A LONG TIME RESIDENT OF THIS CITY

DEATH OF JOSEPH DROEGE SUNDAY EVE

MRS. WM. HEROLD LIVED HERE FOR MORE THAN SIXTY-FIVE YEARS.

FATHER HELPED LAY OUT TOWN SPENT BOYHOOD IN GERMANY

James O'Neill Was One of the Two First Settlers in Plattsmouth — Came in 1854.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Mrs. William Herold, nee Miss Elizabeth O'Neill, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Tidd, in this city, Monday, July 14th, 1919. She was born in Hocking county, Ohio, June 19, 1841, and was more than 78 years of age when death claimed her. When she was about a year old her parents, James O'Neill and wife, left their home in Ohio and came to Mills County, Iowa, where they located and remained until 1854, when they moved to Plattsmouth to make their home here.

The year before they moved across to this side of the river, Mr. O'Neill came over and with Samuel Martin, the man whom history credits with being the father of Plattsmouth, laid out the town, having the ground surveyed by one Wellington, who was a surveyor.

About the year 1859 Miss O'Neill was united in marriage with William Herold and with her husband continued to make her home in Plattsmouth, at the time of her death she having resided here continuously for a period of 65 years. Her husband died about thirteen years ago, since which time Mrs. Herold maintained a home of her own for a while, later dividing her time among her children.

To the union of this couple were born four children, two sons and two daughters, they being James Herold, of Lincoln; Henry Herold, of this city; Mrs. Frank Hager, of Lincoln and Mrs. A. L. Tidd, of this city. Besides her own immediate family, Mrs. Herold leaves several brothers and sisters, they being W. A. O'Neill, of this city; John Henry O'Neill, of Faison, South Dakota; Lafayette O'Neill, of Wall, S. Dak.; George O'Neill, home not known; Louis O'Neill, Newark, N. J., and Frank O'Neill, of Bassett, Nebraska, brothers, and Mrs. Lydia Bodine, of Orleans, Nebraska, a sister.

Mrs. Herold was one of the few women residing in Plattsmouth, who had seen the town grow from its beginning some sixty-five years ago and her life and the history of the town are interwoven to a great extent.

Mrs. Herold will be buried from St. Luke's church tomorrow (Wednesday), the exact hour being, not yet determined. Further announcement will doubtless be found elsewhere in today's paper, if the hour is determined upon before we go to press.

PIONEER LADY DIED THIS FORENOON

Mrs. Wm. Herold For Sixty-Five Years Resident of Plattsmouth Dies.

From Monday's Daily.

Mrs. Wm. Herold, a resident of this city for sixty-five years passed away this morning just before the noon hour at the home of her daughter Mrs. A. L. Tidd of this city, after an illness extending over a number of days. Mrs. Herold is known by most of the people of this city, and respected and esteemed by all. The funeral will occur some time on Wednesday of this week from the St. Luke's Episcopal church, but the hour has not as yet been definitely settled on account of the absence of Mr. Tidd, who is expected home soon. A more extended account of the life and departure of this good woman will appear in a later issue of this paper.

RETURN FROM THE WEST TODAY

From Tuesday's Daily.

George M. Hild, Phillip Becker, John Campbell and Wayne Propst, who have been in the western part of the state, returned this morning from their trip and are well pleased with the conditions which they found there. Mr. Campbell says conditions there are similar to those here, but he thinks the wheat is slightly better there than here.

From Monday's Daily.

Chautauqua will soon be here as evidenced by the advance ticket sale. The Chautauqua this year is above the average and some extra fine talent has been booked to provide the six days' entertainment contracted for.

Tell your friends about the Plattemouth Chautauqua and so arrange your own time as to be with us every day right from the start. The session is scheduled to open on Saturday, July 26th.

The season ticket plan is much the cheaper admission charge and everyone should provide themselves with one of the yellow (or white) cardboards before the opening day. The tickets may be obtained at any one of the following business houses of the city:

C. C. Wescott's Sons
Knorr's Variety store.
Weyrich & Hadrahs.

Guy W. Morgan's confectionery.
Bester & Swatek's
John Crabbill's.

Also, the E. A. Stanfield place of business and J. C. Yarbaugh will have them for sale.

Do not neglect getting your ticket before the opening day, and thus be prepared to enjoy the different events as they occur from day to day.

SERGEANT FOREST H. BAUGHMAN IS HOME

Arrived Here Yesterday Morning Coming From Camp Dodge.

From Monday's Daily.

Yesterday morning Sergt. Forest H. Baughman, who arrived from overseas July 5th, and was stationed at Camp Merritt for a short time, and was sent west arriving at his home July 13th, yesterday. He came from France on the Patricia, which arrived in port only a few days since.

He left the United States for France on September 3, 1918, and was in the fight before the signing of the armistice.

Forest left here for the cantonment training camp at Camp Dodge, June 26th, 1918, and remained in camp there only for a short time during the summer, hastening over to the war torn battlefields of Europe.

He is staying for a short time at the home of his parents in this city resting and visiting with his relatives and friends for a while before returning to work.

A DANGEROUS PLACE IN ROAD

From Tuesday's Daily.

