VALUE GIVING CLOTHES

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR HERE.

From Wednesday's Daily.
This morning A. G. Wolfenbarger, the Lincoln attorney, was in the city for a few hours looking after some litigation in the district court and also taking the opportunity of looking over the city. Mr. Wolfenbarger is one of the best known men of the state and for the past 20 years has been very active in the political life of the state as one of the leaders in the prohibition movement and while at the time he espoused the cause it was apparently a hopeless matter he has lived to see the cause triumph. Mr. Wolfenbarger has had much experience in the newspaper game and has been in business both in David City and Lincoln, and from the days of hand composition had much of the tribulation that is the usual fate of the humble newspaper man. He is now engaged in the practice of law at Lincoln and is one of the leading attorneys of that portion of the state.

SECURES DIVORCE DECREE.

From Wednesday's Daily.
This morning a short session of the district court was held by Judge Begley and the matter of the suit of Mrs. Edna M. Marler vs. Earl Marler was brought to trial before the court. The testimony of the plaintiff was taken and the court after considering the matter handed down a decree granting the prayer of the petitioner for a decree of divorce. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney A. G. Cole while Judge M. Archer appeared for the defendant in the case.

SCHMADER IS HOME FOR A BRIEF VISIT

LOUISVILLE LAD WHO IS ARTIST WITH THE GLOVES BACK FROM PHILADELPHIA

STILL LOOKING MIGHTY GOOD

Scrappy Young Ex-Sailor Has the Youth and Punch to Make Good in the Ring.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Cass county's own pugilistic hope, Sailor Andy Schmader of Louisville is back home with the home folks for the holidays and appears in fine shape after his boxing tournament at Philadelphia where he mixed it with a number of the padded glove experts and came out to the good with the exception of the encounter with Bill Brennan, the heavyweight contender. Andy while in Quaker-town had a fast bout with Joe Ellison of that city who was groomed as one of the men likely to claim the championship belt from Jack Dempsey and in the second round of what was scheduled for a six-round battle Andy put Joe in dreamland with one of the navy jabs.

The Louisville man is anxious to meet any local or foreign boxer and try out a few rounds with anyone who thinks he has anything on the husky sailor boy. In connection with this it might be mentioned that a number of the boxing fans would like to see Andy and George Lampson of Walthill mix it up as both men are husky Nebraska lads and both contenders. Lampson is at present at Pender where he is being trained by Ed Brantner, formerly of this city, and Ed says he has the goods, which is a pretty straight tip that he is all that is claimed for him. Lampson is to battle Harry Williams of Omaha at Walthill on December 1 and the outcome of the match will be watched with interest as it is a return bout. Lampson having had the best of the previous meeting and the Omaha man is anxious to try and come back.

The Cass county friends believe that Andy has the best of either Lampson or Williams and a meeting between either of these would be well worth seeing and give the Cass county man a chance to show his real ability.

PHIL LAMBERT BADLY INJURED

Murray Man Falls from Car from Which He Was Unloading Ties Tuesday Morning.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Last Tuesday morning while Phillip Lambert, with others of the crew of section men, were engaged in unloading ties for the Missouri Pacific from a car near the Farmers' elevator, he fell from the top of a car, striking his right leg across a tie, with the result that he had the thigh bone of his leg broken midway between the hip and knee. He was also pitched on his shoulder, dislocating his right shoulder. He was immediately taken home and Drs. Brendel and Brendel were called. They were able to replace the dislocated shoulder, and gave first aid to the injured leg, but Mr. Lambert being fleshy, and the break a bad one, they thought to have the injured man taken to the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha, where an X-ray of the injury could be taken, in order to get the best of service in the reduction of the fracture.

He was accordingly taken to Omaha by Mrs. Ben Noell in a car, Dr. Brendel accompanying them. Mrs. Lambert also going on the evening train to render what assistance possible to alleviate the sufferings of her husband. The accident was caused by the tongs which are used for handling the ties slipping from their hold, and precipitating Mr. Lambert to the ground many feet below. It is hoped that he may have a speedy recovery, but it is expected it will be some time before he can be about again.

ENTERTAINMENT PLEASING TO ALL

"FIGHTING YANKS," AS SECOND NUMBER OF THE LYCEUM COURSE, DRAW WELL.

NEXT NUMBER DECEMBER 6

When the Artists' Trio, an Organization of Young Ladies, Will Provide Entertainment.

The four young men comprising the "Fighting Americans" company, appearing in this city as the second number of the Coit-Alber Lyceum course, won the warmest approval of a large audience at the high school auditorium last evening and the young men have certainly made good any statements that may have been made in behalf of them prior to their appearance.

