AUXILIARY OF ST. LUKE'S MET YESTERDAY

GEORGE E. DOVEY HOME SCENE OF A VERY INTERESTING GATHERING.

PLEASING PROGRAM RENDERED

Incorporating Various Phases of Indian Mission Work Accomplished by the Church.

From Friday's Daily. A delightful afternoon was spent at the George E. Dovey home yesterday, when the daughters of Mr. Dovey, Mesdames R. F. Patterson and John W. Falter entertained the auxiliary of St. Luke's Episcopal church. The afternoon was largely devoted to a missionary program and a discussion of the work of the church in the missionary field of North America.

There was a short business session of the organization and then the remainder of the afternoon was given to Mrs. Wilbur S. Leete, who, having charge of the entertainment, presented an Indian program covering the work of the church missionaries among the Indian tribes of the northwest. Mrs. Leete read a paper giving a brief sketch of what had been accomplished by the church missions among the Indian tribes of the United States.

Mrs. James T. Begley then took up the work of the Indians in the religious life of the nation, and gave a very interesting talk on this subject, "The Tepee and the Cross," covering the advancement of the different Indian tribes along the religious lines.

Following the remarks of Mrs. Begley, Mrs. T. B. Bates gave a review of the early history of the church and the gigantic strides that have been made in missionary work since the 17th century, notably the work of Bishop Hare, the great missionary, among the Indians in South Dakota.

The last paper was an interesting account of the missionary work among the Indians of the Wind River reservation in Wyoming, under Bishop Thomas, by Miss Dora Fricke. Mrs. J. S. Livingston, in charge of the nation wide campaign in the church in this city, gave a few remarks on the progress of the campaign and urged the members to a devout and heartfelt prayer service for the success of the movement that is hoped to lead those outside of the church into the active life of the church.

The second portion of the program consisted of a series of tableaux under the direction of Miss Nettie Hawksworth, illustrating the difference between the children of these savage people of the plains before and after they had been educated by the missionaries of the church and become Christians. Most wonderful indeed is the work which has been accomplished among this race of people—the American Indian. The series of tableaux given by the little folks of the church reflects the greatest credit upon the ladies having the program and training of the children in charge, as well as upon the little ladies and gentlemen taking part and their clever and winsome enacting of the different roles added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

The spacious dining room of the Dovey home had been arranged as a stage and here under the glow of the crimson tinted lights the young people impersonated the Indians in the periods of savagery and civilization. As a prelude to the tableaux, Miss Barbara Gering read the story of the "Christmas Barrel," and at the conclusion the folding doors were drawn aside disclosing the little feathered warriors and squaws gathered around the "Christmas Barrel" given by the mission to the children and their glee at receiving the gifts made a striking picture of the simple children of the plains at the time of the advent of the church mission into their lives.

The second picture was that of the Indian children, educated and civilized by the church missionaries and garbed in the costume of the white man. The children taking part in the program were Ruth Smith, Helen and Edith Ledgway, Jennie and Lorene Windham, Jane and Marian Fricke, Helen Clement, Ida Egenberger, Edward and Herbert Patterson, May Egenberger, Dorothy Peters and Violet Begley.

At the close of the afternoon the hostess served very dainty and delicious refreshments which brought to a close a most delightful afternoon filled with pleasure and instruction.

MEMORIAL TO COL. ROOSEVELT FUND

CASS COUNTY ADMIRERS OF THE GREAT AMERICAN HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO AID.

PUBLIC TESTIMONIAL TO MAN

Who Stood Four-Square for Advancement of Everything American Even to the End.

The proposed memorial fund that is being raised throughout the United States for the purpose of erecting a monument for the late ex-President Theodore Roosevelt in Washington, as well as securing the Roosevelt home at Oyster Bay, N. Y., is to be raised by small contributions from the people of the United States in preference to other means of securing the needed funds. Wealthy friends of the late president in the east have offered to contribute sums greater than the cost of the suggested memorial, but the committee in charge has waived them aside in favor of the idea of making it a great public testimonial to the life of Colonel Roosevelt.

However much a person might have disagreed upon the domestic questions of the nation as viewed by Colonel Roosevelt, there is no one who would withhold from him the title given by the nation, "Theodore Roosevelt, American." His stand for all things American, even in the face of the greatest opposition has won for him the undying honor of the nation and its people. Serving his country in the field as a soldier, or in the position of the highest honor that can be given to an American citizen, Theodore Roosevelt was always alert to see that the best interests of the nation were served.

With the dawn of the great war, Colonel Roosevelt made his position known to all and remained unflinchingly in the front ranks of the defenders of his country. Unable to be of personal service in the active part of the warfare, he gave to his country four sons, one of whom died across the sea while two of them were wounded in fighting for the cause.

The proposed memorial is to stand as the public expression of the love of a grateful people to their fallen leader and for this purpose the funds are asked from the great mass of the American citizenship with which Colonel Roosevelt loved best to stand.

For the campaign in Cass county, Clerk of the District Court James M. Robertson has been selected as the official head and he in turn has designated the representatives in the different precincts to carry forward the work of giving the people an opportunity of contributing to the cause.

SUFFERS A BADLY FRACTURED ARM

Robert Hunter Lost Hold and Fell with Arm Across Rails—Run Over by "Jitney Motor."

From Friday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon Robert Hunter, employed in the Burlington store department, met with a very serious accident in the yards near the Burlington depot. Robert was engaged in delivering some supplies for shipment to the depot and a "jitney motor" was being used to transport the load of supplies and as Mr. Hunter attempted to get on the car he lost his handhold and fell, with his left arm striking across the rail and before the rubble car could be stopped it had passed over the arm of the young man, fracturing the bones at the elbow joint.