Since the grading of the road to the south of town has been in progress many places have been left in a condition far from assuring safety to the traveling public. One especially bad one is near the home of C. E. Cook, where the road from the west intersects with the road running south. The grade has been made higher and an approach had to be constructed. To make it up onto the grade some speed has to be developed. A number of accidents have already occurred there though none of them have been of a serious nature. However, the road presents a suitable place for the occurrence of a bad accident and it should be attended to at once. The mere fact that grading is in progress is no excuse for leaving roads torn up for great distances behind the work itself.

STORE HOUSE CONTINUES TO LEAD LEAGUE

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY.

The store house team of the Burlington shops league continues at the head of the percentage column, as a result of last night's game when they defeated the blacksmiths by a score of 10 to 4, they having now played three games and won three.

We cannot help but admire the courage with which Huia, the pitcher for the blacksmiths, endeavored to win the game against the aggregation of store house players, and he did not do so badly either, considering the poor support he received.

The sun was hot for both sides, and many a time when the ball was coming it could not be seen and it was a matter of guessing as to where it would go.

The enterprising shop boys had caused to be made a series of numbers, which were hung on the score board instead of posting the scores with chalk, and they showed up nicely and were a great aid in keeping track of the runs by the crowd in the grandstand.

There was the usual good sized crowd, present and all were in a mood to enjoy themselves. Fred (Hobby) Newman got in bad by talking back to the grandstand and received an ovation whenever he appeared to bat. He seemed to enjoy it and cared little for the rounds of jolling which they gave him.

The store house had nineteen hits, while they were charged with a dozen strike outs. Administered by Huia. The blacksmiths were given six bases on balls off Davis, and got five hits from his delivery. He is credited with fanning a baker's dozen of them.

Wednesday night the freight department (Bip track) is scheduled to cross bats with the reorganized locomotive department nine, formerly the machinist team. They are said to have strengthened their line-up materially and it is even rumored so a good game may be looked for.

Next week no games are scheduled owing to the fact that the carnival will hold forth in the ball park.

The score by innings:

Store House ... 3 0 0 0 0 4 0 0 — 10

FORMER PLATTS MOUTH MAN DIES

Called There on Account of Sickness of Mother—Left Her Much Improved in Health.

From Monday's Daily.

Frank Moore, who has been in the west for several weeks past, being called to Stephenson, Washington, on account of the illness of his mother, returned home the latter part of the week and reports his mother as being greatly improved.

She was able to be up and around at the time of his departure and was gaining strength steadily. She has been sick for a long time and when Mr. Moore was called to her bedside several weeks ago her condition was such that the attending physician had declared her recovery was extremely doubtful.

The following is a list of the garments that have been shipped and its publication will give the public an idea of the enormous amount of work that has been completed:

142 children's wool sweaters; 23 pairs of children's stockings, 80 scrubs, 60 chemise, 40 undergarments, 10 pantaloons, 10 nightgowns, 10 skirts and 14 pinwafers.

One can readily see that this is a very large quota and realize the work required to get it out. Much credit is due Mrs. Frank Dunbar, Cass county's director of branches, who has been one of the most ardent and earnest workers and many times if it had not been for her efforts and constancy in the work, this quota would not have been filled in the required time.

Frank was greatly pleased with the country out there, and while he says he was greatly afraid it would frost during the course of his stay, garden stuff grows the year round.

However, this last quota is on its way to headquarters, and the faithful workers in the county may now have a season of well earned rest before taking up any new Red Cross activities in the fall that they may be called on to do.

Cass county has a proud record in war work along all lines. We have gone over the top innumerable times but no record stands out higher than that of the Red Cross chapter. All quotas have been filled, no matter how hard they seemed of accomplishment at the time they were received.

And now that the war is over they still have their share of refugee and reconstruction work to do.

The county warehouse has been cleaned and closed for the present.

Whether it will be opened again in the fall depends upon the action of division headquarters. Of this, however, we are certain: If a quota is assigned the Cass county chapter, willing hands will again unite in the work and there will be no let up until the last stitch is taken and the garments are ready to ship.

Cass county women, we are proud of you and your untiring efforts devoted to Red Cross work.

IS FEELING PRETTY FINE

From Tuesday's Daily.

George Masney, of Greenwood, was in the city this afternoon for a short time, coming down from his home to look after some business matters, and while here called at the Journal office and ordered the paper sent to his address.

George, notwithstanding the years that have passed, is a pretty lively old scoundrel. He departed for Omaha this afternoon, where he has some business matters to look after before returning to his home at Greenwood.

FORMER PLATTS MOUTH MAN DIES

Louis Roessler, of Alliance. Succumbs at Age of Seventy-Two Years.

Lived Here Years Ago

From Tuesday's Daily.

This afternoon Mrs. Julius Deering and B. E. Jahrig departed for Alliance in response to a telegram telling of the death of Louis Roessler, of that place, who died yesterday. Mr. Roessler was formerly an employee of the Burlington shops at this place and was a brother of Mrs. Deering. He had gone to live in the northwest more than thirty years ago.

Mrs. Roessler preceded her husband to the other world by some six years. Mr. Roessler, who lived on a farm in the Alliance vicinity from the time he went west until just lately, when he had been making his home with his two grown children.

Wednesday night the freight department (Bip track) is scheduled to cross bats with the reorganized locomotive department nine, formerly the machinist team. They are said to have strengthened their line-up materially and it is even rumored so a good game may be looked for.
