Attorney C. L. Graves was a visitor in Avoca last Monday, where he was called to look after some legal matters for the day.

Mrs. L. Morrison departed a few days ago for Syracuse, where she spent Christmas at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. L. Stroug.

Daniel Lynn was a brief visitor in Plattsmouth last Monday morning, going on the early morning train and returning on the ten o'clock.

Jack Chaffant was a visitor in Weeping Water the first of the week where he was attending a tractor school which is being held there.

C. W. Cheney shipped a car of cattle so the Kansas City market last Monday afternoon, accompanying them to look after their disposal.

Mrs. J. C. Niday, who has been visiting at home for the past few weeks, has returned to Lincoln where she is receiving treatment for her health.

L. V. Davis, of Elmwood, who is sinking a well at the home of Geo. H. Meisinger, several miles north of Union, arrived last Monday and departed in the evening for the Mel-singer farm, where he went to work on his contract.

Carey Stoffer had the Journal man put his name on the list of new readers of the paper and will in the future be well supplied with Cass county news.

Miss Elsie Taylor took charge of the Junior Primary and Intermediate league last Sunday in the absence of the superintendent of that department.

Loren Morrison, of College View, was a visitor in Union over Christmas tide, coming to spend the time at the home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. L. Morrison.

Mrs. L. Morrison and Master Don Berson and daughter of Henry Born and wife, residing near Plattsmouth, are spending the vacation at the home of L. G. Todd and wife.

Herman Reike, one of the prosperous farmers living near Union was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Friday, where he was looking after business matters for a few hours.

Dr. Barritt, who has been sick at his home for some time, is improving as the days go by and it is sincerely hoped will soon be able to attend to his practice again.

Miss Elsie Taylor and Mrs. E. W. Keedy were passengers to Omaha on last Monday, where they were visiting with friends and looking after some business matters as well.

Miss Ida Freeman, who has been ill for some time at her home in Union, is much improved from her attack of the grippe although she is not yet able to be out again.

Edward Everett, of Walthill, was a visitor in Union for the past few days, and also visited with his uncle at Avoca for a short time before returning to his home in the north.

W. L. Crawford has had his name added to the list of readers of the Journal in Union and will keep in touch with the happenings in this as well as other parts of the county.

Mrs. Flora Sans, of Murray, was a visitor at the Charles Garrison home, spending Christmas there and visiting with her daughter and family.

Miss Lula Hoback, who is taking a course of nursing at the Burchmont hospital at Omaha, was a visitor at her home in Union over the holidays, returning to her studies last Monday.

The Ladies Aid society of the Baptist church presented Mrs. J. E. Taylor, the wife of their minister, with a very fine Japanese table cover and a set of napkins for a Christmas present.

Mrs. Mollie Garrens and daughter, Mrs. Mae Shotwell, of Kansas City, who is visiting at the home of her mother for a short time, were passengers to Nebraska City last Monday, where they were doing some shopping.

Daniel Lynn and wife and John Liggett and family were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mat McQuinn for Christmas dinner. Needless to say, they all enjoyed the occasion very much.

John B. Taylor, Jr., the little son of Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor, has not been feeling well due to the fact of cutting his stomach teeth, but is expected to soon regain his customary good spirits.

Mrs. Merrill Ford, who has been sick at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Frans, is reported as being much improved, but is not as yet well enough so she can be removed to her home at Nelawka.

A party of young people of Union and vicinity enjoyed a very pleasant time at the home of Miss Mable Hanson, and her parents, Hans Hanson and wife, whom the young people consider excellent entertainers.

C. W. Clark, the proprietor of the Union hotel, has added a copy of the Journal to his reading matter, which has become much of a Union paper, to say nothing of publishing news from other parts of the county as well.

Messrs. Ira and Fred Clark were passengers to Omaha last Monday evening going up to see about arranging a wedding match to be given at the rooms of the Union Social club on Saturday night, December 3rd.

Last Monday morning R. E. Foster shipped three cars of cattle to the Kansas City markets, having just finished them off in his feed lots near Union. Mr. Foster is a very successful feeder and has made some money with the cattle in the feed lots.

Master Robert Hasenyager, from Plattsmouth, was a visitor for the first time at the home of J. L. Becker and family, of Union. He will return home the latter part of the week to resume his studies in the city schools in Plattsmouth.

Mrs. Mary Taylor and daughter, Miss Rachel, who have been visiting for the past two weeks at the home of Mrs. B. A. Taylor and daughter, Miss Elsie, returned on last Sunday evening to University Place, where Miss Ethel is attending college.

