U. S. CITIZEN MURDERED BY CARRANZISTA

A MEXICAN FEDERAL SOLDIER
SHOOTS DOWN OIL COM-PANY EMPLOYEE.

EIGHTH VICTIM SINCE JULY

State Department Says Crime Was Committed without Provocation of Any Kind.

Washington, Nov. 28. — James Wallace, American citizen, was shot and killed by Carranzista soldiers at Tampico last Wednesday.

The state department today was advised of the killing and immediately ordered a thorough investigation.

Details of this latest outrage were lacking, but administration officials did not hesitate to characterize it as "almost the last straw" in the chain of "aggravating incidents which has occupied the attention of the state department for several months."

The Wallace referred to is believed here to be E. T. Wallace of the Gulf Refining company, about 40 years old, and one of the company's best men. He had operated for the company in Colombia as well as Mexico and went recently to Tampico.

Eighth U. S. Victim.

If the identification of Wallace is correct, he is the eighth official of the Gulf Refining company to be killed in Mexico and the eighth American to be killed since July 22, 1919, when the state department warned the Carranza government that more killings of Americans would lead to a change in policy of this government toward Mexico.

The following statement was issued by the state department:

"James Wallace, an American employe of an American oil company near Tampico, was murdered by a Mexican federal soldier at Portrero Del Llano on Wednesday, November 26. The murderer was not taken into custody."

Crime in Cold Blood.

According to the department's advice the officers in charge of troops camped in the vicinity claimed that Wallace had provoked the murder.

"The department has been informed as a result of an investigation that a male on which Wallace was riding to the place of his employment, sjeed at a machine gun which it was passing, overturning the gun. The soldier immediately shot Wallace, the bullet striking him in the neck and killing him instantly."

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE WEDDED

Miss Lillian Adams of This City and George Neilson of Dannebrog,
Nebraska. Married Here.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Yesterday afternoon at the residence of Rev. A. V. Hunter, pastor of the First Methodist church, occurred the marriage of one of the popular young ladies of Plattsmouth, Miss Lillian Adams, to George Neilson of Dannebrog, Nebraska. The wedding was a very simple one, the young people being unattended and the ceremony witnessed by the members of the family of Rev. Hunter and Jacob E. Adams, brother of the bride. The bride was very charming in a traveling costume of dark blue serge and wearing a picture hat of blue, and the groom was attired in the conventional black.

Following the ceremony the young people returned to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Adams, where they were showered with well wishes by the members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Neilson departed yesterday afternoon at 3:30 on a short honeymoon trip, leaving their destination a dark secret and will soon be at home to their friends on the farm near Dannebrog.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Deputy County Clerk William T. Adams and wife, and has been reared in this community where she was educated in the schools of this city. A lady of more than usual charm, she has many warm friends who will join in wishing her much happiness in the future years. The groom is one of the prosperous and industrious young farmers of Howard county and has prepared a pleasant home on the farm near St. Paul where they will make their home in the future.

Rebuilt Overcoats

Why pay $75.00 to $100.00 for a new overcoat when I can rebuild your old one for a fraction of the price of a new one. After having it repaired, cleaned and pressed you've got practically a new coat at a nominal price. I am dyeing a great many army overcoats in navy blue, dark brown and black. They dye nicely. Look over your winter clothes now, and have them put in shape to wear.

LOUISVILLE MAN MAKING GOOD IN WESTERN STATE

Clyde McClain, of Twin Falls, Idaho, was here over Sunday visiting with relatives and old time friends. Mr. McClain paid the Courier office a pleasant call Monday morning and left two dollars for a year's subscription to the Courier, which he ordered sent to his Idaho home. Clyde left Louisville about fourteen years ago and settled on a piece of land near Twin Falls. It was nothing but sage brush and rattle snakes then but he saw prospects ahead as there was already a movement on foot to irrigate the land from Snake river, which has since been accomplished.

When he settled there Twin Falls was a small hamlet but today is a prosperous little city of ten thousand inhabitants. Land could have been brought at that time for but a few dollars per acre which now changes hands at from $250 to $1,000 per acre.

Mr. McClain was married after locating in the west to a Cass county girl, Miss Bedella Smith, of Plattsmouth. They have a family of three children, a boy and two girls. He is enthusiastic over the possibilities of irrigation and says he never has to worry about rain for he can cause it to rain on his crops at any time he thinks they need it.

Mr. McClain has not visited Louisville for six years and was pleased at the evidences of prosperity in the town of his youth. He returned home Tuesday.—Louisville Courier.

SNOW BRINGS HUNTERS.

The heavy snow of last evening and this morning brought forth the hunters of the community this afternoon who, heavily armed, took the field against the rabbits and it was a lucky bunny that did not get shot at several times. In most cases, however, the rabbits were safe as long as they stood still. William Smith and Lysle Gilmore were among those going out after rabbits and returned late in the afternoon reporting a great slaughter of the jerks but 30 or 40 of the rabbits were warty and had to be abandoned while the others were brought in to furnish an appetizing meal.
