Dr. Root's prescription might have been effective medicine for the sick "robins," but they refused to swallow it.

Republicans went into power promising a regime of economy. Why don't they economize with language?

Have you heard Charles E. Hughes rear up and give three cheers for Hiram Johnson for president? Neither have we.

Republicans have a majority in the senate until they begin to vote. Then they divide into several rather insignificant minorities.

"Knox on the league," says a headline—meaning a lot of grandiloquent objections by the junior senator from Pennsylvania.

Reactionary senators who are "against" the league of nations will learn before long that the league of nations is also against them.

Up to June 7, the war department liquidated 6677 ordnance contracts, with a value of $1,845,000,000. The amount saved to the government by their liquidation was $206,298,000.

Republicans are preparing to announce that they will not make the league of nations a partisan, but a party issue. Why not be plain and honest and admit that it is to be a republican issue.

It was a good deal easier to get the nations of the earth into a league than it will be to obtain agreement among republicans in the senate as to how they should oppose it without offending a vast majority of the American people.

Sales of surplus war supplies by the war department amounted to $309,157,564 up to June 13. This is 84 per cent of the original cost to the government of the material sold. During the week ending June 13, sales amounted to $11,535,000.

Senator Knox would have a league of nations if he were permitted to write its constitution. Under the one he would write, every nation would maintain as great an army and navy as it could raise money for, and the armament burden which caused the world war would be continued.

If the republicans in the house of representatives are practicing economy when they cut millions from appropriations for the army and navy, what are republicans in the senate doing when they help democrats to restore these millions? Perhaps the answer is that republican representatives are doing what their party wants, while the republicans in the senate are grudgingly doing what the people demand.

Don't forget that if President Wilson had pleased the reactionary republicans in congress he would have disappointed nearly every one else.

Elihu Root provided for the senatorial "robins" a plan for amending the league of nations covenant, but no one has been found to supply the courage required to execute it.

Some republican senators evidently would like to talk the league of nations to death as they did the various appropriation bills in their "buster" last winter—but it can't be done.

The Ford libel suit against the Chicago Tribune will be worth while if it results in a satisfactory explanation of what an "anarchist" is. So far, "most everybody is in the same position as Henry. People don't know what an anarchist is. All they know is that they don't want to be called one.

Traffic with the enemy has been renewed, and imports are coming in already. One of the first consignments is a cargo of 200 German brides brought home by American soldiers. And if this sort of thing continues, it is plain to see that some newly enfranchised American citizens are going to demand a protective tariff on such goods.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Roper has issued a warning to the public against dealers in Liberty and Victory bonds who advertise themselves as "Government Licensed Brokers." The fact that a broker has paid the special tax imposed on all brokers under the revenue act of 1918 does not mean that the government guarantees his honesty or assumes any responsibility for the legitimacy of his methods. Mr. Roper warns.

After having lived in darkness for more than a century, the good people of the southern states are at last to be led into the light. Chairman Will Hays of the republican national committee has decided that the south has remained democratic simply because the proper effort has not been made to convert it to republicanism. Being the most astute chairman the republican party has ever had, Mr. Hays will be the evangelist to bring the sinners to repentance.

of the war. It was fought chiefly by American troops and wholly under the orders of American officers. In this battle the American artillery fired more than one million shells in four hours.

Two comparisons with Gettysburg emphasize the magnitude of the St. Mihiel operation. At St. Mihiel, 550,000 Americans were engaged; at Gettysburg, the Union troops numbered approximately 100,000. In three days at Gettysburg the Union artillery fired 33,000 shells. The St. Mihiel offensive cost the Americans about 7000 casualties, less than one-third the Union losses at Gettysburg.

MEDICAL ATTENTION FOR DISCHARGED SOLDIERS

Fourteen stations have been established in different sections of the country at which discharged soldiers, sailors and marines who are beneficiaries of the war risk insurance act may obtain medical treatment. An officer of the public health service is in charge of each of the stations.

The fact that many men are being discharged from army hospitals who may later require further medical treatment on their return to private life led the war department to establish the stations. District officers have been appointed with instructions to advise men as they are discharged that the public health service through these stations will furnish them with any medical attention they may require. Nothing that can be done for the health or general welfare of the men who rallied to the colors is being left undone by the war department.

THE WHEAT GUARANTEE.

The wheat crop, according to recent reports, is disappointing. Early estimates are not being realized. Instead of a crop of 1,250,000,000 bushels, anticipated in spring forecasts, it is said now that the total production will surely come under one billion bushels, and may fall far short of that figure.

Moreover, much of the wheat is of inferior quality, owing to drought and rust.

The result seems likely to be a quite unexpected reversal of the price situation as regards the government guarantee. If the crop is so short and so poor, comparatively, as it is now said to be, wheat might naturally be worth in the open market more than the government price of $2.26. In that case the government bonus offered last year to stimulate production may prove to be no bonus at all, because the government can let the crop flow into regular market channels at the established price, or take it at that price and dispose of it without a loss.

