RETURN FROM AT-TENDING FUNERAL

Of Brother Who was Accidentally Killed in Beet Sugar Factory At Scottsbluff, Nebr.

From Friday's Daily. Yesterday Dr. J. H. Hall of this city, accompanied by his brother, Major A. Hall of Pacific Junction, returned home from their sad mission in the west where they were called to Scottsbluff by a message announcing the death of their brother, John H. Hall at that place, on last Friday.

wife who, when the son was quite young, removed to Cass county, Nebraska, where the family settled on a farm in Eight Mile Grove precinct and here the deceased was reared to manhood and made his home for a number of years, removing in 1884 to the western portion of Nebraska, and settling on a farm which has since become a part of Scottsbluff, and on the site of the original homestead stands the sugar refinery where Mr. Hall met his death. He was one of the first settlers and had a great part in developing that portion of the state from an arid region into one of the most wealthy and prosperous sections of the state.

Mr. Hall was a man universally loved and admired by those who had the privilege of knowing him and his tragic death has come as a great blow to the family as well as to the community in which he had for so many years made his home.

FOREMAN TELLS ABOUT TROUBLE

For Twenty Years He Had Suffered—Gains Eleven Pounds and Is Restored to Health.

"For about two years before I began taking Tanlac my health was so bad that I lost two or three hours from my work nearly every day," said C. H. Melton, a construction foreman for the Western Union Telegraph Co., Omaha, Neb.

"For 20 years before I started taking Tanlac I suffered from stomach trouble and nervous indigestion," he continued, "and my condition kept getting worse until about five years ago I was in such awful shape that nearly everything I ate caused me terrible suffering. I had bursting headaches, and gas would form on my stomach at times that I could hardly breathe, and felt heavy and stuffy at the time. I suffered from constipation and got so weak and ran down that I could hardly drag out and sometimes it looked like I would just have to give up my work entirely."

"A friend of mine, who had tried Tanlac, recommended it to me so strongly that I began taking it. Well, sir, in three days' time I could tell that I had at last struck the right medicine, for my appetite began to improve, my stomach got better and I was feeling built up in every way. I have now taken five bottles of Tanlac, and anything I want, have gained 11 pounds in weight, and never have a pain in my stomach. I have almost forgotten that I ever had a headache and I am not constipated any more, and in short, I'm not the same man and was never in better health in my life. Yes, sir, of course, I can recommend Tanlac and I am glad whenever I get the opportunity to say a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in Plattsmouth by F. G. Fricke & Co., in Alvo by Alvo Drug Co., in Avoca by O. E. Copes, in South Bend by E. Sturzenegger, in Greenwood by E. F. Adams; in Murray by Meier Drug Co.; and in Manly by Rudolph Bergmann.

TURN DOWN LABOR CANDIDATE.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 28.—Returns tonight from nearly one-half of the voting precincts of Winnipeg forecast the re-election of Mayor Charles F. Gray over S. J. Farmer, candidate of the labor party. Gray's vote in 61 of the 125 precincts was 8,061, while Farmer polled 5,407 votes. Farmer was supported by the labor element which endorsed the general strike last spring.

The labor candidates had promised that if elected would out all city employees who were appointed last spring to replace employees, including firemen and policemen who went on strike and were discharged.

CONGRESSMAN PAYS TRIBUTE TO CROWDER

Washington, Nov. 28.—A congressional speech on the achievements of General E. H. Crowder in the world war is being circulated over the country as a tribute to the good work performed by that former Fort Crook officer. The brilliant speech of tribute was concluded with these words by Congressman McFadden of Pennsylvania, the author: "I think when impartial history gets written, on a plane equal to any of them, perhaps on a plane above them all, will shine the fame of him I would honor today as the incarnation of America's initiative and genius of origin and administration who perhaps more than any living man made it possible that America should strike and can strike in overwhelming numbers, strike till the final crisis was past and the final victory won—Enoch Herbert Crowder."

DOINGS IN COUNTY COURT.

From Saturday's Daily. This morning a hearing was had on determination of heirship in the Agnes Root estate on the petition of Jesse A. Root, husband of the deceased, to determine the number of heirs of the estate. The license department of the court yesterday afternoon issued a marriage license to Roscoe Sill of Bradshaw, Nebraska, and Miss Eleanor Christiansen of Weeping Water. IF NOT M'KELVIE, WHO?

'Tis a curious plight in which Nebraska republicans find themselves. They have a governor, elected last year by a majority truly magnificent, and yet they want no more of him. Nor, looking about, do they appear to find promising substitute material. Not in recent years has Nebraska seen a governor facing a contest for a second term nomination against such odds as appear today. Half of the republican state representatives have participated in an anti-McKelvie conference. An overwhelming majority of the republican state committee is reported opposed to McKelvie's renomination. State officers, whose own re-election fortunes are inseparable from the head of the ticket, conceal scarcely at all their hope that some man other than the present incumbent be the republican candidate next year.

Meanwhile, there is a galaxy of prospective candidates: R. B. Howell and A. L. Sutton of Omaha, Don Love of Lincoln and others. But of all, only Sutton and Love are quoted as being in a receptive mood. And who are they? Love was mayor of Lincoln a number of years ago, unknown to the state at large. Sutton was the republican nominee in 1916, when he ran 40,000 odd votes behind state prohibition, although prohibition was the head, tail and the body of his campaign nag.

And not one of these would satisfy Dr. Victor Rosewater. What, for party's sake, is the G. O. P. to do?—World-Herald.
