."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kroehler had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

CASS CO. FARM

BUREAU NOTES

Mr. N. C. Gaines, a noted chautauqua lecturer, will speak in the District Court Room, Plattsmouth, Thursday night, April 3rd at 8:00 o'clock. Men, women and children are urged to attend. Farmers especially are urged to attend.

Very truly yours,
L. R. SNIPES,
County Agri. Agent.

Mr. Wells, the Extension Poultry man will hold Poultry Demonstrations on the following farms: Mar. 14th at 9:30 o'clock, L. F. Fitch, Union; March 14th at 2:30 o'clock, John Stones, Myard; March 15th at 9:30 o'clock, C. T. Edwards, Elmwood; March 15th at 2:30 at Martin Bornemiers, Murdock. Everyone is urged to be present at these demonstrations.

Disinfectants Defeat Potato Scabs.

Seed potatoes are treated with disinfectants for common scab, pin head scab and blackleg, which injure the quality of the potato produced and reduce the stand in the field by attacking the young plants. Formaldehyde and corrosive sublimate are usually used, preference being given the latter because it is effective against all the diseases according to University of Nebraska Extension workers. Corrosive sublimate is used at the rate of four ounces dissolved in hot water and diluted to thirty gallons. The standard length of time for treating potatoes is 1 1/2 hours. If there is little disease, 45 minutes to one hour may be enough. If there is considerable disease, the time should be close to two hours. As the solution weakens with use, it is necessary to increase then length of treatment about ten minutes for each additional time the solution is used. The seed should be spread out to dry after treating. When potatoes have been left in the solution a long time, it will be well to rinse them with clear water to remove the solution that collects in the eyes and which is liable to injure them. The treating should be done while the potatoes are dormant. It may be done anytime in the winter providing the potatoes are stored in clean sacks in a clean place. If they have started to sprout the germinating will be injured seriously, if they are left in the solution more than thirty minutes. Very bad diseased tuber should always be thrown out. Corrosive sublimate is a deadly poison if taken internally, and care should be taken to keep it away from stock and children. It corrodes metal and must be used in wooden, glass, granite, stone or concrete vessels.

Very truly yours,
L. R. SNIPES,
County Agri. Agent.

SEED CORN TEST ADVISABLE.

While it is believed most of the Nebraska seed corn is of normal quality this year, this fact may be definitely established by a general germination test. Seed corn selected early last fall may especially need testing in order to ascertain whether or not it has cured properly. Samples of seed tested at random which show 95 or even 90 per cent germination will be accepted by most farmers as proof of good seed. Little difficulty over seed corn is expected in Nebraska this year.

L. R. SNIPES,
County Agri. Agent.

FROM LONDON BY PARCEL POST

Boston, March 7.—Reginald Bryan Owen, aged six, en route to the home of his grandparents, former Secretary of State and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, in Baltimore, and one of the most valuable parcels post packages ever handled here, spent a lively and thoroughly enjoyable day in this city. He left this afternoon for New York. He arrived late last night. His baggage did not, however, which disturbed the maid who has him in charge, Mlle Marguerite Pasot, greatly. Lack of a nightgown and comb didn't bother Reggie, however. He put up at a hotel.

Reggie is very English. He is ten days out of London and three months out of Egypt and landed at Portland, Maine, from the liner Megantie yesterday. His father Major Owen, is coming to this country by another route, chosen because of his health. He is ill from hardships of the Dardanelles campaign.

Bryan's grandson talks French very attractively. Though officially a parcels post package, he isn't tagged or covered with stamps.

"No, I wasn't in the war," he exclaimed, showing his French legion of honor medal. A French officer who admired the lad gave the medal to him. Reggie tried to buy a newspaper photographer's camera. When told it was worth $150 he said, "Oh, 'hat ain't so much." The nurse 'ook Reggie on a sightseeing trip about the city, which he enjoyed hugely.

ALLIES TRUST ONLY FOUR GERMANS, SAYS SWISS NEWSPAPER

Berne, Switzerland, March 7.—Only four men in Germany have the confidence of the allied powers, the Berne Zeitung declares. The men are Professor Forester, Dr. Muehlon, Dr. Grelling and Dr. Schleiben. Dr. William Muehlon is perhaps the best known of the four men mentioned by the Berne newspaper. He is a former director of the Krupp works. In April, 1918, Dr. Muehlon published an article in which he charged that the German imperial government purposely started the war. He has reiterated his charge a number of times since.

Professor Forester, of the University of Munich, during the war was dismissed from his seat for criticism of the German government. He was a member of the provisional government formed by Bavarian liberals in Munich on February 24.

The Dr. Grelling and Dr. Schleiben referred to probably are Dr. Richard Grelling and Dr. Fritz Schleiben, former members of the reichstag. Both men had been leaders of liberal thought in Germany.

HUNS TO REOPEN SHIPS AND FOOD NEGOTIATIONS

ALLIES WILLING TO PROVISION GERMANY SO FAR AS NECESSITY REQUIRES.

Means and Methods are the Only Problems That Remain to be Solved at Present.

Paris, March 7.—Notice of the interruption of the negotiations at Spa with respect to the surrender of the German merchant fleet was received by the supreme council at its meeting today.

A telegram received from Spa this afternoon reported that the German delegation had returned to Weimar, whence it sent a message stating it expected soon to have new instructions from its government enabling it to resume the negotiations.

Consideration of the situation here has given rise to the belief that the allied commission will be in a position to resume negotiations and effect an adjustment early next week.

It is stated that there is no disposition among the allies not to provision Germany, but that the means and methods are the only problems.

Discuss Military Terms

Premier Lloyd George addressed the council with regard to the military terms of the preliminary peace with Germany. The discussion of revictualing the states formerly included in Austria-Hungary was completed.

Travelers from Austria and Hungary declare that the population of these countries really are starving and need immediate help. These reports are confirmed by British and American commissions in these countries.

Fear Sailors Would Mutiny

Washington, March 7.—Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board, said tonight that the refusal of the German delegates to agree to the demands of the allies for the unconditional surrender of German merchant ships probably was caused by fear of the mutinous sailors at Bremen and Hamburg.

Mr. Hurley said the sailors had objected strenuously to the proposal because they would not be allowed to man the ships under allied control. Knowing this, the German delegates, he said, probably refused to take any definite action and made the condition that the allies first would have to agree to furnish Germany with adequate food supplies until the next harvest.