Wayne Lewis and wife were visiting in Union and vicinity over Christmas from their home at Plattsmouth, being guests at the home of Mr. Lewis' parents, J. D. Lewis and family, and also Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merritt, whose hospitality they shared at Christmas dinner.

Rev. W. A. Taylor and wife spent Christmas in Omaha with Mrs. Taylor's sister, Mrs. W. M. Cleave, and were greatly surprised when Mrs. Taylor's mother and a sister, Mrs. Viola Smith, both of Denver, were there to greet them. The occasion was one of much joy. Rev. Taylor returned home Christmas evening, while the wife remained for a longer visit.

the monetary offering which was given by the members of the congregation on Christmas as an expression of their appreciation of his work and friendliness. He was very much gratified as well by the large audience that greeted him at the services last Sunday, and especially for the large number of young people who were in attendance.

Social Club Reelects Officers
At the first regular meeting of the Union Social club since its organization, the officers chosen at the time of the instituting of the society were all reelected.

Is Making Home in North
James Lewis, who has made his home in Union for the past fourteen years, departed for the northern part of the state last summer and has since made his home there. He arrived here a few days ago, called here by the attractions of the fair ones of this pleasant village and visited here until Tuesday, when he returned to his home in the north where he will continue to make his home.

Will Hold Convention in May
The North Baptist church will hold their general convention at the Union Social club since its organization, the officers chosen at the time of the instituting of the society were all reelected.

To Hold Church and Banquet
There will be services at the Baptist church both morning and evening next Sunday. The morning hour will be devoted to a special New Year's sermon, after which all will repair to the basement of the church which is used as a Bible school room and there participate in a banquet prepared by the ladies of the church. The banquet will be presided over by Rev. Taylor, as toastmaster, while a number of the members will respond to toasts. A report of the meeting will be given in next week's issue of the Journal.

Gave Minister General Shower
The members of the Baptist church and the many other friends of Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor last Saturday evening gave this worthy couple a miscellaneous shower which was well worth while as it expressed the kindly feelings which the membership of the church and the community in general hold for the church and its pastor and wife.

The gifts covered a wide range of wants and amount to much in monetary value as well as expressing the good feeling which is entertained for Rev. and Mrs. Taylor. They, in return, feel very thankful for the kindly efforts on the part of their parishioners and friends who participated in the joyous occasion.

Resuming Work at Farm
Monday morning W. B. Banning, with his force of workmen went to the state owned farm, where there is being perfected a horticultural experimental station, on the 80 acres which was recently purchased by the state for that purpose.

Before the coming of cold weather there was some progress made towards the work of laying the foundation for new state buildings, but this was held up by the arrival of the cold weather. Now that milder temperatures are at hand work has again been resumed. A house will be built upon the farm to be occupied by the one who shall live there and look after its care.

Visiting with Friends Here
Harry Graves and wife, former residents of Union, with their little daughter, Helen, arrived from their home at Central City for a visit at the home of relatives and friends and with others here. Mr. Graves is the son of Attorney C. L. Graves of this city, and Mrs. Graves is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Mark. They intended to make a longer stay here, but on account of the pressing business which called Mr. Graves home again, he being a traveling representative of the M. E. Shafer Co., of Omaha, he was compelled to return to his work on Christmas night. Mrs. Graves remained, however, for a longer visit with her many friends here.

Little Boy Met with Accident
Donn Austin, who is a wholesome minded child, has been severely injured in his heart, does not allow an opportunity to pass where he can do so, without helping to make the little ones happy. The other day he was going into the country on an errand and the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Clark was playing along the street as he passed. Mr. Austin thought to give the little fellow a nice ride, and so arranged to have him tie his sled on alongside his bob. While passing along the road, one of the sideboards on Mr. Austin's bobs tipped and fell, striking the little fellow in such a manner as to cut a severe wound in his scalp.

Mr. Austin hastened to the office of Dr. Swab where he had the wound properly dressed, after which he took the little fellow home to his mother. He is getting along very nicely and will soon be well again.

At Rest from Labors
Last Sunday Rev. W. A. Taylor was called upon to minister at the funeral of Mrs. Charles Klitner, of Nelawka, and had to notify the congregation at Wabash of his inability to be with them.

