HEARS FROM RELATIVES THOT LOST

William Schall Receives Message From Brother After Four Years Silence.

William Schall of Omaha was in the city yesterday in company with his brother-in-law, M. Fanger and tells of having received a message from his relatives in Poland after four long years of anxiety as to their fate during the course of the great war. Mr. Schall had begun preparations for having his wife and children come to the United States just before the opening of the great war between the central powers and the allies and a short time previous to the outbreak of hostilities he sent to the wife, who with the family was living not far from Limberg, Galicia, transportation on the Hamburg-American line form Bremen to the United States. This transportation arrived at the home in the old country, the day before the declaration of war by Germany on Russia and when the wife and children tried to leave for this country they found the doors of the Austrian empire closed against anyone leaving. This ended the hope of leaving for the states and with the pinching times caused by the requisition of food supplies for the Austrian government the wife was compelled to sell the transportation to some of the influential and wealthy residents of that section of Poland in order that she might secure food for herself and children. This information was received by Mr. Schall a few months after the opening of the war in August, 1914, and was the last word that reached him until a few days ago when his brother residing at Levow, Poland, wrote that the family were still alive and anxious to join the husband and father in this country.

The section of Galicia in which the Schall family resided is now a part of the new republic of Poland, and was during the war the scene of some of the most bloody battles of the great struggle, as the Russian and Austrian-German armies swept through this region several times and laid waste the country. Even in times of peace the residents of the country districts of Galicia found it very hard to exist for periods between the exhaustion of the winter supplies and the coming of the new harvest in September the residents of the country subsisted largely upon grasses and a few vegetables as well as a kind of bread made from coarse ground corn and even in a large number of cases it was impossible to secure even the rough corn meal. In face of such conditions in peace time it was almost certain that a large percentage of the inhabitants must perish of hunger when the armies swept over the land demanding what little food supply there was. During the first few months of the war the Russian armies advanced into Galicia inflicting many hardships upon the inhabitants and taking what of the food supply of the country as they could secure, and this was made even worse when the Russians were checked and defeated by the German and Austrian armies as the Russians retreating laid waste a large portion of the country and what they had left the armies of the Germans finished up. The terrible condition of the section of the country in which the family of Mr. Schall resided together with the fact that he had failed to hear a word from them led Mr. Schall to lose heart and believe that his loved ones had been forced to succumb to the horrors of starvation together with the many thousands of the Galicians who had been reported as perishing during the five long years of war.

As soon as he received word of the fact that the wife and children were still alive Mr. Schall at once began plans to return to the old home and secure the wife and children and return to the United States to make their home in the land of the free. To do this it will be necessary for him to establish his American citizenship and this was the object of his journey to this city as it was here he made his declaration of intention to become a citizen some five years ago. When the question as to his citizenship is settled Mr. Schall will make arrangements to go back to Galicia to get the family if he can secure the necessary passports.

JOHN STULL IS ACQUITTED IN THE COUNTY COURT

From Friday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon in the county court, the trial of John Stull on a complaint filed by Alvin Jones, warden before Judge Beeson and after hearing the evidence in the case Judge Beeson found the defendant not guilty.

In the complaint Mr. Stull was charged with stealing $20 out of a sum of $65 which he had paid to Mr. Jones for some work that he had done at the Reo garage. The money, which was counted at the time it was paid over to Mr. Jones, was left lying on a table for some little time and later when it was to be placed in the cash register, it was found to be short twenty iron men. The defendant stated that after he had paid over the money he had nothing more to do with it and did not know what had become of it and so it seems the fate of the $20 will remain a dark mystery.

RETURNS FROM AUTO TRIP.

