ALBERT LAYS FLOWERS ON ROOSEVELT'S GRAVE

New York, Oct. 26.—King Albert of the Belgians placed a wreath today upon the grave of Theodore Roosevelt. There were few to see the simple ceremony, for the skies were leaden and his majesty passed through Long Island almost unrecognized.

The king and the little party who accompanied him were met at the gates of Young's Memorial cemetery in Oyster Bay by Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt who escorted the Belgian monarch to the plot where lies the former president. Albert strode up the slope carrying on his right arm a huge wreath in the colors of his country—yellow and dark red asters, tied with a black ribbon. The king and the eldest son of the great American went alone inside the iron gate which bars the way against intruders.

The monarch stooped and laid the flowers reverently upon the grave. Then he stood for a few moments, cap in hand gazing at the simple granite slab which bears the name of Theodore Roosevelt, bowed deeply and stepped backward outside the fence. There were tears in the eyes of the younger man as he followed.

The little procession then motorized to Sagamore Hill, where Albert was welcomed by the widow of Col. Roosevelt, who chatted with him in his own tongue.

The king and his suite will go on board the royal special train about 11 a. m. tomorrow to begin the trip to Washington.

J. P. Falter, the real estate man, departed this morning on the early Burlington train for Fort Calhoun, Nebraska, where he was called on some business matters.

E. H. Wescott departed this morning for Lincoln where he will spend a few hours in that city looking after some matters of business.

HOUSE OVERRIDES WILSON ON DRY ACT

LEADERS IN SENATE CLAIM VOTES ENOUGH TO FOLLOW SUIT.

THE FINAL STROKE TO LIQUOR

Prohibits Started by Message Which They at Once Override.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—President Wilson unexpectedly vetoed the prohibition enforcement bill today and within three hours the house had repassed it over his veto by a vote of 176 to 55. The total vote was barely more than a majority of the entire membership.

Dry leaders in the senate immediately began laying plans to repass the bill there. They expect to ask unanimous consent for its consideration tomorrow, claiming enough votes to put it through. They expect to act on it by Wednesday at the latest.

The president refused to sign the bill because it included the enforcement of wartime prohibition.

The objects of wartime prohibition, the president said in his veto, had been satisfied and "sound public policy makes clear the reason and necessity for its repeal."

It would not be difficult, the president held, for congress to deal separately with the two issues.

Congress Started.

The veto hit congress like a crack of lightning. The house, getting on its feet again, deserted its leaders, who wanted to defer consideration until Thursday so as to round up all the dry members. But the dries swept into the chamber and showed there was an overwhelming sentiment among them to give the government ample weapons for dealing with the liquor traffic, now outlawed throughout the land.

Nobody had really professed to know that the president would veto the bill. Republicans and democrats alike—and the countless multitude that had sorrowfully watched the passing of the bars—thought it would become a law without his signature. Attorney General Palmer, it was said, had declared it constitutional.

But the president, propped up in bed, dictated and then signed a veto message and sent it along to congress without worrying, apparently, about what congress might do.

Senate to Follow Suit.

With repassage of the law by the house and the prospect of the same thing happening in the senate, hope of the big "wet spell" that would run over the Christmas season vanished into thin air.

Prohibition leaders predicted tonight that the refusal of the house to accept the president's veto meant that the sale of liquor would not be permitted again in the life of this and many other generations.

One hope remains for the talked of "wet spell" before prohibition becomes effective before constitutional amendment in January.

It is that the German peace treaty may be ratified and that the president may declare peace and demobilization of the army and navy. Some legal experts contend that would automatically annul the wartime prohibition law.

Treaties and Bans.

But there is a legal question involved whether the ratification of the treaty with Germany alone will accomplish that end. The wartime prohibition act was passed at a time when the United States was at war with both Germany and Austria-Hungary. Hostilities, however, actually had ceased. Some law officers here are inclined to believe that it may not be ended until both treaties are ratified.