He at once came up toward to seek medical aid and reached the Westcott store when he became so weakened with the pain and shock of the accident that he was unable to proceed further and it was necessary to summon a car to take him to the office of Drs. Livingston, where the injured arm was set and the patient made as comfortable as possible.

MURDOCK MAN TOOK OWN LIFE LAST WEEK

Body Discovered Sunday when His Absence About Town Was Noted—Buried Monday

On last Sunday it was discovered that Carl Eisenhut, a resident of Murdock, had taken his life. It seems that he had been missed around the town and parties went to his home, where he lived alone. Upon entering a most gruesome scene met their sight. The deceased was lying on the floor with the entire top of his head blown off and a shot gun lay close by. Every evidence went to show that he had taken his own life.

It was the opinion that he had placed the end of the shot gun in his mouth and then pulled the trigger with the above results. Witnesses who saw the scene of the suicide say that it was a most horrible affair. As they relate it, it would seem as though he had sat down on the edge of the bed, placed the end of the muzzle of the shot gun in his mouth and then reached over and pulled the trigger.

The explosion was sufficient to blow the entire top of his head off and bits of it were scattered on the ceiling and walls. When discovered the body had fallen forward and the gun backward with the muzzle resting on the edge of the bed.

The remains were buried on Monday at the Evangelical church near Louisville.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

RECOVERING FROM ACCIDENT OF WEEK AGO

MRS. KLIMM AND GUEST, MRS. BECKER ARE FEELING MUCH BETTER.

CAME IN IN A BUGGY TODAY

Their Car Still Being on the Retired List—Accident Occurred Near Murray Last Week.

From Thursday's Daily. This morning Mrs. Jennie Klimm residing south of the city, came in with her guest, Mrs. Margaret Becker, of Plainview, Nebraska, to receive medical attention for their injuries sustained a week ago in an automobile accident on the road south of Plattsmouth.

The ladies made the trip this morning behind a faithful old horse, the car being still on the retired list as the result of the accident. At the time of the mix up Mrs. Klimm was driving the car and was going at a very reasonable rate of speed along the road east of Murray when the steering apparatus of the car became unmanageable and the car was turned toward the roadside and before it could be stopped it had climbed up a small embankment and overturned, breaking the windshield as well as one of the front wheels and tearing the top of the car badly as well as damaging the body.

The ladies were badly bruised by being pinned under the car and Mrs. Becker sustained quite severe lacerations on the body, one of which required sixteen stitches to close. Securing aid from a passer by, they were able to come on into the city, where their injuries were dressed, and they are now feeling fine although still a little sore over the accident. Mrs. Becker was visiting at Lincoln during the state fair, going from there to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, Colorado for an outing and on her return stopped for a short visit at the Klimm home. She will return shortly to Plainview.

THE DRINK THAT PROVED COSTLY

William March, of Murray, Fined $25 for Being Drunk—Case Delayed by the State.

From Thursday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon William H. March, of Murray, was in the city to complete the last chapter of a sad, sad story, dealing with the brief experience of Mr. March in the joys of the flowing bowl, once so familiar in the good state of Nebraska, before the drouth of 1917.

The offence of Mr. March was committed on September 25th, but the hearing of his case was delayed, owing to the fact that several of the "dicks" from the state capital were sent in to detect the source of the supply that had furnished Mr. March with the ingredients of his jag.

The state agents, who were acting under the instructions of Gus Hyers, spent some little time in the vicinity of Murray and so far have not divulged the extent of their information as to the location of the one wet spot.

The defendant in this case was arraigned before Police Judge M. Archer on the charge of being drunk and confessing the fact that it was true he was handed a package of $25 and costs, which was paid, and peace and quietude once more settled on the police court.

EASTERN STAR KENSINGTON CLUB MET

Pleasant Session Wednesday Afternoon at Parlors in Masonic Temple—Good Time.

From Friday's Daily. The ladies of the Eastern Star Kensington club enjoyed a very pleasant meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the parlors in the Masonic temple, at which a large number of the club membership were present.

The hostesses of the occasion were Mesdames John Wehrbein, William Wehrbein, Alice Cowles and C. R. Frans, and these ladies entertained most delightfully the members in their usual accomplished manner. Each lady had brought with them a jar of fruit and glass of jelly, which will be donated to the Eastern Star orphanage and be enjoyed by the little folks making their home there. During the afternoon the ladies spent the time in sewing and preparing articles of clothing for the children of the orphanage.

The ladies of the Kensington club have a very pleasing custom of preparing a gift that is drawn by one of the club members at each meeting and on this occasion the gift was a beautiful flower basket presented by Mrs. William Baird, and which was drawn by Mrs. Will Wehrbein. The afternoon passed all too rapidly and it was with regret that the ladies departed homeward feeling that it certainly had been a rare pleasure to have been present.

A REAL CRIMPY FALL MORNING

The early risers this morning experienced a touch of what is to come a few weeks hence, as they awoke and discovered that during the night the mercury had taken a tumble and that it was a morning that made the most useful piece of furniture around the house. From the northwestern group of states comes tales of snow and austere winter weather and it is with great regret we bid adieu to the joys of summer time and prepare for a wrestle with the furnace and base burner for the coming six months.

But at that winter is not so worse as it brings with it turkey, cranberries, mince pie, 'nd everything.
