WHY NOT LIFT RESTRICTIONS IN THIS CITY?

ACTIONS OF OTHER CITIES IN MODIFYING RESTRICTIONS HELPS BUSINESS.

BUSINESS HAS SUFFERED HERE

Holiday Goods Will be Left on Hand Unless Restrictions are Lifted at Least Partially.

From Saturday's Daily.

During the past two weeks of the regulations on fuel which have been in force the business houses of the city have been in darkness from the closing hour at 5 o'clock in the evening and with the result that the large holiday stocks carried by a great many of these establishments have not had the opportunity of being offered to the purchasing public and as a result a great deal of the business of one of the best months of the year has been affected. With the resumption of normal conditions over the country there should be at least a modification of the closing regulations that would allow these business houses a chance to get their goods on the market in the coming week.

The situation in this city is considerably better than in a great many of the cities of this size as the fuel supply is ample in most of the business establishments to carry on their heating plants for several months and in most of the places of business almost as much fire is required when the stores are closed as during active business hours. The lighting company is allowing their patrons full use of all electric current under orders from their head offices and it seems in the face of these facts that a less stringent regulation covering the business houses, churches and amusement places of the city could be adopted.

A COASTING ACCIDENT.

From Friday's Daily.

Tom Bailey, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bailey met with quite a serious accident last Thursday evening while coasting down hill over near the A. A. Johnson home by colliding with the auto driven by C. E. Day. The boy was coming down the hill on the sled at a terrific rate; Mr. Day saw the sled coming but was at a loss to know what to do. To suddenly stop his car might be to stop squarely in the path of the sled; to advance the speed of the car he might run over the boy, so he turned to one side so much as possible and nearly escaped the sled as it struck the car near the rear wheel.

The boy received a double fracture of the left arm and a light scalp wound. He was taken to a hospital in Omaha Saturday where he could have the best of care.

It is understood that the coasters had had a guard posted to be on the lookout for cars but he had evidently neglected his post of duty.

A movement is on foot to have some streets in town fenced off from traffic when coasting starts again which is a good idea as young people should be allowed the fun of coasting and given protection from traffic.—Weeping Water Republican.

ILLNESS OF H. M. BUSHNELL NOTED

Serious Condition of Veteran Newspaper Man and Politician at Lincoln Sanitarium.

From Friday's Daily.

The serious condition of H. M. Bushnell, veteran newspaper man and politician of Nebraska, of Lincoln, has occasioned much regret among the old time friends in Plattsmouth, where Mr. Bushnell spent some of his best years in the newspaper game.

It was in the year 1878 that this gentleman arrived from the state of Iowa and located in this city, taking up work with the Nebraska Herald, then the leading paper of this city and county. Later he founded the Enterprise in partnership with R. W. Montgomery and they ran this as a daily for some time, it later being merged into a weekly and finally sold to the Herald and Mr. Bushnell became editor and manager of the consolidated papers, continuing in this capacity for a number of years.

In his career in the newspaper work in this city he was also connected with the Chronicle, a short-lived newspaper of the early eighties. Mr. Bushnell later went to Lincoln as the representative in the capital city of the Omaha Bee and while there became interested with Albert Fairbrother and several others in the publication of the Lincoln Daily Call, which became one of the leading papers of the state, and he continued active in newspaper work until the election of President McKinley, when he was tendered and accepted the position of postmaster of Lincoln, which he held for a number of years.

After his retirement from the post office Mr. Bushnell engaged in the publication of the Lincoln Trade Exhibit. For a number of months the health of Mr. Bushnell has failed to such an extent that he has been compelled to take treatment at the sanitarium in Lincoln for heart trouble.

Two of the brothers of Mr. Bushnell still reside in this county, A. H. Bushnell of this city and M. E. Bushnell of South Bend precinct.

METHODIST LADIES ARE ENTERTAINED

Pleasant Home of Mrs. F. R. Gobelman Scene of Delightful Gathering of Aid Society.

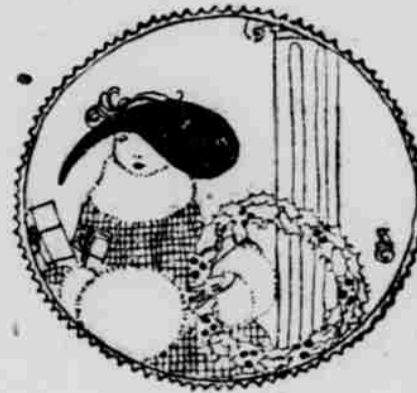

The ladies of the Aid society of the Methodist church enjoyed one of the most pleasant meetings of the winter yesterday afternoon at the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Gobelman in the Westcott building.

The ladies have been accustomed to holding their meetings in the church parlors but owing to the fuel regulations it was impossible to hold the meeting there and the hospitable home of the Gobelman family was offered for the use of the ladies and proved an ideal spot for the gathering.

The hostesses of the afternoon were Mesdames J. V. Hatt and E. G. Shallenberger, and in honor of the occasion some forty of the members of the organization were present.

The afternoon was spent in the business session and in enjoying a pleasant visit among the members until a suitable hour when dainty

TRAIN SERVICE IS INCONVENIENCING

Residents Along Lincoln Branch of M. P. Find Difficulty in Getting to and From County Seat.