On the other hand friends of the administration who profess to know its plans say they expect to see the wartime prohibition ban lifted by presidential proclamation as soon as the German treaty is ratified.

Word that the enforcement act had failed to meet presidential approval was flashed from the White house a few minutes before 4:00 o'clock, an hour or more before it was officially laid before the house. Instantly wet and dry forces were summoning their respective cohorts, prepared for any break. But there was no thought in the minds of the leaders that immediate action was contemplated.

The merchant who doesn't advertise only when business is good will eventually quit it entirely.

FORMALLY DEMAND RELEASE.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Acting on instructions from the state department, the American embassy at Mexico City has demanded of the Mexican government that it effect the release of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, who is held by bandits for $150,000 ransom. The American government insisted that if necessary the ransom be paid by Mexico. Coincident with this announcement today, Senator Myers, democrat, Montana, introduced a resolution calling upon President Wilson to use the armed forces of the United States if necessary to bring about the release of Jenkins and to punish his captors. Action on the resolution was deferred until Monday on objection by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, to its immediate consideration.

Nothing definite concerning Jenkins reached the state department today. President Carranza has ordered the authorities at Mexico City to make every effort to bring about his release and the Mexican foreign office has assured the American embassy that energetic action is being taken.

Reports reached the state department today that an oil camp at Tanguiko had been robbed recently by 250 soldiers in Carranza uniforms. The men were said to have been led by the colonel of a regiment of Mexican federal soldiers.

CATTLE THEFT CHARGED.

Scottsbluff, Neb., Oct. 23.—Lon L. Guy, alias Guy E. Moore, alias C. Willard, who on the 25th of last August is alleged to have stolen sixty head of cattle from George Wine-ter of McGrew, Neb., has been apprehended at Los Angeles, Cal. Guy it is charged, boarded a stock train from Melbeta, Scottsbluff county, on the night of August 23 and accompanied a shipment of cattle consigned to the Allen Dudley company by Mr. Wineteer. Upon arrival of the shipment at the South Omaha stock yards it is alleged he claimed ownership, forged the bill of lading and received payment for the stock.

When Mr. Wineteer discovered his loss he, through the First National bank of this city, at once stopped payment on such of the drafts as had not been cashed and in this manner partially protected his loss.

The chase for the man has since been kept up by the Pinkerton and Burns detective agencies and by means of pictures obtained from the Wyoming prison authorities at Rawlins he was located and arrested at Los Angeles this week. Sheriff Frank Koenig left for Los Angeles last night and will return with him to Scottsbluff for trial.

WALES GOING TO WASHINGTON.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 26.—The Prince of Wales will arrive in Washington on November 11 for a three day visit. It was announced from aboard the royal train tonight. From there he will go to New York to embark on the H. M. S. Renown, remaining in the American metropolis for a few days living aboard his ship while there.

DRY BILL TO THE PRESIDENT.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The prohibition enforcement bill and Attorney General Palmer's opinion as to the measure's constitutionality it was said tonight at the white house had not been placed before the president. The statement immediately led to renewed speculation as to whether Mr. Wilson would act on it or permit it to become a law Tuesday midnight without his signature.

HUNGARY MAY HELP AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Oct. 25.—Newspapers state that Hungary is willing to assist Austria in its present food and economic crisis with supplies of foodstuffs and raw materials. Hungary, requires in return, however, as its price, it is stated the extradition of Bela Kun and his associates in the late communist government of Hungary, who took refuge in Austrian territory.

An Agreeable Surprise.

"About three years ago when I was suffering from a severe cold on my lungs and coughed most of the time night and day, I tried a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was surprised at the promptness with which it gave me relief," writes Mrs. James Brown, Clark Mills, N. Y. Many another has been surprised and pleased with the prompt relief afforded by this remedy.

CHAS. W. DAVIES

FRANCE WILL ELECT A NEW PRESIDENT

SUCCESSOR TO POINCARE TO BE CHOSEN IN THE MONTH OF JANUARY.

