PLEASANT HALLOWEEN PARTY HELD

Misses Mata and Bessie Engelkemier Entertain at Their Country Home.

From Friday's Daily.

Last Saturday evening about forty young people gathered at the home of Misses Mata and Bessie Engelkemier to participate in a most enjoyable event.

The house and front yard were artistically decorated to suit the occasion. Upon arriving the guests were faced by an entanglement of ropes stretched across the yard thru which they were forced to step their way to the house.

Numerous games were played, such as fortune telling, and others suitable to the occasion which caused much laughter and excitement.

One of the best of these was "Climbing the Rocky mountains to see the doors." The guests were led out the front door through another entanglement of ropes to the outside cellar way, stumbling down the dark steps, through the cellar, where they were met by mysterious ghosts, and numerous boxes to climb over, and up the inside cellar-way to the kitchen and through numerous dark rooms and up the stairway, which was also visited by ghosts, then to a lighted room in which two dolls were seated on a chair, forming the part of the "dears."

At a suitable hour a pleasing luncheon was served by Misses Mata and Bessie, which all enjoyed to the utmost.

After luncheon a cake cut into forty pieces was passed to each guest, in which was placed a ring to signify the finder to be the first one of the crowd to be married. The lucky person proved to be Walter Meisinger.

Very clever games were played until a late hour when the guests took their leave declaring their hostesses to be very clever and royal entertainers.

Those present to enjoy this delightful event were Misses Ina Meisinger; Clara Brown; Blanche Philpot, Laura, Lena and Alvina Engelkemier, Lena Meisinger, Adelia Tritsch, Gertrude Brown, Helen Morse, Lillian Spaulder, Esther Godwin, Fern Philpot, Mata Bessie, Helen and Clara Engelkemier, Messrs. Ruel Sack, Dana Morse, Otto and Elmer Meisinger, Donald and Dale Philpot, Sterling Amick, Ernest Engelkemier, Carl and Walter Meisinger, Fred, Walter and Herbert Engelkemier, Walter Anderson, Albert Snell, Ernest and Fred Kahler, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Heil, Mrs. Lee Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Engelkemier.

NEW MILL IS NEARING COMPLETION THIS WEEK

From Friday's Daily.

The new alfalfa feed mill at the corner of Third and Pearl streets is now rapidly nearing completion as the contractors, Peters & Parker, since being able to secure the material have hurried the work and now the building is being made ready for occupancy.

The new mill is a fine piece of work and with its handsome stucco exterior makes a fine appearance and a great advertisement for the city. As soon as the interior of the building is completed the machinery will be installed and our newest industry started on the way to success. The work on the building has occupied several months but was delayed to a great extent by the inability to secure material to carry out the work.

TO SELL MEMBERSHIPS IN RED CROSS

Local Chapter Will Maintain Booth in Postoffice Lobby to Enroll Members.

From Friday's Daily.

To those who have the desire to aid in the work of the Red Cross by the simple process of becoming a member of this great helpful organization, the opportunity is to be presented, as the local chapter of the Red Cross will have a booth in the lobby of the postoffice building opened today and tomorrow where the membership cards may be secured and at the small price of $1 each. This county is not called upon to make any additional contributions to the general fund being raised over the country as the funds on hand will permit the paying of the county's quota, but it is desired that the membership be increased and those who have been members renew their membership in the greatest of all charities. The sum asked is small and one that almost anyone can afford to give to help carry on the relief work of the Red Cross. This week marks the closing of the campaign for membership over the nation and in almost every community the response has been practically unanimous in favor of standing by the Red Cross in one of their greatest periods of necessity, as at the present time their relief department is carrying on a work almost as great as that which they performed during the period of the war.

ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF MOTHER

Mrs. J. R. Stine Hostess to a Very Pleasant Party in Honor of Mrs. C. P. Sydebotham.

From Thursday's Daily.

The cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stine on High school hill was the scene of a charming dinner party yesterday at which Mrs. C. P. Sydebotham, mother of Mrs. Stine, was the honor guest, it being the occasion of her sixty-fifth birthday.

In honor of this happy event, Mrs. Stine had invited a number of relatives and lady friends of Omaha to come to her home and spend the day assisting her mother in celebrating her birthday in the proper manner. The morning hours were whiled away in a pleasant social time and the guest of honor was showered with many pretty gifts which will be constant reminders of this enjoyable occasion and designated the love and esteem in which she is held by her circle of acquaintances. At the noon hour the hostess invited the guests to the dining room, where a tempting dinner was served. The birthday cake with the sixty-five candles, formed a pretty centerpiece. After doing ample justice to the many delicious viands provided by the hostess, the guests devoted the afternoon hours to various amusements which afforded them much pleasure.

About the hour of six the hostess served a delicious supper, which was likewise most thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated.

On their departure, the guests joined in wishing Mrs. Sydebotham many more happy birthdays and that they might have the privilege of assisting this grand good woman in celebrating each one of them. They also extended their warmest thanks to the hostess for the splendid entertainment afforded them and a wish that they might again have the privilege of sharing her kind hospitality in the near future.