From Saturday's Daily.
Robert L. Propst and wife accompanied by their son, Dwight, and daughters, Miss Mayola Propst of Sapulpa, Oklahoma, Mrs. Edna Sandler of Omaha, Mrs. Vera Hallstrom of Avoca, and Mrs. Roberta Propst of this city, have returned from an automobile trip covering 1,600 miles through northern Nebraska, and portion of South Dakota. The members of the party spent some time at Mitchell where they were entertained at the home of a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Propst. Mrs. Maude Test, and the sisters enjoyed the opportunity of visiting with each other for the first time in several years. While in South Dakota the party visited at Chamberlain, Sioux Falls, and as far west as Yankton, South Dakota, and also at Sioux City, Iowa. The trip was made in a Chalmers '6" and the car driven by Dwight Propst and was one of great pleasure throughout with excellent road-work with the exception of the one found between this city and Omaha. All over the northern part of Nebraska and Iowa as well as in South Dakota, good roads were the rule but when they came to Omaha and started south over the Fort Crook road it was certainly bad and on this side of the Platte was equally hard to travel over. The condition of these roads have caused much remark among the auto travelers, Mr. Propst states.

STILL SELLING CASS CO. LAND.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the advertisement of J. P. Falter, the real estate man, who is offering some bargains in the best land on earth—that of old Cass county. Mr. Falter's long experience in handling the Cass county farms as both agent and owner gives him an insight into the value of farm land that is valuable to those purchasing through him and he is of the opinion that wherever good land may be in other localities there is no place that has land that can in anyway beat that of the Cass county farms and for this reason he is offering this land for sale.

MISS EDITH MARTIN RETURNS HOME

After a Rich Fund of Experience Gained Through Long Service in the War Zone.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning Miss Edith Martin returned to the city from the east, where she has been visiting since her arrival from France on August 18th. Miss Martin, who was engaged in Red Cross work at the port of Brest, France, for the past year, arrived in Philadelphia on August 13, and from there she departed for Buffalo, where she remained for a short visit with friends.
Miss Martin has had a great experience in the war work with the Red Cross and for several months had an active part in preparing for the comfort of the troops passing through Brest for the United States. While at the port Miss Martin met a great many of the soldiers from this vicinity passing through on their way home and such meetings so far from home were very pleasant to both the soldiers who were longing for a word from home, as well as Miss Martin. The many friends of this lady will be pleased to learn that she has returned and that she has enjoyed her work among the troops in the foreign lands.

SUFFERS SEVERE LACERATION.

From Thursday's Daily.
Shortly after noon yesterday a large touring car driven by T. E. Lawhead, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, and containing the members of his family, was overturned a few miles south of Murray, with the result that Mrs. Lawhead sustained a rather severe laceration of the chin. The accident occurred a short distance from the farm of Nick Fredrich, just out of Murray, and was caused by the automobile skidding up on the bank along the roadside and partially tipping over with the result that Mrs. Lawhead was injured by being thrown against the frame of the car and sustained the painful cut on her chin. The injuries of the lady were temporarily dressed at Murray and the party continued on to Omaha passing thru this city shortly before two o'clock.

The members of the party are engaged in an automobile tour of the west and were traveling from Kansas City to Omaha when the accident occurred. The car was not damaged as a result of the accident, and was able to be driven on into Omaha, where the party made a short stop.

PETTY THEIVING GOING ON

From Tuesday's Daily.
For some time there has been reports of the stealing of tires from automobiles as well as smaller accessories and this seems to have become a regular line of work in this community judging from the increasing number of cases of this kind being reported. Yesterday several car owners in the different parts of the city report having suffered the loss of extra tires, which were removed from the rear of their machines as well as numerous cases of the taking of extra tires, tools and other small articles of equipment carried with automobiles. This, together with the attempted stealing of the car of Mr. Hoyle on Saturday night looks as though there is a regularly organized gang of auto thieves working over the city. The automobile owners of the city should be careful that when they leave their cars all movable property is safely locked up.

GOES TO MEET HUSBAND.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Saturday afternoon Mrs. C. C. Wescott departed for New York, where she will meet Mr. Wescott who is scheduled to arrive in port today from France where he has been for the past year engaged in the Y. M. C. A. war work. Mr. and Mrs. Wescott will enjoy a short visit in the east before returning to this city. During the greater part of his stay in France Mr. Wescott has been stationed at Commerce in the Lorraine sector but for the last two months was at Paris in charge of the equipment department of the Y. M. C. A.

CHARLES JELINEK HAS AN ACCIDENT

Has Right Arm Broken While Cranking Ford at Point Near Fremont. Proves Quite Serious.

