The Murray Library Association have bought the building they now occupy. This building was owned by Col. Jenkins, and have paid him rent for the past six years, and decided that they might as well own it. The consideration was $800.00. Mr. Latta offered the association a lot if they would build upon it within one year. For a time it was the talk to build, but decided that it was too much of an undertaking at this time. Mr. Latta was surely very generous and the offer was greatly appreciated, even though it was thought best not to undertake it at this time.

Cannot Locate Farm

L. T. Royer, from near Avoca, was in Murray Saturday for a few hours looking for a farm that might be for rent, something larger than the one he has been living on down near Avoca. He was unable to find anything here and went on to Plattsmouth, where he remained over night. While in the county seat he paid the Journal office a brief call, and tells us that he is now thinking of moving west, where he can secure sufficient acreage for the employment of himself and two sons. He thinks some of buying a farm in the western part of the state. We have been informed that there will be a number of good farmers in the vicinity of Murray that will be unable to secure farms to rent next season, and will be compelled to look elsewhere.

OFF FOR NEW YORK IN COAL OIL FORD

Henry Gering to Make Record-Breaking Test Trip with United States Carburetor

Henry R. Gering, president of the United States Carburetor company, of Omaha, and a former Plattsmouth boy who continues to be well known in the old town, will leave Omaha at 7 o'clock next Monday morning in company with Raymond A. Bull, engineer and W. D. Austin, in a Ford automobile with kerosene instead of gasoline for fuel, on a trip to New York and return. The distance covered will approximate 3,500 miles. No such trip was ever made in automobile history before.

The machine, equipped with a carburetor manufactured by Mr. Gering's company, has already made a total of 200,000 test miles, burning kerosene instead of gasoline.

Mr. Gering will go through Des Moines, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland, carrying letters from Mayor Smith to the mayors of these cities. He will stop at the Ford plant in Detroit for a demonstration and upon his arrival in New York, Engineer James Tracey, widely known among automobile men, will test the carburetor at 3900 Broadway.

Previous trips have been made using kerosene as fuel, to Cheyenne, Wyo., Denver, Chadron, Neb., Kansas City, and the last trip to Wauhatchie, Fla., and return, but Mr. Gering is more enthusiastic over this latest trip than any of the others.

While in Plattsmouth last Sunday, in speaking of the carburetor, he declared it will make a saving of two-thirds of the cost in automobile fuel. The United States Carburetor company, of which Mr. Gering is president has a factory in operation in Omaha and is planning on extension at once. Mr. Gering says they have upwards of 21,000 orders booked ahead now, enough to keep the present factory busy for two years.

LEON STENNER HOME AGAIN.

From Monday's Daily.

Judge to our surprise this morning, as the flock of people alighted from number four of the Burlington to see our friend Leon Stenner hop off and grasp us by the hand, when we were of the opinion he was in France, and would be for some time. Leon was one of the members of the former Loyal Sons class of the Christian Sunday school and was a close friend of the writer. He was in France one year with the exception of three days and arrived in this country on May 22nd being discharged at Camp Grant last Saturday. He was in the motor truck transportation corps and was in the most severe fighting of the campaigns of the western front. Leon is an excellent young man, and now almost a six footer and magnificently proportioned and looking fine as he could desire. We were glad to see him home, and we are believing that the meeting when he arrived at home, was one of much joy, as his mother, while she knew he was in America, did not know when he was to arrive at home. He was a member of the 33rd division or the former old Illinois National Guards.

DO NOT TRADE OR SELL YOUR LIBERTY BONDS

From Monday's Daily.

This is the advice that you will find elsewhere in the columns of his paper, in an advertisement from the Bank of Cass County, but at the same time if you must dispose of them they are ready to buy at the very highest price on the New York market. There is no better place to deal than with the home people, and our home bankers are ready to give you all there is in your bonds at the present time, and perhaps a little more.

The Bank of Cass County would also like to explain how you can dispose of your bonds at this time at par. See your home banker before disposing of your bonds.

MARRIED AT THE PARSONAGE.

From Monday's Daily.

