"FIGHTING PARSON" OF CHICAGO
DR. WILLIAMS LECTURE A REAL EVENT OF CHAUTAUQUA WEEK

Dr. Elmer Lynn Williams has commanded the admiration of thousands over the country who know of his work in cleaning up vice and crime in Chicago's loop district. He went into this district a few years ago as pastor of a church in the heart of Chicago's million or two population. His parish was in the center of the vice district. Respectable families were living alongside gamblers, thugs and thieves. In six years he succeeded in cleaning up much of this vice. He had the co-operation of priests and ministers of all creeds, the city authorities and the police, and after one of the most fearless campaigns ever waged in that city, he secured reforms theretofore considered impossible.

Dr. Williams' experience in social problems of the city and community and as a leader in many great reforms, equips him with a knowledge and power to handle one of the greatest reconstruction problems facing the world today, "Public Morals and Reconstruction."
