BACKS TO THE WALL AND FIGHTING THEIR BEST

DETERMINED STAND IS MADE BY THE RUSSIAN REDS.

Outflanked at Tsarskoye-Selo. But Putting Up a Battle—Entire Staff of Trotsky Reported Captured.

Stockholm, Oct. 25.—The bolshevik forces are making a strong stand at Tsarskoye-Selo, which, according to advices received here, the "white" troops outflanked. The entire staff of Leon Trotsky, bolshevik minister of war and marine of Russia, has been captured at Tsarskoye-Selo, according to a Reval dispatch to the National Tidende. Trotsky himself escaped by clinging to a railroad car and later fleeing from the scene in an automobile. Troops of the Northwestern Russian army pursued the minister and fired upon his car but Trotsky succeeded in reaching Petrograd. The left flank of General Yudenitch's army is reported to be under fire from the bolshevik dreadnaught Poltava, which is lying in the Neva river, inside of the limits of Petrograd, and shooting over the housetops.

Heavy Fighting Going On.

London, Oct. 25.—Heavy fighting is going on along General Denikine's entire front. The fighting extends for 700 miles from Tsafitzyn to Kiev. The chief of the British military mission with General Denikine reports under yesterday's date that the battle so far is going successfully for the anti-bolshevik forces.

A wireless message from Moscow announces that the bolsheviks have captured Elizabepol, killing a large number of Finns. Official denial is made, in the same message, that bolshevik warships were sunk in a recent engagement in the Gulf of Finland, although admitting that two armored ships were damaged.

Leon Trotsky, the bolshevik minister of war of Russia, in describing the soviet counter offensive and capture of Pavlovsk, south of Petrograd and the repulse of anti-bolshevik forces in the Pskov sector, says: "The danger hanging over Petrograd has been driven back, but not yet definitely removed," according to a wireless dispatch received here from Moscow.

The northern Russian government in a communique issued today, claims the repulse of a bolshevik attempt to capture Povientez, on Lake Onega, with great losses, including a bolshevik vessel. The bolsheviks were driven thirty-three miles from the town of Onega and several villages were captured.

Savage Attack Begun.

London, Oct. 25.—Rallying under the command of Leon Trotsky, bolshevik minister of war and marine, troops of the Russian soviet government have savagely attacked the lines of the Russia northwestern army and have succeeded in parrying, for the moment at least, the thrust of the latter against Petrograd, according to reports reaching this city. Tsarskoye-Selo and Pavlovsk, south of Petrograd, have been recaptured from the forces of General Yudenitch, it is claimed, and the advance of the bolsheviks continues. South of Moscow, where General Denikine's advance has menaced to a certain degree the bolsheviks on the ancient city of the Czars, fighting is going on but nothing as to the results obtained has been learned. Reports indicate, however, consideration by the soviet leaders of a plan to withdraw all bolshevik troops into Turkestan and to abandon Moscow. Serbian forces are on their way to Odessa to assist General Denikine in his campaign.

Tobolsk, western Siberia, is said to have been captured from the Kolchak army by the bolsheviks. This report, if confirmed, would indicate an advance of the soviet in that sector, as last reports showed them quite a distance to the westward of Tobolsk.

Has Made No Apology.

Vladivostok, Oct. 18.—General Rozanoff, the Armenian commander in the far east, has not apologized for the arrest and flogging of an American soldier at Iman, September 4, according to the American army authorities here. The American command declares it knows nothing of the apology, which according to press reports from the United States, Ambassador Bakhmeteff in Washington said that General Rozanoff has submitted to Major General Graves, commanding the American forces in Siberia for the Iman incident involving the arrest by Cossacks of an American officer and enlisted man and the flogging of the latter.

AUTO DISAPPEARS AT ELMWOOD TUESDAY

BUICK TOURING CAR BELONGING TO JOHN BICKERT WAS "BORROWED."

CAUSED MUCH APPREHENSION

Its Disappearance from Street Being Connected with Julian Bank Robbery—Returned.