Last Saturday evening Mr. Richard D. Gammon, aged 48, and Miss Leonora Lwein of Wintner, South Dakota, arrived in this city on the evening train and after having sought out the county judge's office secured a license and getting instructions where to find the parsonage of the Christian minister, went their way thither and had him proceed with the marriage ceremony which was to bind them for life as man and wife. They departed on a later train for Omaha, and from there to their home where they expect to surprise their friends.

HOLD CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES

Last evening a large crowd of people that taxed the capacity of the church building to accommodate listened to a very excellent play, which was given by the children of the Christian Sunday school, and which was given under the supervision of Mesdames P. F. Rhin, Levi W. Scott, John R. Stine and Oliver C. Hudson.

The church had been placed in a very inviting condition by the elaborate and beautiful decorations, which denoted the work of skilled hands for many hours. The place was a bower of beauty, when the exercises began. The program which followed was one of excellence throughout and was composed of songs, readings and a short play challenging attention to the people to the need of looking after foreign missions. Following the exercises an offering was received for the furthering of this work.

PERFORMS MANY OPERATIONS YESTERDAY

The Offices of Dr. H. C. Leopold a Busy Place—All Patients Getting Along All Right.

From Tuesday's Daily.

With the excellent work which Dr. H. C. Leopold has been doing in the past and a growing interest in his practice, he and a specialist from Kirksville, Mo., who was here with him yesterday, were kept pretty busy performing the numerous operations they were called upon to do. The patients who underwent operations were Guy W. Morgan, who had his tonsils removed; Harry Jordan, who had both tonsils and adenoids taken out; John Sanders, a little boy who successfully underwent a double operation, Olive Bonge and Miss Eva Blunier, tonsils removed and the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Creamer, who had both tonsils and adenoids removed. All the patients are getting along first rate.

MEETS WITH ACCIDENT IN IOWA

From Wednesday's Daily.

While returning last Sunday from a visit at Glenwood, where they had spent the Saturday evening with friends, the roads being so bad that the bottom stretch could not be traveled to the river crossing. The party which consisted of Kenneth McCarthy, Mrs. Gladys Richardson, Claude Richardson, Floyd Richardson, Mrs. Edward McCulley, Miss Caroline Lahoda and Ralph Allen took the ridge road from Glenwood to Council Bluffs expecting to cross that way and return via Omaha. When about two miles out of Glenwood the car which seemed to have some defect, skidded and turned completely over, throwing some of the parties clear of the car, while others were caught under the wreckage of the auto. Mrs. Gladys Richardson and Miss Caroline Lahoda, and Kenneth McCarthy, were all pinioned under the car and were bruised considerably. That they were not injured much worse than they were is due to the fact that they were going at a very moderate rate of speed, traveling about 20 miles an hour. Also that in the turning over, they were caught in the friendly meshes of a wire fence, thus allowing the car to fall with less force when it turned over. Many of the party are carrying some sore spots yet, and judging from the discolorations the impact at the time of the accident was severe enough to suit the most fastidious.

ARRIVES HOME FROM FRANCE.

From Wednesday's Daily.

This morning C. L. Pitman arrived home from overseas, having been in France for some nine months. Mr. Pitman was a member of Engineers corps of the navy aviation and went to France in August of last year, and returned arriving at Newport News, Va., on May 29th, and was discharged from the Great Lakes on Monday last. While in France Mr. Pitman was engaged in carpenter work, and was located most of the time in southwestern France at a town named Pauliac. Of the southern portion of the country he has not the best opinion as he says the people have very little energy, and are contented with raising a little grape vineyard, from which they derive enough to keep them eating a portion of the time. Other portions of the country he speaks well of and thinks Paris a great place, and is all the country northeast of there, where the battle was raging. He said he was content to remain in the country while there was something to do, during the war but after the armistice was signed he was very anxious to get home again. He was in charge of a crew of carpenters who were reconstructing the devastated places and building barracks for the citizens to live in.

From Tuesday's Daily.

They did not choose to say when or where they would be married, but expect to return to the west to make their home near Pocatello, where Mr. Fisher is engaged in the ministry.