From Saturday's Daily.
The news has reached this city of an accident that befell Charles Jelinek, formerly of this city, but who is at present located in Omaha where he is traveling for the wholesale house of Rudo & Bardo. Mr. Jelinek in company with a number of other traveling men were engaged in making the territory north of Fremont on Tuesday and the occasion arising to start the Ford Mr. Jelinek got out and attempted to crank the car. The engine back fired and the crank struck Mr. Jelinek on the right forearm breaking the bones and the fracture proved a severe one as the bones were badly splintered and the flesh of the arm torn by the pieces of bone which protruded through. The injured man was hurried by his companions to the hospital at Fremont where he was looked after and an X-ray made of the arm to fully determine just how severe the break was. One of the men who was with Mr. Jelinek at the time of the accident states that the condition of the arm was very serious and it was not known at the hospital whether it would be possible to set the arm so that it would be possible to save it or not altho every effort was being made to save an amputation if possible. This will be very sad news to the friends of Mr. Jelinek in the old home and they are trusting that the condition of Mr. Jelinek may not prove as serious as was at first reported. Mr. Jelinek is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jelinek and a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. York of this city, and up to a year ago the family made this city their home until removing to Omaha, where Mr. Jelinek took up his work for the wholesale house.

SURPRISE AN OLD FRIEND.

From Saturday's Daily.
As yesterday was the seventy-second birthday of one of our old and highly respected citizens, William H. Freese, Mrs. Freese and the two daughters, Mrs. L. V. Copenhaver and Mrs. Don C. York, decided that it would be a pleasant surprise to the husband and father to invite a number of his old friends and associates in to spend the day and accordingly the ladies invited the members of the Grand Army and the ladies of the Relief Corps to assist in surprising the guest of honor and the event was all that had been hoped for as Mr. Freese was taken completely by surprise when

There Are Parts of Nebraska

WHERE LAND IS HIGHER THAN IN CASS COUNTY, BUT NOWHERE CAN YOU FIND LAND MORE PRODUCTIVE OR CROPS SAFER.

Look over these choice Cass county farms we are offering for sale at prices that are attractive to the purchaser. Every one of these farms will be worth more money before spring:

The improvements consist of a good eight room house, big barn, corn crib, hog house and other small buildings. You have a market practically on the farm and situated as it is it will make an ideal place to handle stock profitably with the least work. The price of this farm is $300 per acre and the owner will give good terms to purchaser.

160 acres located 3½ miles southwest of Louisville. The land consists of 50 acres of good pasture with running water fed by spring, and 110 acres of choice farm land, all in a high state of cultivation. We have already put up 19 big 19-ton stacks of alfalfa hay on this farm this year, and the third crop is now ready for cutting. The stand is perfect and free of any weeds. The balance of the farm land has been seeded down in the last few years and is in excellent shape. The improvements consist of a good house, large cattle barn, 48x60, horse barn, hog shed 120 feet long, cattle shed, good big granary, corn cribs, and other buildings. All the land is well fenced and cross fenced, two big hog pastures fenced hog tight. The pasture consists of blue grass and clover and is very fine, 60 acres of it in the bottom. This is extra good pasture and not affected by dry weather. There is a good spring in the pasture furnishing an abundance of good water the year around. Where the improvements are there is a good well and large underground supply tank from which run underground pipes to soil waterers for all the live stock. Lots of this pasture land, especially that close to the improvements, could be farmed with very little work, and it is as good as any land you can find anywhere. The price of this place is $75,000.00 and good terms can be arranged with purchaser.

These farms are all for immediate sale, possession to be given March 1st, 1920. It is time to do your fall plowing so do not lose any time investigating these good propositions. We will be glad to show you any of these farms at any time.

the friends walked in the house and congratulated him on the fact of his anniversary. The afternoon was spent delightfully in visiting and in the enjoyment of several musical numbers. As a token of the happy event that has marked the passing of another milestone on the road of life the old soldiers of the post and the ladies of the relief corps presented Mr. Freese with a beautiful silken American flag beneath whose folds he had so gallantly served throughout the war of 1861-65. The occasion was one that will be long remembered by Mr. Freese as a most delightful tribute of love and esteem from his family and friends.
