The protection of principle should be the first consideration of every investor. But it's not always an easy matter for the ordinary investor to determine the safety of the issues offered him.

The character of an investment, however, is usually reflected in the concern which offers it. Investments offered through this institution warrant your confidence.

Grandpa Davis Feeling Fair

Yes, Grandfather I. M. Davis is feeling pretty fair, thank you, as is also Father Earnest Milburn, on account of the arrival last Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn of a wee blue-eyed baby girl, which has come to make her home here and contribute to the further happiness of the parents and grandparents whose joy knows no bounds. The little one and the mother are getting along nicely and the father and grandfather are expected to pull through in due course of time.

Are Visiting Parents Here.

James Nickels and wife, of Bloomfield, where they have been engaged in the hotel business, rented their place July 1st, and have since been visiting for a while. Recently they were at Hot Springs, S. Dak., later coming here to visit at the home of the former's parents, Wm. Nickels and wife. They will continue to be guests here for some little time. The hotel was paying well, but they were working terribly hard and so when the opportunity came to lease the place, they decided they would take a short rest.

Honor Returned Soldiers

At the home of Dr. G. H. Gilmore was held last Saturday evening a meeting in honor of fourteen service men of the Murray neighborhood who have lately returned from the army and navy, and at which was rendered a program. Miss Neva Latta and Miss Mae Loughridge sang a number of patriotic songs, which were highly appreciated by all. Hon. Judge James T. Begley, of Plattsmouth, made the address welcoming the boys home, while Dr. Gilmore, on behalf of the ex-warriors, being one of their number himself, made reply in appropriate manner. Mrs. W. J. Philpot furnished a cake on which was an American flag, making a very beautiful centerpiece at the table when the assemblage finally was called to refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Visited Murray Friend.

Wm. Wellever and wife, the latter a sister of Mrs. D. A. Young, have been here recently visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Young, coming from their home at Morehead, Iowa. His son-in-law, Charles Creamer, is fifty-seven years of age, and as their birthdays come very near the same date, Mrs. Chas. Creamer celebrated the double birthday occasion at their home on last Sunday by giving one of the finest dinners that one could ever wish for. She extended invitations to all the members of the family and all were present, excepting J. D. Shrader, who is now living in New York, and Mrs. Jennie Klhmm.

Expresses Appreciation of Kindness

I wish to express my appreciation of the kindness of my neighbors and friends who have come and did so many kind acts, and showed by their kindness their friendship during the time I have been crippled as a result of the accident that broke my collar bone, and I take this method of expressing my grateful appreciation of the kindly acts. Thank you, all, my friends. LEE FARIS.

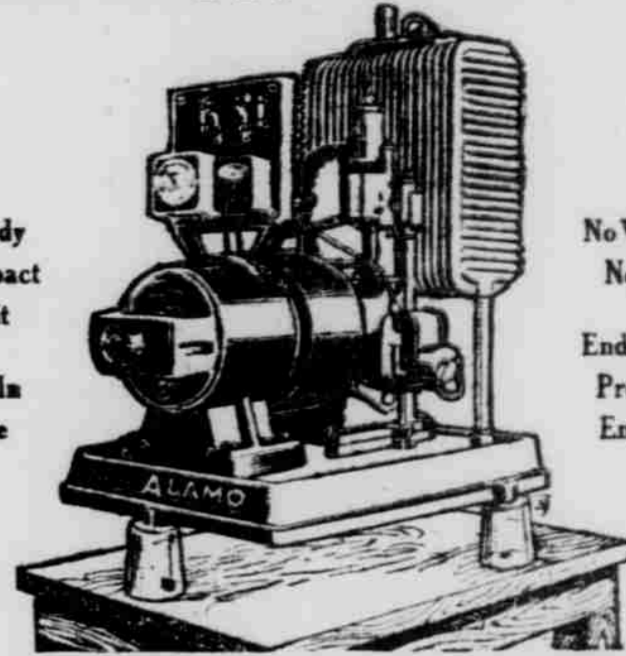

Were Visitors in Omaha

Tuesday evening Dr. B. F. Brendel accompanied Lee Faris to Omaha where an X-ray picture was taken of his shoulder to ascertain how the injured collar bone was progressing. Lee had slipped recently and because of the increased pain thought he had rebroken the collar bone, but the examination and photo showed it to be getting along all right. George Edmonston accompanied them, going up to have his ear dressed, he having an internal tumor therein. John Faris was also along and they all returned on the midnight Missouri Pacific train Tuesday.