As entertainers the young men are pleasing and their repertoire consists of the best and highest class of music, the more popular selections being of the popular standard music and were given in a manner that won the warmest approval of all who had the pleasure of hearing them.

The program offered included a number of original compositions of the young men from the various musical productions that were used in France for the entertainment of the army after the close of hostilities and were not only tuneful but very clever. The songs offered embraced some of the late popular numbers that have delighted the audiences the country over and were received with marked approval by the auditors.

Taken as a whole, the entertainment was one that was thoroughly enjoyable and those who failed to attend can set it down that they missed something in not being present to hear the four clever young men.

The next number of the lyceum course is scheduled for Saturday, December 6th and will be the Artists' Trio, an organization of young ladies with a varied program of instrumental and vocal music as well as cartooning and reading.

The success of the course as demonstrated by the well pleased patrons is very gratifying to those who have arranged for the appearance of this high class entertainment and their expectations have been more than realized in the first two numbers of the course that have been offered here.

DEPARTS FOR THE WEST.

From Wednesday's Daily.
This afternoon Ben Dill of Murray departed for Denver, Colo., where he was called by a message announcing the serious condition of his sister, Mrs. M. S. Davis, well known throughout this country, where she was reared to womanhood. Mrs. Davis has been afflicted with cancer since the late spring and has underwent several operations in the hopes of giving her relief but without success and it is now only the matter of a short time until death comes to relieve her sufferings. It had been hoped by Mr. Dill and other members of the family that the sister might be able to come to one of the Omaha hospitals but her condition has grown worse and the brother is leaving for the west hoping to reach her bedside before death.

LONGER WORKING SCHEDULE.

From Wednesday's Daily.
The planing mill and upholstery departments at the local Burlington shops were yesterday morning placed on a longer working schedule, being given nine hours instead of eight. The large amount of work demanded has made necessary the working on a longer schedule in the hopes of getting a portion of the work ready by the beginning of the new year. The demands on the shops are quite heavy at this time and all departments are kept very busy and if the coal supply will not interfere with the carrying out of the working program the next few months will be very busy ones at our local shops.

COMES TO ATTEND FUNERAL

From Monday's Daily.
Peter Volk, one of the old residents of Cass county, but who for the past twenty years has been engaged in farming near Rentrow, Oklahoma, arrived in this city Saturday evening to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Charles C. Hennings. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Brau, Mrs. Brau being a sister of Mr. Hennings. John

MEETING OF PRESBYTERIAN LADIES HELD

Missionary Society Gathered at the Manse Yesterday Afternoon for Most Enjoyable Time

From Wednesday's Daily.
The Ladies Missionary society of the Presbyterian church held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the manse, which proved one of the most enjoyable and delightful meetings the ladies have held for some time. The early hours of the afternoon were devoted to the study of the book, "A Crusade of Comparisons," which the ladies have taken up for the coming winter months' study. Mrs. C. M. Cavender took charge of the first chapter and Mrs. W. J. Streight the second chapter. With the assistance of these most capable leaders, the study of these two chapters was made most interesting and instructive to the large number in attendance.

At this meeting "Daughters' day" was also observed and following the study hour, the daughters of the members of the society provided a pleasing program which was greatly appreciated by their mothers. This program was composed of a vocal selection by little Miss Margaret Bauer; a recitation entitled, "The First Thanksgiving," rendered by Miss Margery Shopp; a song entitled, "All We Can Do," by Miss Catherine McCluskey and a story by Miss Martha Gorder of "The One Dollar Bill" which was in the possession of a little girl. This little girl met a little mountain girl who was in need of clothing, so she concluded the best way to use her one dollar bill would be to give it to the little mountain girl that she might be comfortably clad and would get another dollar bill for her own pleasures.

Misses Helen and Edith Farley furnished a piano duet, while Miss Gertrude Morgan read a recitation. After this most excellent program, Mrs. McCluskey served light refreshments, which assisted in making this meeting most enjoyable to those fortunate enough to be present.

MEET WITH MISS WHITE.

From Wednesday's Daily.
St. Mary's guild of St. Luke's church held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon and were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Mable White in the north part of the city. During the early hours of the afternoon the ladies held a very interesting business session at which time various plans were made for the work of the society as well as several business matters were given their proper attention. After the business session the ladies spent the fleeting moments in a very industrious manner, preparing the most pretty things for their Christmas shop, which they will hold the 12th and 13th of December. During the course of the afternoon the hostess served a most tempting luncheon which was most thoroughly appreciated by the ladies. A few moments devoted to a most delightful social time and then the ladies dispersed, declaring Miss Mable to be a most excellent entertainer.

Earl Marler of Murray was among the visitors in the city today to look after some matters of business.
