George Stoll, one of our Chester White hog raisers north of town, received a fine Chester White male pig by express last week from Schuyler, Neb., that is sure a beauty and he carries the name of his sire Wildwood Prince, the Chester White hog there has been so much said about, and the fact that he sold for the sum of $6,000 has been the subject of much comment among hog raisers of a number of states.

On the other side this pig's mother sold for $550 which will give his pig a rating of one of the best Chester White pigs in the state and will be a valuable addition to Mr. Stoll's already fine herd of Chester White hogs that are becoming so well known in this part of the country that he has a ready sale for a large number of pigs this season.

We enjoy complimenting a man that takes the interest in improving his herd of hogs that Mr. Stoll does.

RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION ADVERTISES STATE

The United States railroad administration has issued a booklet entitled "Nebraska" descriptive of the state. It is labeled as "Agricultural Series No. 12." It carries a statement from Governor McKelvie and Acting Dean W. W. Burr of the agricultural college telling of the opportunities and possibilities in this state. It is said the information was compiled by the Nebraska agricultural college, the Santa Fe, the Burlington, Great Western, Rock Island, Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Omaha and Northwestern railroads. The excuse for its issue is found in the statement that "prosperous communities mean prosperous railroads." The purpose of the booklet is to direct ambitious and industrious home makers. A lot of statistics concerning the state are given showing the productiveness and products of the state. Under a picture of a four thousand bushel pile of corn is a legend showing that the corn grew on non-irrigated land in Duval county (probably Deuel county.) On the opposite page is a Platte river picture showing Scottsbluff in the background, under which is a statement that "North Platte, Nebraska" is near Scottsbluff. A number of interesting pictures of Nebraska scenes are shown. Because the pamphlet was issued to direct home-seekers much of its contents is devoted to the western and northwestern section of the state. Under a picture of a sugar beet field the statement is made that sugar beet lands are the highest priced lands in the state. Under a picture of a sunflower patch the statement is made that "the sunflower is an excellent silage crop in the higher altitudes." The feed value of this ensilage is said to be equal to corn.

Although Journal want-ads cost but little the results they bring are wonderful. Try them.