The guests from Omaha returned to their homes in the metropolis on the evening Missouri Pacific train.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Rose Murphy, Lulu Lindberg, Fred Oliver and children, Dorothy, Margaret and Fred, John Trautchen and sons, Matthew and Thomas; John McHale, E. J. Myers, Birdie Rickard and son Robert; F. H. Leeder and children, Merle and Margery, all of Omaha; Mrs. J. A. Johnson and son, Frank, of Courtland, Neb.; Mr. C. P. Sydebotham and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sydebotham, of this city.

You owe it to your family to furnish them with a player piano. A. Hospe Co., of Omaha, recommend and sell the famous Gulbransen Player. Write or phone them for particulars. 6-41w

KENSINGTON CLUB ENJOYS MEETING

Ladies of Eastern Star Kensington Enjoy Pleasant Afternoon at the Masonic Temple

From Thursday's Daily.

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the Eastern Star Kensington club held this season occurred yesterday afternoon at the Masonic temple, being quite largely attended by the ladies of the organization.

One of the pleasant features of the afternoon was the presence of Mrs. T. J. Todd, of Kenney, grand chaplain of the grand lodge of the O. E. S., who told the ladies of the work of the different chapters of the order throughout the state.

The main portion of the afternoon was spent in the plying of the busy needle and in awarding the usual prize offered to a member of the company. Mrs. Clara Wehrlein was the holder of the lucky number and was presented with a handsome cut glass jelly dish.

At a suitable hour the hostesses, Mesdames R. W. Knorr, Guy MeMaken, F. P. Busch and A. L. Tidd, served a very delicious and dainty two-course luncheon that proved one of the crowning features of a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon.

It is related that after the enjoyment of the luncheon the husbands of the hostesses appeared upon the scene and made a finish of the many dainty and delicious dishes prepared for the occasion.

It was late in the afternoon when the members of the party departed homeward feeling that it had been a very happy event in the history of the club.

PLATTSMOUTH STEAM LAUNDRY MOVING

From Friday's Daily.

The Plattsmouth Steam Laundry which has for the past six years been occupying the building on Fourth street in the rear of the 2-housenumber building, is engaged in moving to the Gorder building on the north side of Main street where it will be located in the future. This building has been purchased by Mr. Harris of the laundry and now gives him ample space for the expansion of the plant if it becomes necessary. During the time necessary for the removal and setting up of the machinery in the new location the work of the customers will be handled from Omaha and there will be no cessation of the service to the local patrons. It is hoped that by the middle of next week the new building will be arranged and it will be possible to resume the service in the home plant.

SUFFERS FROM ACCIDENT.

From Friday's Daily.

Mrs. J. M. Young of this city has just received word of an accident that recently befell her son, Dr. Walter Palmer, of Blackwell, Oklahoma, and as result of which he has been suffering from a fractured collar bone. Dr. Palmer who has been practicing at Blackwell came to Kirksville, Missouri, to complete his work in surgery at the Still hospital in that city and on his arrival there was listed as a member of the football team of the school and in his first game suffered the breaking of his right collar bone and which has retired him from the football activities for the remainder of the season. Mrs. Palmer has just joined her husband at Kirksville and will remain there until he completes his special course which will be in June.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

From Thursday's Daily.

Yesterday afternoon Adam Fornoff one of the county's old residents, who for the past several weeks has been at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha was able to return to his home near Cedar Creek. Mr. Fornoff was in a very serious condition for several weeks prior to going to the hospital and it was only after a very severe operation that he was given relief and is now feeling improved, although still weak from the effects of the long sickness. Mr. Fornoff was accompanied from the hospital by his son, Adam E. Fornoff. The many friends of this splendid old gentleman will be pleased to learn of his recovery.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS ARE REPORTED DOING NICELY

From Thursday's Daily.

The Plattsmouth and Cass county patients in the Immanuel hospital in Omaha are reported as doing nicely at the present time and several of them will soon be able to return to their homes. Mrs. Frank J. Libergal, who was operated on there for appendicitis, is doing nicely and her progress is all that could possibly be asked for. John Palacek is also getting along in fine shape and is showing marked improvement, which will be pleasing news to the many friends of this estimable gentleman throughout the city.

ENTERTAIN AT WILES HOME.

From Thursday's Daily.

The Loyal Workers of the Christian church held a delightful social meeting yesterday afternoon. They were very pleasantly entertained at the pretty home of Mrs. Thomas Wiles in the west part of the city, with Mesdames C. E. Whittaker and Wiles as hostesses. There was a large number of the members and friends, who whiled away the hours very pleasantly in social conversation, interspersed with many other diversions, which made this afternoon's entertainment most enjoyable. During the course of the afternoon's entertainment the hostesses served a dainty luncheon. A little further time devoted to sociability and then about the hour of 5:30, the ladies wended their way homeward, having thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

RECEIVES PLEASANT SURPRISE

From Friday's Daily.

Mrs. Ben Hankinson of this city received a very pleasant surprise while in Omaha yesterday afternoon and one which was wholly unexpected. This was in meeting her brother, Mose Hurst, of Creston, Iowa, who happened to be in Omaha on some business and met his sister on the street. Mr. Hurst accompanied his sister back to her home in this city and will enjoy a short visit here. Mr. Hurst is well known to the Plattsmouth people, having been engaged in traveling into this city for a number of years past.