The farmers, naturally, are much disappointed. In so far as they actually fail to get a paying crop after their abnormal effort and expense, they will meet with genuine sympathy. They will be expected, however, to take the matter in a sportsmanlike way.

With prospects of a bumper crop they stood to make a big profit at the public expense. If the tables are turned, and the nation, while getting its wheat no cheaper, does not have to pay the several hundred million dollars anticipated as a bonus over and above the market price, the public will take a certain amount of righteous satisfaction in the situation.

YOUNG FOLKS WEDDED AT DAWSON, NEB.

HARRY STONE AND MISS ANNA KLIMA MARRIED ON WEDNESDAY.

GROOM IS PLATTSMOUTH BOY

And Was a Lieutenant in the Old Sixth Nebraska—Both Will Continue Studies.

From Saturday's Daily. The many friends of the contracting parties in this city will be pleased to learn of the marriage of Mr. Harry Floyd Stone and Miss Anna Klima, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, August 6th, 1919, in the United Evangelical church at Dawson, Nebraska. Rev. W. W. Underkoffler, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends.

Promptly at 8 o'clock Mr. Harland Helm took his place at the piano and played artistically "The First Violet" by Behr, after which Mrs. Mae S. Morgan, of Plattsmouth sang "As the Dawn" by Cantor, in her usual pleasing manner, being accompanied by Mr. Heim.

At the close of the vocal selection the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The bride was attended by Miss Bente Stone, a sister of the groom; Miss Lilith Klima, a sister of the bride and Miss Marion Ames, a cousin of the bride. The groom was attended by Mr. Clarence H. Peden, Little Virginia Klima, a niece of the bride, acted as the ring bearer.

The bridal party proceeded to the altar, which had been beautifully decorated with ferns and potted plants by the young friends of the popular couple. This made a beautiful setting for the short but impressive ceremony that followed.

Immediately after the service at the church the wedding party and friends proceeded in automobiles to the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Layson, six miles south of Dawson, where the wedding reception was held. Mrs. Layson being a sister of the bride. Here the bride and groom received the congratulations and best wishes of many friends. Dainty and delicious refreshments were served during the evening.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Klima, who have for many years been honored citizens of Dawson. She has for the past five years been one of the successful teachers of the county and it was with regret that the board of education at Dawson released her from the school work. She has been most active in church and social circles and will be greatly missed by a host of friends who have known her all her life and join with one accord in wishing her life's choicest blessings. Daintily attired in a simple gown of white georgette and white satin, her bridal veil held in place by lilies of the valley and carried by a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, she made a most charming bride.

The groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Stone, of Plattsmouth. He is a son of whom the parents and community are justly proud. He is a young man of exemplary habits, industrious and ambitious. After graduation from the Plattsmouth high school he taught a year in the vicinity of Dawson. The following summer he answered his country's call by entering the service as a volunteer and was commissioned by Governor Neville as second lieutenant in the 6th Nebraska infantry, and accompanied that organization to Camp Cody, New Mexico, where he with the entire machine gun company was transferred to the 126th machine gun battalion and remained with that organization until in the late summer of 1918 when he was promoted to the rank of 1st lieutenant and assigned to duty at Camp Dix, New Jersey, despite his earnest desire to accompany his organization overseas. He later was recommended for higher honors when mustered out of service in February, 1919.

The young couple are spending a week with the groom's parents near Plattsmouth. They will then return to Dawson for a short time to make preparation for entering Nebraska Wesleyan university in the fall as students. Their friends commend them for taking up their plans for completing their education, which were cheerfully laid aside because of the advent of war.

Plattsmouth friends who were in attendance at the wedding were the parents of the groom and Mrs. Mae S. Morgan.

APPOINTS SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

From Saturday's Daily. President Frank M. Bestor of the Commercial club has appointed as the committee to look after the proposed Home Coming celebration for the returned soldiers and sailors, Messrs. J. P. Falter, William A. Robertson, Mayor Henry A. Schneider, Ed. H. Schulhof and E. H. Westcott. The committee will at once get busy and see what can be done in the next few weeks to make the affair a rousing success and also to fix upon a definite date for the holding of the celebration. The committee is already getting in touch with a number of the different precincts to perfect an organization toward making the gathering a county affair if possible.

MRS. EDWARDS HAS GAINED FOURTEEN POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC.

"I weigh just fourteen pounds more than I did when I commenced taking Tanlac a short time ago, and my troubles have been completely overcome," said Mrs. Nancy Edwards, who lives at 5620 East 12th Street, Kansas City, Mo., while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"About two years ago," continued Mrs. Edwards, "I began to have stomach trouble, and until I commenced taking Tanlac, my condition had gradually grown worse all the time. In fact, I had reached the point where I was so weak and run down that I was hardly able to get about. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and the gas that formed from sour, indigestible food, would make me miserable for hours at a time. I would have raging headaches nearly every day, and was so nervous all the time that the
