On last Friday evening Rev. E. H. Pontius and family were the victims of a "surprise" when they went on invitation to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gopen.

Throughout the evening Mr. and Mrs. Gopen as host and hostess proved themselves equal to the occasion. Finally the real import of the gathering was disclosed when the pastor and his wife were led into a side room and shown a fine display of household provisions, the value of which, including cash, amounted to over $50.

Methodist Church Items.

Sunday, November 30, was a good day at the church in spite of the winter weather. In the morning the house was well filled for the preaching service, although the Sunday school attendance was cut down considerably. Sunday the 23rd our attendance at Sunday school reached 165 which was probably the highest in the history of the school.

Last week was filled with sadness for the community on account of the death of two of our people. Mrs. Charles H. Kirkpatrick and George Ronald Parsell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parsell. The sympathy of the entire community goes to these two bereaved families.

Next Friday evening the motion picture entertainment will be of special interest to the High school as we will give a picture of Scott's "Lady of the Lake" in three reels. Two reels of good clean comedy will be thrown in for spice.

Next Sunday the fourth in the series of sermons on the "Parable of the Soil" will be given in the morning. In the evening there will be 15 minutes of pictures followed by an evangelistic service.

Do not forget the Sunday school. It is a place of real interest for you and your family. And it is open to all.

ERNEST A. KNIGHT, Minister.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank all who so kindly assisted us during the brief illness, death and burial of our beloved son and brother.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Parsell, Ray Parsell, Mrs. Earl Dreamer.

Obituary.

Ora Ann Lytle was born in Plattsmouth, Wisconsin, April 29, 1860, and died at her home in Alvo, Nebraska, November 23, 1919, aged 59 years, 6 months and 25 days. In 1868, when she was eight years old, she came with her parents to Nebraska and settled at Ft. Calhoun. There they resided till some time in the seventies, when the family removed to the vicinity of Alvo which has been her home continuously from that time.

On January 1, 1878, she was united in marriage to Charles H. Kirkpatrick to whom for 41 years she has remained a faithful and loving wife.

No children were born to this union. But while denied the blessing of motherhood her mother love found expression in its care for an orphaned niece, upon whom she lavished all the wealth of a mother's affection and care till God in His wisdom saw fit to deprive her of this object of her love.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick was one of those whom ill health claimed as a victim and for about 30 years she was more or less an invalid. Many sources of relief were sought in vain. It seems that at the last she found her own home with her devoted husband the best place to meet her affliction and to await whatever good or ill might be in store for her in the way of health.

The great solace of her days of weakness and pain was here religious faith. Converted and uniting with the church in Alvo in 1890 she was ever a most devoted and consistent member. She was a Christian in all her relationships in the community, and her faith in God was continually finding expression in the kindly acts bestowed upon others.

She was always greatly interested in the welfare of her friends and relatives and will be greatly missed by a large circle of people who knew and were related to her.

Her place in the church and the community will be hard to fill and she will be greatly missed. We can only hope that her life and example may be an inspiration to others who will be led to step into the place made vacant.

Besides her husband she leaves three brothers, George W. Lytle, Brighton, Colorado; Frank B. Lytle, Hagerman, Idaho, and James E. Lytle, Silverton, Oregon.

Funeral services were conducted from the church by Rev. E. A. Knight on Wednesday, November 26, 1919. Burial was made in Alvo cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of publicly expressing our appreciation of the many acts of kindness shown to us during the time of the sickness and death of our beloved wife, sister and aunt. Especially do we desire to thank Rev. Knight for his comforting words, the choir of the church and all those who so kindly remembered our loved one with the beautiful floral tributes.—C. H. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lytle, Mrs. B. J. Prendergast.

Obituary.

George Ronald Parsell was born near Alvo March 25, 1907; died November 26, 1919, aged 12 years, 8 months and 1 day.

All of his short life was spent in this community. In most respects his life was as that of the average normal boy in the community, till two years ago when he submitted to a serious operation from which, it seems, he never really recovered.

Whatever of pain or inconvenience he may have suffered, however, was kept from those who loved him, for there was no hint of the trouble which took him away till just a day or two before the event.

George was in the seventh grade at the school, a member of the band, and a member of a class of boys of his own age in the Sunday school.

About four years ago he was baptized going forward to that step of his own accord and with an evidently intelligent conception of what he was doing.

He was growing up with a beautifully clean mind and entire freedom from some of the habits to which boys of his age are falling into. He was of a lovable nature. He saw only that which was good in his playmates, and tried to put the best construction upon that which others did which might have been subject to criticism.

We think the words of Christ at the tomb of Lazarus are true in this case today. "He is not dead, but sleepeth."

I cannot say, I will not say That he is dead. He is just away.

