Death of Rev. E. L. Uptegrove.
The community was shocked last Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Harry Appleman received the sad message that her father, Rev. E. L. Uptegrove had been instantly killed at 11:34 that morning by a fast passenger train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul R. R., at Portsmouth, Iowa, where he and Mrs. Uptegrove have been making their home with their son William.
Just how the accident occurred, no one seems to know, other than that the very few people who had noticed Rev. Uptegrove just before, were positive he was not on the main track when struck though presumably had just stepped across it on his way home to dinner, from their garden where he had been working. He was carrying the hoe, and may not have noticed the train until it was very close to him and

RETURN HOME.

Miss Bessie Engelkesmier returned to her home at Weeping Water last Sunday to spend the summer with home folks. She is a graduate of the class of 1918, and has attended this school all her four years. She has not yet decided what her course will be next fall, but whatever line of work she takes up, we are sure she will succeed, shown by her past record in this school.

W. C. T. U. MEETS WITH MRS. JOHN GORDER

From Wednesday's Daily.
The Flower Mission of the W. C. T. U. met on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Gorder, in commemoration of the birthday of its founder, Miss Jennie Casaday, who though an invalid for many years, established an organization known as the Flower Mission at Louisville, Ky., and today all over our country the W. C. T. U. celebrates her birthday by sending flowers to the sick and aged. 'Tis but another lesson of the "grain of mustard seed," referred to by the Master.

Under the careful arrangement of the president Mrs. Charles Troop a splendid program consisting of readings, music and responsive exercises was given. We feel that special mention must be made as their rendition was highly enjoyed by all present.

Marion Copenhaver gave a reading very appropriate to the occasion. Miss Mable Lee Copenhaver accompanied by Mrs. Gorder at the piano sang very sweetly and greatly pleased her listeners.

The Misses Gladys and Goldye Kaffenberger, accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Roberts, rendered a beautiful duet, these young ladies so strikingly resemble each other, and their voices are a perfect unison of harmony, making their singing very sweet indeed.

Little Edith Quinton and Martha Gorder sang very sweetly a song of spring, while Mrs. Gorder accompanied them with the piano.

After the program was dispensed with the genial hostess served dainty refreshments of ice cream, cake, and lemonade, being assisted in serving by the little girls present, Martha Gorder, Edith Quinton and Marion Copenhaver.

After the serving of the refreshments all joined in singing a special selection written for the W. C. T. U. "The New America," followed by the benediction.

Many beautiful bouquets of roses, peonies, and daisies were brought for distribution among the sick and aged of our town.

Our next meeting will be held July 7, and we hope to have another splendid time.
At a late hour in the afternoon, we dispersed for our homes feeling

THE JUNE SALE OF Summer Wash Frocks!

Commencing Thursday Morning 9:00 A. M.

Over 500 Attractively Styled Garments in Silk and Voile for Dressy Wear!

Here they are in gorgeous array—flmy, sheer and fashioned just as you like them. A most complete assortment. Though many are incomparably dainty and exquisitely fashioned they are practical too, as hard wear and numerous trips to the tub will prove.

Especially attractive for street, afternoon or travel wear are the new Satins and Taffetas. There's a charm about the rustle of taffeta that these incomparable fashioned frocks emphasize to a most pleasing degree.

All New Fabrics With a Springtime Air

In fabrics these lovely frocks are most surprising, introducing voiles in flowered, embroidered and satin striped patterns; organdies checked, striped and plain; Swisses in new colored effects; cool linens; Georgettes and taffeta, or a chick combination of both. Wee ruffles, fishies and dainty laces are their only trimmings, but so irresistible are they, that our stocks will move rapidly at the exceptionally low prices we are quoting.

Sizes 36 46, formerly priced from $10.50 to $28.50
