THE SQUIRREL AND THE ELECTRIC LIGHT SERVICE

From Wednesday's Daily. The squirrel has always been figured as one of the simplest of the animals and this morning one of the species gave a demonstration of this fact out at the quarry near Cedar Creek when it committed suicide by getting tangled up in a switch on one of the poles of the Nebraska Light and Power Co. The squirrel not only made a quick finish for himself but also put the power and light service in this city and along the transmission line on the bum because the mix up resulted in burning out a transformer and for over an hour the current was shut off until the damage could be repaired.

VISIT OF AN OLD FRIEND

From Wednesday's Daily. The occasion of the visit of Dr. E. W. Cook and wife to the old home in Plattsmouth this week has been an event filled with the greatest of pleasure to the many hundreds of the old friends to meet and greet once more the genial and popular doctor, who is now one of the supreme medical directors of the Modern Woodmen of America. There have been few men in the city that numbered so many real warm friends among its citizenship as Dr. Cook and it is most pleasing for them to see him looking and feeling as well as he is at the present time. Dr. Cook and wife are making their home in Rock Island, Illinois, but as the Doctor says Plattsmouth is always home to him as there are the friends of many years duration and where for years he has made his home. The well deserved recognition given Dr. Cook by the order in which he has long been an active figure has been gratifying to the Plattsmouth people and they are sincere in their wishes for his future welfare and success.

REUNION OF PERRY FAMILY LAST SUNDAY

HELD AT THE HOME OF THE MOTHER, MRS. PETER PERRY AT EIGHT MILE GROVE

ELEVEN CHILDREN PRESENT

The Day Was Spent in Visiting and Taking Kodak Pictures and in a General Good Time

From Wednesday's Daily. One of the most largely attended and happy family reunions held in Cass county was that of the Perry family held on Sunday, August 31st. The place of holding the reunion was with Mother Perry at old Eight Mile Grove on the old home farm where she had lived for nearly forty years and where the family grew to manhood and womanhood and received the advice and instruction of kind Christian parents which fitted them for the useful lives they are now living.

It was remarkable in the fact that the eleven children are all living and that although some have their homes at a great distance yet all managed to meet once more with the happy mother at the old home. This being the first meeting since nine years ago when all were gathered together under the parental roof, being called home by the serious illness of the father who passed away a year later.

All enjoyed a delightful picnic dinner on the beautiful shady lawn and the day will be one of delightful remembrances to those who were gathered there. The day was spent in visiting, reminiscing, taking kodak pictures and in a general good time, and passed all too soon being enjoyed to the utmost. A number of the old time friends called during the afternoon and evening to offer congratulations to Mother Perry on having the family with her once more. There were thirty-eight members of the family present including the sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law, grand children, and one great grand child.

One son-in-law, two daughters-in-law, eleven grand children and one great grandchild being unable to be present. Those comprising the members of the family present at the reunion were: Mrs. Peter Perry, Mynard; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Perry, Orange, California; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Barker and family, Mynard; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cook and family, Elmwood; Mr. J. E. Perry, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Perry and family, Plattsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Spangler and son, Murray; Mr. Charles Perry and son, Malcolm, Nebraska; Mrs. S. G. Unland, Hemet, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Perry and family, Big Springs, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Most of those present enjoyed a like occasion the previous Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kiser. Mrs. Kiser being a granddaughter of Mrs. Perry. All those from a distance remained for a more extended visit with their mother and will spend some time here with the friends and relatives before returning to their homes.

ARRANGING TO FIX SCHOOL DISTRICT LIMITATIONS SOON

At their session yesterday afternoon the board of county commissioners took up the matter of filling the vacancy on the board named to redistrict the school districts of the county. This position has been vacant since the declination of Attorney C. S. Aldrich of Elmwood and as the work of changing the boundaries will soon be taken up it was necessary to take action at once. For the position the commissioners selected Hon. John J. Gustin of Murdock. Mr. Gustin has served the people of the county as state representative and is a gentleman well qualified for the position that he will take up as he is familiar with the needs of the people of the county for school districts that will afford them the best possible means of securing high class schools.

FLOAT IS OMITTED

From Wednesday's Daily. In the account of the Labor day parade appearing in the Journal yesterday, through an oversight, mention was omitted of the float representing the planing mill department of the local shops. This was one of the very best appearing floats in the parade and one that had received a great deal of praise from the spectators as the boys had devoted much time to its construction and their efforts resulted in a fine piece of work. The top was finished off with elaborate wood work done in the mill and the float carried a full sized lathe in operation, demonstrating the kind of high class work that the mill men are turning out every day at the shops.

YOUNG LADY ATTACKED IN HOME

Former Plattsmouth Girl, Miss Levey Miller, Has Thrilling Fight With Assailant

From Wednesday's Daily. The Council Bluffs department of the World-Herald this morning has an account of a thrilling experience which was undergone by Miss Levey Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Miller, former residents of this city, and who are at present making their home in Council Bluffs. Both Miss Miller and her sister are well known in this city and their friends here will be greatly interested in learning of the startling experience which they have been through. In speaking of the affair, the World-Herald says:

"Levey Miller, 22 years old, pretty Council Bluffs girl, 819 South Sixth street, was attacked by an unidentified man this morning at about 3 o'clock and dragged half way thru her bedroom window before the assailant was frightened away by the screams of her sister, Mildred.