With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand He has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be since he lingers there.

And you—oh, you who the wildest For the old time step and the glad return—

Think of him faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here;

Think of him still the same, I say; He is not dead—he is just away. —James Whitcomb Riley.

Those left to mourn his loss are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Parsell, his brother, Ray Parsell, and sister, Mrs. Earl Dreamer and their families and many friends. The funeral was conducted from the Methodist church by Rev. E. A. Knight November 29. Burial was made in the Alvo cemetery.

THE LIGHT AND POWER SITUATION

SHORTAGE OF COAL BRINGS THE LOCAL COMPANY FACE TO FACE WITH IT.

IS NOW UP TO THE CITY

To Operate Plant It Will be Necessary to Install Oil Burners—10 Per Cent Increase.

From Monday's Daily.

The acuteness of the coal shortage in Omaha and this city has caused the situation here as to light and power to become very serious indeed and it is only a question of a very short time until the local plant will be forced to curtail or cease their service to the city unless radical changes occur in the coal situation and the question of relief in that direction for some time at least is very doubtful.

Manager Kuykendall of the Nebraska Gas and Electric company has been laboring hard to keep up the best possible service for the Plattsmouth patrons of his company and in hopes of being able to supply them in the face of the coal shortage has devised the plan of installing an oil burning system at the local plant that would serve to keep up the light and power service here. The coal supply on hand here is only available for two or three days and the closing of the service from the Omaha company may occur at any time as the situation in that city is very serious. To do what was possible for the Plattsmouth patrons Mr. Kuykendall has figured out the changes that will be necessary for the installing of the oil burners in the plant here which will necessitate the expenditure of at least $1,000 by the company in making the change.

The change and added cost of production will make necessary an increase of 10 per cent in the rates for electricity to the public and as it is necessary for the company to have the permission of the city council for this increase the matter has been placed before Mayor Schneider and the members of the council to pass upon and grant the necessary permission to the company to advance rates and install the needed machinery.

The company has at present quite a large amount of oil on hand and can secure sufficient amounts to carry on the operation of the plant and this seems the only solution of the problem that has become one of the greatest that confronts the city and its people.

A large number of the business houses and industries of the city are dependent upon electric power for operating their plants not to mention the numerous consumers of current in their homes.

The failure of the light and power service would mean a great deal of hardship to the city and to a number of the industries it would mean an enforced closing for an indefinite period of time. The large users of the electric power are very desirous of keeping the service up as long as possible and the proposition of the manager of the light company is the only logical handling of a very serious situation for the period of the emergency occasioned by the coal strike almost all of the consumers of the electric current would be willing to assist the company by paying the small amount or increase that would give them light and power.

TO RESIDE HERE.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Yesterday Plattsmouth gained a new family to add to the population of the city when Chester Wall, a young man formerly residing at Hamburg, Iowa, arrived in the city to make his home and will have his family located here as soon as the home is prepared. Mr. Wall made this trip from Hamburg by auto truck, bringing with him his household goods. The trip was made via Nebraska City and Mr. Wall arrived in the city late yesterday afternoon and after getting his family settled will take up his work in the Burlington shops.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Announcement is made by the parents of the groom in this city of the marriage on Sunday, November 23, of Miss Esther Stryker of Lincoln and Dwight Patterson of Minden, Louisiana. The ceremony occurred at the manse of the First Presbyterian church at Shreveport, Louisiana, Rev. Smith, pastor of the church, reading the marriage lines. The wedding was simple yet very impressive and the beautiful ring service used by the pastor. T. M. Patterson of Plattsmouth, father of the groom, was in attendance at the ceremony.

Both of the young people are well known in this city where the bride made her home for a number of years and where the groom was reared to manhood and the announcement of the marriage will be the source of many well wishes from the friends in this city and vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will make their future home at Minden, Louisiana, where the groom is now engaged in business.

TRAINS ARE DELAYED.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The train service over the Burlington was delayed today owing to cold weather conditions and the movement of coal supplies over the system. Train No. 6 for the east was three hours late this morning reaching this city shortly before 11 o'clock while No. 4 due at 10 o'clock was delayed for almost an hour. This afternoon the Lincoln local due here at 1:15 was 45 minutes late and accordingly delayed the service between this city and Omaha. Passenger train No. 2 due at 4:30 this afternoon is announced as running from three to four hours late.

OBSERVES THANKSGIVING.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Gooding, who are among our most hospitable people, have established a custom that not only gives them great pleasure but also is a source of great delight to one of their old neighbors. For the past 18 years the Gooding family have had with them on Thanksgiving Mrs. Betty Mostin, one of the old friends and neighbors, to share the spirit of Thanksgiving and the day does not seem complete unless this old friend is gathered with the Gooding family.
