DROUTH IN MONTANA PROVES DISASTROUS

(From Minneapolis Paper.)
Drouth extends over the whole of Montana, and the crops in that state are burned out, according to William P. Kenney, federal manager of the Great Northern railroad, who returned to St. Paul last night from the west.

"A great calamity has befallen Montana," he said. "The state must have help and not charity. Its livestock must be sent into other states. One of the first things to be done is to get a low freight rate on feed into Montana, and the next is to get part of the cattle out."

"Montana is a great state and it has a great people, who are going to stick it out. They realize the state is stricken, but they are full of American pluck, and feel Montana will have the same evolution that Kansas and Nebraska and other states have had."

Plattsmouth and Cass county have quite a number of residents in the state of Montana, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, who are living near the town of Baker. We have been informed that their crops are completely burned up and that they may be compelled to dispose of most of their stock or ship it to some other point for the winter. This is a pretty hard blow to beginners, but Mr. and Mrs. Chapman intend to "stick it out." They went to Montana to make their home, and it will take more than one year of drouth to make them lose faith in the country. We hope they will fare better than is reported at this time.

CARRANZA RULE DECLARED TO BE MENACE TO U. S.

Washington, July 28.—Carranza's rule of Mexico, "is not a government but a band of outlaws, both technically and practically," and "today it is utterly impossible and an enemy of its own people first and America second," William Gates of Baltimore, an archaeologist, told the house rules committee in its hearing on the Gould resolution proposing a congressional inquiry into Mexican affairs.

Although asserting that President Wilson was misled in making his decision to recognize Carranza, believing the Mexican to be "people's champion," Gates declared in favor of leaving the solution of the Mexican problem with the president. The president, he said, had been not fully informed of conditions in the southern republic.

I. W. W. HEAD RELEASED FROM PRISON UNDER BOND

Leavenworth, Kan., July 28.—Pleading an immediate return to Chicago, to be followed later by a tour of the country, William D. Hayward, former secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World, was released from the federal prison on bond today, pending an appeal.

Remembering that he and the 22 other I. W. W.'s sentenced in 1917, had not been given a fair trial, Hayward said he would make an appeal in his tour, which is to begin in the east, to "the workingmen of the country."
