

OPENING OF THE LYCEUM COURSE HERE

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM FILLED TO CAPACITY LAST EVENING.

ENTERTAINMENT IS ASSURED

As Sufficient Subscriptions Secured to Pay for Entire Course—Glee Club to Get Surplus.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The patrons of the lyceum course which has been offered this season under the auspices of the Commercial club were treated to a very enjoyable evening at the high school on the occasion of the visit of the Davies opera company to the city as the opening number of the course. The auditorium was filled to its capacity and everyone felt that it had been well worth the price of the season tickets to enjoy the one number offered.

To many it was the first opportunity of visiting the new school building and the patrons were delighted with their impressions of the neat and attractive building that houses the students of the high school and the auditorium as a municipal meeting place found much favor. One of the reasons for locating the lyceum course numbers in the high school has been the desire of making the new school building a community center and it certainly will be a very pleasing place to hold these public gatherings.

But to return to the occasion of the opening number of the splendid series of entertainments which have been arranged for by the Commercial club. Mr. E. H. Wescott presiding the appearance of the concert company told of the desire that had been felt for a lyceum course in the city and the methods by which the necessary support had been secured by the Commercial club and he had the pleasure of announcing to the audience that sufficient season tickets had been sold to cover all expenses of the entire series of entertainments and that all that was remaining over would be devoted to the students of the high school.

Coming to this city with a well earned reputation as an organization of high class entertainers the members of the Davies opera company more than justified all the good things that have been said of their work, in their clever presentation of the comic operette, "Olivette" and the entire company of eight persons demonstrated that they were artists of the highest standard of operatic music. Mr. Harry Davies, heading the cast furnished some pleasing comedy to the course of the tuneful little opera and won the hearts of his audience in his droll and clever mannerisms. The wonderful sweet voice of Mr. Harry Smith in the role of Valentine was a delight to the audience and his numbers were warmly received by the audience.

The clever little opera furnished the opportunity for many catchy and tuneful melodies and the delightful manner in which they were given by the company pleased the entire audience. As the "Countess" Miss Cora Alt was delightful with her charming voice and "pleasing stage presence and was ably supported by Miss Thelma Hayman as "Olivette". Mr. Davies appeared in the dual roles of "Captain De Merimac" and "Coquelicot" and his musical numbers as well as sharp and clever witticisms made a great impression with the audience. The company has as their accompanist, Miss Viola Livingston, a very able pianist whose assistance aided materially in the production of the pleasing little opera.

The next number of the series of entertainments will be the Fighting Americans, a quartet that is composed of former overseas men and who will present an enjoyable musical program full of pep and dash. This company will appear on Tuesday, November 25th.

DENIES THE ALLEGATION.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Tom Heinrich, son of Mrs. Mary Heinrich of this city, is enjoying a short visit with home folks coming down from Havelock for that purpose. Tom found on his arrival that he had received two rather misplaced titles due to an error of the Journal which had given him the position of a husband as well as a father and this Tom decidedly denies. Our informant on Saturday stated Mr. Heinrich had come down from Havelock accompanied by his wife and babe and the statement was not doubted as a great many of the young people have acquired families since the time over two years ago when the reporter left the city for the army and nothing more was thought of it until the young man in the case informed us that he was still free and guiltless of either wife or babe and we cheerfully correct the misstatement.

WETS PREPARE TO FIGHT FOR RIGHT TO SELL LIQUOR

Attorneys Seek Injunction Against Revenue Collector So as to Remove Stock in Warehouses.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 27.—Attorneys for national liquor interests were in Louisville today for the second step in a contest inaugurated October 10 in federal court here to test constitutionality of wartime prohibition law and eventually obtain the release for sale of 70,000,000 gallons of whisky in bond, valued at approximately $75,000,000.

The skirmish today contemplated arguments on a motion for an injunction against Elwood Hamilton, collector of internal revenue for Kentucky, which would restrain him from interfering with removal of the whisky in Kentucky warehouses.

The suit questions the power of congress to prohibit the sale of distilled spirits, manufactured long before the United States entered the war, based largely upon the fifth amendment to the constitution, which prohibits confiscation of private property without compensation.

THE SERVICE CHEVRON.

From Wednesday's Daily.

While in our wanderings over the city today we saw a rather unique sight and one too that brought regret, and it was that of one of the peaceful citizens passing by attired in an overcoat once belonging to one of the soldiers of the nation and glittering on the left sleeve of the garment the gold chevron that has been granted to the members of the army putting in service overseas. How or where the garment came into the possession of the gentleman is a matter for his own consideration, but the display of a distinguishing mark given for active service as a member of the A. E. F. is to say the least in very bad taste and while it was probably through neglect on the part of the wearer to remove the mark, it served to call the attention of men who had served from one to three years to deserve this recognition and as this gentleman had not even thought of being in the army it would be well for him to remove the chevron before appearing on the streets. The war department has made their position clear on the wearing of the uniform both by former service men and other classes of civilians.

Last evening at 9:30 at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha occurred the death of Mrs. David Sampson, for many years a resident of this city, and who has just recently been operated on for a severe case of gall stones. Mrs. Sampson whose home is at Portland, Oregon, has been in the city visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Beins, a few miles south of Plattsmouth, and while there was taken very sick and her case discovered to be a severe attack of gall stones. It was found necessary to send Mrs. Sampson to the hospital in Omaha and to perform an operation from which the patient failed to rally and gradually grew worse until death came to her relief.

The departed lady was fifty-nine years of age at the time of her death and was for many years a resident of this county, living south of the city on the farm and from where the family removed some three years ago to Portland, Oregon, where they have since made their home. She came in July from the coast to enjoy a visit with her daughter and her son, Arthur, who has been in service in France, and who returned a few months ago, and has since been enjoying the visit in the old home.

To mourn the death of this good woman there remains three sons and three daughters as well as the husband, who will miss the loving care and attention that the wife and mother has lavished upon those she loved and to these sad hearts bereaved by their great loss the deepest sympathy of the many friends will go out. The children are as follows: Mrs. E. W. Beins, Plattsmouth; Mrs. C. A. Middleton, Royal, Nebraska; Mrs. Walter Holcomb, O'Neill, Nebraska; Perry Sampson, Portland, Oregon; James Sampson, Waterloo, Iowa, and Arthur Sampson, Plattsmouth.

DEPARTS FOR ASHLAND.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The Davies opera company which opened the lyceum course in this city last evening departed this afternoon for Ashland where they will appear this evening. The company was well pleased with their treatment while here and loud in their praise of the facilities at the high school for their performance. Mr. Davies states that the city has a neat and very handsome building and to have shown in it was a pleasure. The facilities for dressing rooms was one feature appreciated by the company as at a number of the small towns where they have appeared they have been compelled to get along the best they could for space to make the changes in their wardrobes and at very great inconvenience.

DISTRIBUTING ELECTION SUPPLIES OVER COUNTY

County Clerk George R. Sayles is spending the day out in the county distributing the election supplies and ballots to the different voting places over the county. The trip was made in an auto truck, as the large amount of the supplies made the use of an automobile impossible and the clerk will certainly enjoy a rough ride over the rutty roads in the truck.
