E. S. Tutt was attending to some matters of business, with the wholesalers in Omaha on Friday of last week.

Mrs. Wm. Hendricks who has been very sick for the past two weeks is some improved, but not yet from in under the care of a skilled nurse.

Oscar Nailer arrived in Murray the first part of the week from the North, where he has been working for the past six months, and will again enter upon farm work here, from the summer.

Green Piggott was looking after some business matters in the county seat last Friday. Green has decided to quit farming for the present and will make his home in Murray for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell are confined to their home with a severe attack of influenza. Both are quite sick, but it is to be hoped they will soon recover, without further complications developing, which is sometimes the case with this popular disease.

Some little difficulty was encountered by the train crew of the local freight Tuesday when the big engine became unruly and took a notion to leave the track. It was necessary to get the wrecker from Omaha to get the engine back on the track, and a few hours delay in the schedule of the crew reaching their division was the result.

Another Victim of the Influenza.

One of the saddest deaths of the community, was that of Hugh Lillie eighteen year old son of Albert Lillie of Cook, Nebr. Hugh was visiting at the home of his grand parents Wm. Hendricks in Murray for a couple of weeks when on Thursday of last week he was taken sick with an attack of influenza, and thinking it would be best for him to be home, he departed for there, but gradually grew worse when on Sunday he passed away. The remains were brought here on the afternoon train, Tuesday accompanied by the father, and other relatives and laid to rest in Lewiston cemetery. Rev. Hall of Auburn was in charge of the services which, owing to the short notice were attended by immediate friends and relatives of the family.

The death of this young man is a great shock to the many friends of this family, and the sincerest sympathy goes out to them in this their hour of sorrow.

Unable To Get To Murray.

For the past weeks the publisher of the Journal has been unable to make the regular weekly trip to Murray, owing to the condition of roads. Under the present help conditions in the office we are unable to be away all day long, and for this reason we are unable to make the trip by rail. We are in hopes that either the roads will improve by another week or that we may be able to secure help that will permit us making the trip by rail. We trust that our readers will bear with us until we are again in a position to spend a portion of the day each week with them for the purpose of gathering the news of that community.

Margie Walker, of Murray, was in Plattsmouth Wednesday evening, returning home Thursday morning.

Wm. Rice drove down from Plattsmouth one day last week for the balance of his household goods. Mr. and Mrs. Rice are pretty well pleased with their new home in the county seat.

WHERE WE STAND

We stand with Theodore Roosevelt, who, in his last message to the American people declared:

"Any man who says he is an American, but something else also, isn't an American at all. We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag, which symbolizes all wars against liberty and civilization, just as much as it excludes any foreign flag of a nation to which we are hostile. We have room for but one soul loyalty, and that is loyalty to the American people."

OSCAR MACK RETURNS FROM FRANCE

After Ten Months Service in U. S. Army—Wounded at Chatteau Thierry August 27th.

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday Oscar Mack, who went into the service from here, being sent to Camp Funston with a large crowd of other Cass county boys, and who went from there to Camp Cody and then overseas, departing from Newport News on July 29th, last year, arrived here and will visit in this city and at Weeping Water, going then to his home in Nebraska City. He arrived in New York on the return trip March 15th, just ten days ago. Oscar was in the battle line but a short time, being wounded at Chatteau Thierry on August 27th, just four weeks and one day after he sailed from this side.

The wound is healed and apparently his foot is in good condition, although with long usage as in walking it soon hurts. He will return to Weeping Water tomorrow, but there is some one in Plattsmouth who has priority claims on his society.

TALKED WHILE THEY ATE YESTERDAY NOON

Board of Directors of Commercial Club Dined at the Wagner Hotel—Hospital Plans.

Yesterday at noon the members of the board of directors of the Commercial club met for their noon-day lunch at the Hotel Wagner, where they both ate to their heart's content and talked more than some of our relatives at a quilting. They began with the hospital matter and ended on the matter of telephone service at the Burlington station, touching other points in their course.

Relative to the first subject they discussed ways and means of getting out to the towns which have hospitals and observing how they secured them and operate them successfully.

The matter of the city band came up for considerable attention, but as the club has no funds which it can appropriate, they concluded the best way would be to go after the matter of raising money outside of the club. They also concluded to extend a recommendation to the City Council that they include in their year's budget appropriating a sufficient amount to defray the expenses of the band.

Another matter coming up for consideration was the telephone service at the Burlington station, where it is often impossible to get anyone on the line. This could happen easily enough, when the operator could be taking a train order, the agent and expressman at the train, and the assistant agent and cashier at the ticket window. The conditions are such as to make the kind of service some people would demand difficult to furnish.

HUGH LILLIE BURIED YESTERDAY

About a week since Hugh Lillie, son of Albert Lillie of Cook, was in this city visiting at the home of his grandfather Justus Lillie and went to Murray, where he visited for a short time, and while there, was taken sick and hurried to his home at Cook, where after a sickness of but a short time, died. The remains being shipped to Murray for burial.

Hugh Lillie was about nineteen years of age and ordinarily a very stout young man. He with his parents have been making their home near Cook for some time past.

A GREAT WELCOME IS GIVEN BOYS IN N. Y.

3,000,000 PERSONS CHEER VICTORIOUS HEROES WHO BROKE HINDENBURG LINE.

New York, March 25.—Victorious veterans, heroes of Flanders fields on which Prussian pride was broken, 26,000 men of the 27th division came back to Fifth avenue today for their triumphal review. The thousands who offered all they have to give on Liberty's altar the millions who stayed behind poured out the full measure of their pride. The national guardsmen of yesterday and the civilians of tomorrow symbolized today the martial ideals of a red-blooded race.

The multitude which alternately laughed and wept, cheered or stood silent as the procession passed knew that a grateful people never paid tribute to braver men or to crusaders more chivalrous than those citizen-soldiers who looked death in the face and smiled as they went "over the top" with a song on their lips to smash the Hindenburg line—that barrier against which Europe's sturdiest troops had swept in vain.

2,000 Comrades Dead. There was no shadow on the hearts of the stalwart marching men save the memory of the 2,000 comrades they left sleeping "where poppies bloom."

The clank of the hob-nailed shoes upon the pavement spelled an epic in American history. Never before had a full division of Yankee veterans fresh from European service passed in review in an American city.

"Fighting Jack" O'Ryan, who led the line, was the only major general of the National Guard who took his men to France and brought them back, still their commander. Never before on this continent, at least, had so many thousands cheered a military spectacle.

Crowd Estimated at 3,000,000. Even New York famed for its crowds, never had mobilized so many men women and children along a single street. To the city dwellers were added hundreds of thousands who had poured in from every corner of the state. Tens of thousands more had come from other states.

The police estimated more than 3,000,000 persons were packed into five miles of Fifth avenue in the sunshine of a perfect day. The sidewalks on both sides were choked with humanity and at every intersecting street the crowd bulged out east and west for a distance of a block. Every open space was packed with an immovable mass of humanity.

Stretching along the east side of Central park, from one end to the other, was a grandstand, 2½ miles long. In it were some 60,000 relatives of the Twenty-seventh. The other 15,000 seats were filled with wounded soldiers from the army hospitals, federal officials, governors of this and other states, members of the legislature, mayors and official delegations from upstate cities.

FOR SALE.