From Thursday's Daily.

Since the reduction in train service made as the result of the coal shortage the residents along the Lincoln branch of the Missouri Pacific have experienced a great deal of trouble in getting to and from the county seat without having to take two days and night to make the trip. Under the present arrangement if anyone desires to come to this city to look after business affairs they must take the midnight Missouri Pacific from Lincoln and remain at Union all night and come on to Plattsmouth the next morning and on the return trip leave here at midnight and lay over in Union until 6 o'clock the next morning before they can reach home. Residents of Weeping Water however have a little better connection by going to Omaha and coming down from that city over the Burlington but have the same difficulty in getting home as experienced by other residents.

When the difficulty of the coal strike is cleared up the residents of the county certainly should have some relief given them in the way of train service.

CASS COUNTY MAN TO WED.

From Thursday's Daily.

Among the marriage licenses issued yesterday in Omaha was one to Fred Kopp of Louisville and Miss Tillie Schroeder of Florence. The groom is one of the best known and popular young men of Louisville and held in the highest esteem in that community in which he has made his home for his lifetime.

DEATH OF LOUIS DOSE LAST EVENING

Aged Resident of City Passed Away Last Evening at County Farm Where He Had Made His Home.

From Saturday's Daily.

Last evening at the county farm west of this city Louis Dose, for many years one of the well known residents of Plattsmouth, passed away. Mr. Dose has been in failing health for several years and since March 30, 1917, he made his home at the county farm and since the death of the wife, two years ago he has faded greatly until death came to bring him relief and rest from his suffering and loneliness.

Louis Dose was born in Germany June 7, 1845, and at the time of his death was 74 years of age. He came to America when a young man and was for a great many years a resident of Plattsmouth, where in his younger days he was in the employ of the Burlington in the local shops but as the advance of age crept on he was compelled to resign from the activities of this line of work. The family formerly resided in the east Fourth ward near Happy Hollow, and were among the best known residents of that portion of the city.

The funeral services will be held at 11:30 at the county farm west of the city tomorrow morning.

CLOSES MEETINGS AT MURRAY.

From Saturday's Daily.

This evening Rev. L. W. Scott of the Christian church of this city, who has been conducting the series of meetings at Murray will close his services there and tomorrow will be back in Plattsmouth to resume his work with the church here. Mr. Scott will preach at his church here tomorrow morning at the worship hour and his return will be greeted with much pleasure by the members of the church.

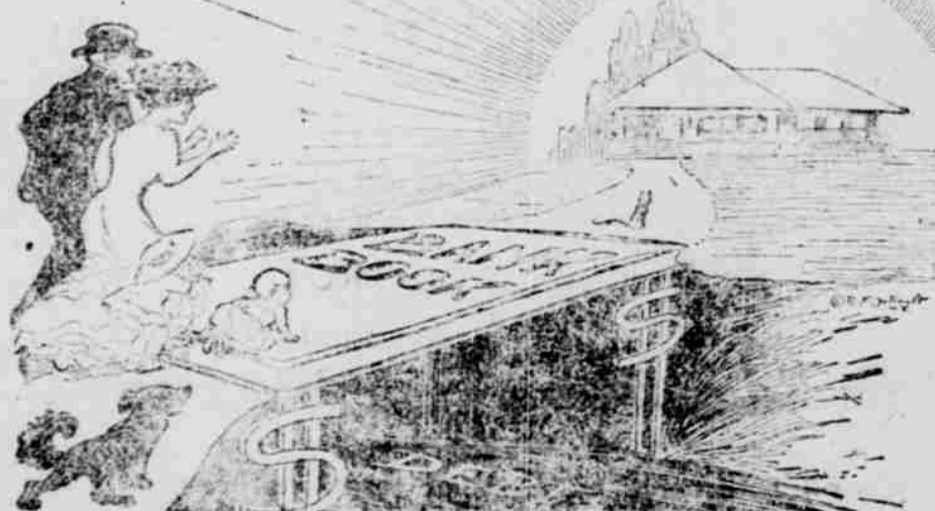

The meetings at Murray have been quite a success from all points of view, both in number of conversions and in the awakening of the spirit of the church in that community and the pastor returns feeling that his work has been successful in the series of meetings.

home of Miss Gertrude Morgan on North Sixth street. In spite of the extreme cold weather there was a large number of the members and friends in attendance. The moments were whittled away in very industriously stitching on dainty fancy work and various other amusements, which made this meeting most delightful to all fortunate enough to be present. The ladies held their usual business session at which time the various business matters of the society were taken care of and other plans mentioned and discussed. At a suitable time the hostess served a most delectable luncheon which was likewise most thoroughly enjoyed. About the hour of 5:30 the ladies dispersed, declaring Miss Morgan to be a most excellent entertainer.

SURPRISES FRIENDS.

M. M. Beal, the painter and paperhanger, rather surprised his friends yesterday by the announcement that he had fell from a forty-foot ladder and not been hurt, and his statement was viewed rather doubtfully by the listeners until he stated that it was the bottom rung of the ladder that he had fallen from.

H. R. Duncan, storekeeper of the Burlington, departed this morning for Gibson and Omaha where he will look after the work of preparing for the storage of ice for the railroad company at the Gibson ice houses.