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon Sheriff C. D. Quinton was notified that a Buick touring car belonging to John Bickert had been stolen from the streets of Elmwood during the absence of the owner. The sheriff at once started preparations to notify the officials of the surrounding counties of the fact that the car had been returned.

The car, it is claimed, was taken by a young man named Brinton, who had been using it for something like two hours and then returned the machine to the place from which it had been taken.

The parties interested in the case were notified by the sheriff to come in and lay the matter before the county attorney in order that it can be straightened out and the facts ascertained.

The disappearance of the car occurring at the same time as the robbery of the Bank of Julian, in Nemaha county, led to the conclusion that the parties stealing the car had driven to Julian where the robbery of the bank occurred and the Nemaha officials were hot on the trail to locate the car, but the fact that the machine has been returned does away with the supposition that it was used in the Julian robbery, as the young man was only absent with the machine a little over two hours.

Mrs. D. C. Morgan and daughter, Miss Gertrude departed this morning for Omaha to visit there for the day with friends and relatives.

Mrs. A. L. Tidd was among those going to Omaha this morning to visit for a few hours in that city looking after some business matters.

THE STORY

In a little Canadian village lives Nanette, the ward of Father Michael. She is engaged to John, son of the Widow Patricia. John is one of four other brothers, all of whom adore the little girl.

John returns from college, picking up on the way a traveling companion, Oscar Strang. John and Nanette are overjoyed to be reunited, but their happiness is clouded by Strang, who is attracted to Nanette and makes love to her. Nanette, however, remains true to John and repulses the attentions of Strang.

Then comes the war. News of the opening of hostilities comes on the wedding day of John and Nanette. John and four other sons enlist for service with the Canadian forces. One after another all but John are killed and misery comes into the home of the Widow Patricia. Then Nanette's child comes to soften the grief of the mother and the anxiety of the wife. Finally, the fifth son of the widow enlists.

John's letters home tell of the intense sufferings endured by the French and Belgian children in the war and Nanette finally determines to go to their aid. She enlists in the Red Cross and is assigned to duty in a convent in France. She sees her husband, now an aviator, but soon afterward he is brought down inside the German lines and is made a prisoner.

In the meantime, Oscar Strang becomes an officer in the German army. In the advance on Paris the Germans take the convent in which Nanette is on duty and Strang meets Nanette again. He attacks her and a terrific fight develops. She finally succeeds in escaping to another room and bars the door.

Meanwhile John escapes from the German war prison and, in the uniform of a German soldier, whom he has killed, starts for the convent. Nanette, safe for the time being behind a barred door stands in horror as Strang pounds on the door outside. She grasps a knife, determined to plunge it into her bosom if the door yields.

John, after killing two German guards, reaches the room in which Strang is struggling to open the door. There is a fight and he kills Strang. Then he forces open the door to find that his wife has stabbed herself. She does not die, however, and recovers after several weeks in a hospital.

Nanette is persuaded to go back home, which she does after John urges that their boy now needs her. There is a happy reunion in the little Canadian village between mother and child, but their joy becomes still greater when John, one day after peace is signed, walks back to the arms of his mother, wife and child.

WHO AM I?

The foot that pattered in primeval slime gave me birth, unchanged while the ages pass, I have endured. Time has but served to increase my infinite variety. Earthborn and without a soul, yet I live.

From the beginning, I have been man's enemy.

A dust-colored python and I, stretching my length across hills and awaiting my time to crush endeavor.

I have snared caravans and left bleaching bones in land now desert.

Empires have fallen because of me.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

I have turned victories into routes.
I have trapped mighty leaders and have crushed enemies.
I am without faith, and those who trust me, I deceive.
Today I am fair to look upon; tomorrow a steaming bog.
I add difficulty to distance.
With isolation do I conspire to unjoin the endeavors of man.
I tug at the wheels of the gristing cart, and bread may be dear.
I hamper those who would feed the race.
I am an enemy of church and school.
I misra the healer on his rounds.
I am a disrupter of the home.
I speed the first horn to the chimes when I am fair to see; and when he would return I face him with my forbidden depths.