"Miss Miller, with her 18-year-old sister, was sleeping in a bedroom on the first floor of their home. She had retired early, about 8 o'clock, she says, on account of not feeling well the night before. Her sister returned from a movie about 12 o'clock and she awoke at that time. Mildred told her sister of seeing a shadow flit by their bedroom window just as she was about to retire, and suggested awakening their father, who slept in the next room.

"About 3 o'clock Miss Miller was awakened by feeling the arms of a man about her shoulders and she was dragged violently through the open window which was just at the head of their bed. She screamed and awakened her sister. The two girls fought with the assailant until after their father was awakened. At sight of him the man ran, disappearing through the alley in the rear.

"Police were notified immediately and Captain Shafer and Officer Sloan responded to the call but could find no trace of the man. The screen had been removed from the window by the man and was found lying on the ground nearby. Miss Miller suffered several scratches and abrasions about her arms and body as the result of being dragged through the window. Police are searching for the man.

RESIGNATION OF ANOTHER PLATTSMOUTH TEACHER

From Wednesday's Daily. The board of education yesterday received the resignation of Miss Teresa Hempel as a member of the teaching force of the Plattsmouth schools and have accepted the same. Miss Hempel who has been one of the most efficient teachers in the city schools for several years in the grade work, resigned to accept a much more lucrative position in the Omaha public schools. It is with much regret that the patrons of the school will learn of the resignation of Miss Hempel but the work in the Omaha schools is in the line of advancement in educational work and one that will give a greater opportunity to the abilities of Miss Hempel in this line of work.

BOY SCOUTS RETURN FROM CAMPING TRIP

SEVERAL DAYS SPENT ON THE FRED RICE FARM SOUTH OF PLATTSMOUTH

HAD REVEILLE 'ND EVERYTHING

That Goes to Make Up Regular Military Camp, Except the Hard Boiled Top Kicker

From Saturday's Daily. The Boy Scouts of this city have under the direction of Rev. A. V. Hunter of the Methodist church, scoutmaster of the organization, been enjoying a regular camping experience at the Fred Rice farm south of the city, going there on Wednesday and returning to their home here yesterday afternoon. The boys have had one of the times of their life in the experience and it has been very beneficial as well as enjoyable to them, living for a few days and nights out in the open. The camp was conducted by Scoutmaster Hunter along strictly military lines with the much hated reveille at the usual unearthly hour from their pup tents to answer roll call and the only thing lacking was the harsh voice of a hard boiled top kicker arousing the few who preferred to sleep through the ordeal. The boys were all called to rest by taps at night and with all the exercise and good times during the day around the camp they were always willing to hit the hay when the bugle called them to sleep. The scouts were provided with cooking equipment and prepared their own meals during the stay in camp and with the experience gained should be a valued addition to mother at home in doing the small jobs around the kitchen that under military phraseology is better known as kitchen police.

PICNIC GROUNDS PROVE PLEASING

From Wednesday's Daily. Since the occasion of the Labor day picnic there has been created a great deal of sentiment in favor of securing for a permanent park or picnic grounds, the grove in which the Labor day celebration was held. The committee of the shop federation locating the grounds did an excellent job in picking out the spot and which proved ample in size for a gathering of this nature and was also in easy walking distance of the main portion of the city. It is well known that Plattsmouth has long needed a place where gatherings like a large picnic could be held and in the grove selected by the Labor day committee was found a most pleasing spot. The matter has been brought to the attention of the commercial club and the city officials who are very enthusiastic over the acquiring of the land where the grove is situated. It would be a great addition to the park system of the city and with only a small amount of work could be converted into a place of great beauty having all the natural advantages which would only require a small amount of money to make into one of the classiest parks in this portion of the states.

FAVORS BESTOWED ON CANADA

Portland, Ore., Aug. 29.—By depending on its logging and milling industry for its airplane production, Canada procured twenty-six and one-half million feet of airplane lumber between April and November, 1918. Frank R. Pendleton, former superintendent of aircraft production for the Canadian government, told the members of the congressional sub-committee investigating aircraft spruce expenditures here today.

Pendleton is a resident of Everett, Wash. The committee postponed a proposed trip to the Toledo spruce district to hear his testimony which it was said was intended to show that the Canadian system was superior to that employed by the United States government, which embarked in the spruce production business itself.

Both the logs and the lumber for Canadian airplanes were obtained from the loggers and mills on contracts, and no soldiers were employed in the operations. Pendleton testified. With the exception of six miles of railroad, no construction was undertaken by the government and when the operations closed, the government had no equipment or properties on its hands to dispose of, he said.

According to figures produced by Pendleton, airplane lumber was produced more cheaply for the Canadian government than for the United States government by this plan.
