BEN WINDHAM WRITES TO FATHER FROM BOSTON

From Monday's Daily. In a letter which Ben Windham writes to his father, Hon. R. B. Windham, he says that at the time of writing (Memorial day) he would like very much to have been home. He continues, "This time we have landed at Boston instead of New York. I have just seen the "Old Guard" march to the Boston Commons, before going to Bunker Hill, where the Memorial exercises were held." Ben says he visited the famous old North Church of Paul Revere fame; also visited the cemeteries where famous Revolutionary heroes were buried, and among others, saw the graves of James Otis and Israel Putnam, which were of much interest.

With all the bands playing and the beautiful flowers and warm, sunlight day, Ben says he had a greater longing to be home than on any other day since he has been away.

MURDOCK RED CROSS.

Last Saturday noon fire destroyed the chicken house and tool shop at the home of Mrs. Goetz east of town. The fire was caused by the explosion of oil as the boys had been repairing auto inner tubes, and gone away for a short time. There was nothing saved in the tool shop, but the brooder was taken from the chicken house, so only a few chickens were lost. The wind was high and it was only with hard work the house was saved.

THE COMMON AVERAGE.

No stronger evidence of the important fact that the Ford Motor car has become a veritable part of the life of the people, could be asked for than is given in the registration records of the various states which comprise our country. For instance, in the month of January there were 11,450 cars of all makes registered in the state of Montana, of which 5,790 were Ford cars. This means one Ford car for every other car, of every make and 130 over. This proportion is very evenly maintained in the other forty-seven states. There are more than 6,000,000 motor cars in operation in the United States, more than one-half of which are Fords. Truly, Henry Ford has been a great factor of benefit to humanity as he has brought the most economical solution to the great problems of transportation, and by the fruits of his genius has linked town and country, community to community, and made the whole country a common meeting place for all the people.

Don't Decide Until You Know The Owen

The Owen costs one-fifth as much to operate as other units. Cheaper per horsepower than kerosene lamps. At last farmers are able to secure the perfected Light and Power. This plant is the Owen. Until the Owen came, farmers had to be content with makeshift units. Crude, too small, expensive to operate. Still many bought these temporary units. They could no longer content themselves with kerosene lamps and the lack of electric power. Many hesitated, waiting for just such a plant as the Owen. Now those who have already bought units are replacing them with this final-type plant. Each day we are receiving orders from farmers who have been waiting. The Owen's success has been instant. It is a new conception. It offers you betterments such as have never been offered by any other plant. The Owen starts and stops itself. It is completely automatic. No running down to the cellar to turn it on or off. When the batteries are partially discharged, the engine starts automatically. When they are fully charged, it stops automatically. When you require more current than the batteries should care for, the engine starts automatically. Even the lubrication is automatic. Aside from the matchless convenience this automatic control offers, it also multiplies the life of the batteries—overcoming costly replacements formerly necessary. As a result the Owen costs you but one-fifth as much to operate as other units. It offers you illumination and power at less per candle-power than kerosene lamps. The Owen has a "silent valve" engine which cannot leak. Compression remains perfect. Grinding of valves and scraping of carbon are unnecessary. It will light as high as 100 lamps without flickering. It has more capacity for running a water system, churns, cream separators, washing machines, milking machines, electric fans, irons and toasters. Dozens of such reasons as this should urge you to know the Owen before you decide. Come in and let us explain the many Owen features to you. A post-card or a telephone call will bring us to call on you.

HOME AGAIN FROM OVERSEAS SERVICE

Sergeant Roy Holly Steps Off Morning Train Today—In Citizen's Clothing Once More.

From Wednesday's Daily. The war has come and gone and peace smiles on the pleasant land once more. William R. Holly, who answered the call to service and departed many months ago for Camp Funston, where he was trained and sent over as a member of the famous 89th division, spending several long months in the trenches and later comprising a part of the army of occupation is one of the Plattsmouth boys who is not sorry it's "over over here." Last Friday Roy's division paraded in Omaha and was extended a rousing Decoration day welcome by the people of Nebraska. The division was on its way to Camp Funston for discharge and this morning Mr. Holly stepped from the train wearing a smile that spoke in unmistakable language his pleasure it once more getting home. Roy has served his country well, and returns now to again don civilian clothes thinking not to pose as a soldier but to get back into civil life pursuits as quickly as possible. We are glad to see this young man return home safe and sound after the trying ordeal in France and the more trying months on soldier morale that followed the signing of the armistice and trust he will attain such success in life as is rightfully due the boys who made such noble sacrifice for liberty and democracy.

MAKING HOME IN NORTHWEST

From Monday's Daily. Last evening E. E. Gooding and mother, Mrs. S. S. Gooding, departed for Gillett, Wyoming, where Mrs. Gooding will make her home in the future. Miss Stella Gooding, who has been there for some time, is preparing to build a house. The folks will all build a home in the northwest, all three having taken homesteads near Gillett. Miss Stella has been hauling lumber for a new house during the past week, and with her mother and brother will get things going, while Mr. Gooding remains here to work, and a little later Everett will also return.
