

TO DECORATE CITY IN GRAND STYLE

Plans to Make Business Section and Number of Residence Streets
Ablaze With Decorations.

From Saturday's Daily.

The furnish the proper setting for the welcome of the returned service men the decoration committee on Home Coming day met last evening to arrange the plans for the decorations of the city on the big day. J. C. Varabrough, Fred Busch and R. W. Knorr are the committee in charge of the decorations and have secured the services of Mr. Fields of Shenandoah, Iowa, who has had charge of this line of work in a number of the Iowa cities and he will be here in a few days to start in on the perfecting of the plans. It is expected to have Main street from the Burlington station to the high school a sea of color with patriotic decorations and Vine street from the Coronado apartments to 7th street decorated up in fine shape as well as Seventh from Vine to Granite and also the streets facing Garfield Park. A great many of the business houses of the city are already outlining their plans for the decorative features and some very beautiful effects will be secured throughout the city and especially in the sections through which the line of march of the parade will follow.

ORGANIZATION IS GROWING IN STATE

American Legion Has Fifty-Five
Established Posts and as Many More Being Organized.

From Saturday's Daily.

The American Legion in Nebraska is fast growing and now has a total of fifty-five posts established and thirty-four more that are being organized. There are in the neighborhood of 4,000 veterans of the world war enrolled now in the Legion and by the time of the state convention in October it is expected that more than half of the 35,000 service men in the state will be enrolled as members of this organization. With the bills pending before congress in regard to the recognition of the soldiers by the passage of a bonus payment act and changes in the homestead law, the Legion expects to be able to have a strong effect in securing favorable action.

DIES BEFORE ARRIVAL OF BROTHER FROM THIS PLACE

From Saturday's Daily.

S. S. Gooding who has just returned from Winston, Missouri, where he was called by the message announcing the serious condition of his brother, Z. A. Gooding, failed to arrive at the home in time to see the brother living as a short time before his arrival the death messenger came. The deceased was a man of forty-eight years and leaves besides his brother in this city, a wife and four children. The illness of Mr. Gooding dates back to last winter when he was kicked by a mule and quite severely injured and since that time he has been gradually failing in health. The funeral was held at Winston and Mr. S. S. Gooding remained over for the last sad rites.

Thursday night's audience mystified

Tries vainly to detect difference between voice of famous soprano
and RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph

Those present at The Parmele Thursday night saw Odette Le Fontenay walk onto the stage. They saw her take her position next to a beautiful cabinet. They saw her lips give voice to the opening lines of The Swallows. Then suddenly her lips were still—but the song kept flowing on.

How came this? They were hearing Mme. LeFontenay's voice, yet Mm. LeFontenay was not singing. The entire audience gasped as it slowly realized that it had been unable to distinguish between Mme. LeFontenay's voice and the RE-CREATION of that voice by the New Edison.

This was the daring test undertaken last Thursday at The Parmele by Thomas A. Edison. He sought to prove that no difference exists between the voice of the living artist and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. The musically cultured of Platts-mouth were invited to pass judgment. No test could have been more exacting.

Mme. Le Fontenay made comparison after comparison. The mystified audience tried vainly to catch a difference between the original rendition and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one could tell one from the other.

It was a triumph whole and complete for the New Edison.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

The instrument used in last night's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $285 (in Canada, $431). It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

The New Edison alone of all phonographs is capable of sustaining the test. Until Mr. Edison knew it would do so, he regarded his work as unfinished.

Ask some one who was present last night. Learn the amazing truth. Then come in some time and let us prove it personally to you.