CLEMENCEAU HOLDS THE LEAD

Quite a List of Possibilities, With Clemenceau Probably in the Lead if He Cares to Accept It.

Paris, Oct. 2.—After the voters of France have elected the 600 deputies of the new chamber and the municipal and general councils have together elected 200 senators to succeed those whose terms have expired, the 600 deputies and 300 senators composing the parliament will meet some time in January in the national assembly chamber of the chateau of Versailles to elect the tenth president of the third republic. The joint session of the chamber and the senate at Versailles is called the congress of Versailles.

There are no nominations for president in advance of the election of the members of parliament who are to act as electors, the latter being unbound to vote for any candidate. Accordingly there is no presidential issue in the general election and there is no presidential campaign excepting during the few days that precede the meeting of the congress of Versailles.

Names of the Possibilities.

The names of presidential possibilities mentioned thus far are, in the order of their supposed chances: Premier Georges Clemenceau, Senator Charles Jonnart, ex-governor of Algeria, Senator Stephen Pichon, minister of foreign affairs, Senator Jules Pams, minister of the interior, Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber of deputies, Senator Alexander Ribot, Deputy Rene Viviani, Deputy Paul Painleve, Antonin Dubost, president of the senate, Marshal Foch.

Many politicians believe that Clemenceau can have the honor by simply allowing his name to go before the congress. It is still unknown whether he wants it. There are indications that he would prefer to retire on his laurels as the "winner of the war." According to gossip in the lobbies of the chamber he would be glad to have his administration approved by the choice of one of his associates in the cabinet and has two eventual candidates in view, Pichon and Pams.

Senator Jonnart has a popularity of his own. His name is being mentioned with significant persistence. He is senator from the department of the Pas de Calais, and he recently resigned his important post as governor of Algeria in order to devote himself to the reconstruction of the devastated area of his department which comprises Arras and Lens, with a considerable portion of the wrecked coal district. He was formerly head of the Suez canal, and he accomplished in short order the dethronement of King Constantine of Greece when it seemed hopeless.

There are many supporters of Marshal Foch, but prospect of the "man on horseback" is regarded as likely to affect his chance, even if he aspired to the office, which no one as yet knows.

DISTRESS SIGNALS SENT UP.

New York, Oct. 26.—Distress signals from the American wooden steamer Lewiston were received here tonight by wireless. The British steamer Justin notified the Lewiston that she was hurrying to her assistance. The position of the Lewiston, bound from Rotterdam for Baltimore, was given as latitude 37.29 north and longitude 73.32 west, about 150 miles east of Newport News.

The distress signals came about forty-five minutes after a call for assistance, which declared that the Lewiston was in need of a tow to continue her journey. The Lewiston, which has a net tonnage of 1,528 tons is owned by the United States shipping board and operated by the Terminal Shipping company in trade with the Netherlands.

ROOSEVELT ESTATE MODEST

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt left an estate valued at $810,607, according to affidavits filed here today with Transfer Tax Appraiser Gehrig by executors of the will. After approximately $34,000 has been deducted for funeral expenses, counsel fees and debts, the entire estate will go to the widow of the former president in trust, to be distributed among their children in any proportion she may determine.

Sagamore Hill, the Roosevelt estate at Oyster Bay, where the colonel died last January, is appraised at $180,500. The estate also includes corporate bonds valued at approximately $394,000.00, the largest of which is $30,000 worth of first liberty loan bonds.

Royalties to be derived from publication of the colonel's books were estimated at $7,000, while a value of $21,537 was placed on his libraries. One of the smallest items is one of $285 which represents the value of jewelry owned by the former president.

Included in the list of appraisals are gifts from various foreign dignitaries, trophies of the colonel's hunting expeditions and various paintings, including one given him by the late Pope Leo XIII.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. This alone is enough to convince one that it is a medicine of more than ordinary merit. Give it a trial and you will find this to be the case.
