IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

From Saturday's Daily.
This morning Mrs. William Gilmore departed for Superior, Nebraska, in response to a message announcing the fact of the dangerous illness of her brother, Abram Townner at his home near that place. Mr. Townner is one of the pioneer residents of the state, having come to Cass county in the territorial days and has since made his home in Nebraska. For many years he was a resident of this county, later moving west to Superior, where he settled on a farm and has since made his home there. Mr. Townner is well known to the older residents here who will learn with regret of his critical illness which at his advanced age makes recovery almost impossible.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT OF CASS CO.

ADDISON C. BEACH ANSWERS CALL OF GRIM REAPER AT AGE OF ALMOST 85.

DROVE OVERLAND FROM OHIO

To Weeping Water in 1868—Homestead Sold in 1890 at $50 an Acre—Funeral Saturday

From Saturday's Daily.
The death of Addison C. Beach, which occurred last Thursday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Oscar Kink, near Murdock, removes from our midst another pioneer resident who settled here over half a century ago.

The funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at the E. Ratnour home and were conducted by the Rev. W. F. Haskins pastor of the M. E. church. The remains were laid to rest in the family lot in Oakwood cemetery beside the wife and son who preceded him to the Great Beyond some years ago.

Mr. Beach leaves to mourn his loss one son and two daughters, and the grandchildren and a host of friends in the community where he lived for fifty-three years.

"Ad" Beach, as he was so familiarly known, was born in Ashtabula county, Ohio October 21, 1834 and died October 2, 1919, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Oscar Kink, at the age of 84 years, 11 months and 11 days.

He left Ohio in the spring of 1863 and drove overland direct to Weeping Water, where he lived for a year and then homesteaded 160 acres about seven miles northwest of town where the family lived until 1890, when the homestead was sold for $50 per acre and the family moved back to Weeping Water again, where they lived until the death of Mrs. Beach in 1909, since which time he has made his home with the children.

He was a carpenter by trade and during the early days he assisted a good many of the homesteaders to erect their fine homes, and being a very strong man continued his carpenter work for many years, in fact, he laid out the work and helped his son-in-law build a garage only a few years ago and was only confined to his bed for a few weeks.

He was jolly and full of fun which made him very popular among the early settlers and the territorial pioneers and this popularity continued during all the long years of his residence in the community.

Relatives who attended the funeral were the son, C. A. Beach, wife and son, Reckard and daughter, Miss Mabel, of Lincoln; the daughter, Mrs. Frank W. Miller, husband and daughter, Miss Madeline, of Omaha; and the daughter, Mrs. Oscar Kink, husband and son Carlton, of near Murdock, at whose home the father passed away.—Weeping Water Republican.

MRS. MARY BROWN SEVERELY INJURED

Former Plattsmouth Lady Residing at Griswold, Ia., Suffers Auto Accident in Omaha

From Thursday's Daily.
This morning, Miss Anna Hall departed for Omaha, where she was called by the serious condition of her sister, Mrs. Mary Hall Brown, of Griswold, Iowa, who is at the Ford hospital in Omaha suffering from the effects of the very severe injuries received Tuesday evening as she was alighting from a street car at Seventeenth and Missouri avenue, South side.

From the particulars learned of the accident, it seems that Mrs. Brown was just alighting from the street car, when an automobile driven by E. A. Carlston, 5220 South 20th street, came along and struck her, knocking her down. She suffered lacerations of both ears and about the face and head and also bruises of the limbs.

The injured woman was given first aid treatment in the office of Dr. Alexander Young and later taken to the Ford hospital, where she is now in a very critical condition as the wounds on her head are very severe and both ears are almost severed from the head. Mr. Carlston, the driver of the automobile, has been charged with speeding and released on a $100 bond pending the hearing of the case.

Mix on Tony gallops beside a racing express train, swings his lasso over a ventilator on top of the car, swerves Tony to dangerous nearness, springs from the saddle against the side of the train and climbs the rope to the top. This scene is remarkably clear and close and shows in detail this extra-hazardous feat. See it at the Gem Wednesday, Oct. 15th.
