VERY FINE LAND.

From Saturday's Daily. In the article in the Journal on Thursday evening covering the visit of Mr. Blonder, agricultural agent of the Great Northern railroad, to Murray in the interests of a publicity campaign for the developing of the northeastern section of Mrs. William, Henrichsen and North Dakota, the impression was given that - the land represented by Mr. Blonder was located in northwestern Dakota, but this is not the case as all the land which is being advertised by the Great Northern is in the northeastern portion of North Dakota. This land is of a very high grade for farming and much better than that in the northwestern part " of the same state. There is no more productive section of the country than northeastern North Dakota and investigation of the land there has demonstrated this fact.