Mrs. Klitner was born in the east July 19, 1859, and departed this life on December 26, 1919, at her late home at Nelawka. She is well known in lodge circles in this part of the state, being an organizer of the Royal Neighbors. She had made her home in Nelawka for a number of years, having lived there nearly a quarter of a century. Previous to that the couple made their home in Plattsmouth for a number of years.

Mrs. Klitner was a most estimable woman and gave her life for the service of others. Hers was the fraternal spirit and at all times did she exemplify this by her unselfish work for those of her sex in her ministrations.

The community has lost a noble woman and the husband a most adorable wife and companion. The funeral was held at the Methodist Episcopal church at Nelawka, Rev. W. A. Taylor officiating and interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Surprise on Miss Edith Frans
Last Saturday being the sixteenth birthday of Miss Edith Frans, the daughter of Mrs. James Frans of this city, and who has been home for the past few days spending the vacation from her studies at a business college in Lincoln, this young lady was given a surprise by her many friends in and about Union.

The affair was arranged under the direction of her mother, Mrs. James Frans, and sisters, Mesdames Roy Gerking and Earl Wolfe. The plans were very nicely laid and the young lady was taken completely by surprise.

The evening was spent in games, music, singing and one of the most delightful luncheons imaginable.

Those present to enjoy the occasion were Misses Ora Clark, Marie Frans, Verine Harris, Eula Frans, Flora Garrison, Margaret Swan, Ellen H. Chapman, Edith Frans, Frances M. Bauer, Bessie LaRue, Dee Garrison, Lydia Clark, Beulah Sans and Messrs. Ellis LaRue, Arnold Fahrlander, Herbert LaRue, Guy Stokes, Helen Todd, Lemuel Barritt, John and Kemper Frans, Edward Fahrlander, Paul Swan and Frank Mead, Mrs. Earl Wolfe and son, Robert; J. E. Wheeler, of Pawnee City; Mrs. H. F. Chapin, Atchison, Kansas and Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor and their two sons, James and John.

TREES!

By Joyce Kilmer, Poet Soldier
—who Died in France

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is pressed
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast.
A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her leafy arms to pray.
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair.
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who ultimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Gave Excellent Program
The ladies in charge of the Christmas exercises at the Baptist church were more than pleased at the excellent results of their work and the appreciation with which the program was received by the membership of the church and the citizens generally, who attended the exercises. The ladies wish to express their appreciation for the good way in which the event was received by all.

Had a Taffy Pull
A number of the young people of Union were entertained in a royal manner at the home of George Everett and wife, where they enjoyed an old fashioned taffy pull, with all its attendant mirth and jolly good times. They made the welkin ring until a late hour, and all declared that the genial host and hostess were most excellent entertainers.

Had Excellent Time
The program of the Methodist Sunday school, which was given at that church last Wednesday evening, and which was a part of the Christmas entertainment provided by and for members of the Sunday school, was well attended and was one of much merit, reflecting credit upon Miss Elsie Taylor for her able direction of the children in the rendition of their various parts.

Will Spend Winter on Coast
C. H. Taylor, who is engaged in the practice of law in Omaha, with his family, departed for the west on last Wednesday and they will spend the winter at Los Angeles. A letter written by Mr. Taylor while enroute to the land of sunshine and flowers, said they would reach their destination last Friday and that upon their arrival, he would write to his mother, telling her all about the trip. They are expecting to have an excellent time in the southwest this winter.

Speaks on Subject 'A Clean Heart'
Rev. A. V. Hunter as Part of His Discourse, Uses an Original Poem of Much Worth.

From Monday's Daily.
Rev. A. V. Hunter spoke yesterday morning at the Methodist church on the text, "Create in Me a Clean Heart, Oh God, and Renew a Right Spirit Within Me." This familiar verse from the 51st Psalm was most effectively interpreted to the audience in a sermon of more than usual strength and inspiration. The theme announced by the pastor for the morning service was "The Trail of a Lost Ideal." In closing his sermon, Rev. Hunter emphasized the theme by the recitation of an original poem which follows:

The Trail of a Lost Ideal
Ships leave a track in the ocean,
Wheels leave a track in the sand;
Man leaves a trail where he travels,
Whether it be on sea, or on land.

When a ship makes its way thru the water,
Its trail fades out bye and bye;
When a man leaves a trail where he travels,
It's a trail that never will die.

And we see by the trail a man blazes
What ideals welled up in his soul;
For the path he makes in his journey
Is left by the life he unfolds.

The trail that a good man leaves us,
Brings us joy that all can feel;
But the world is ever in sorrow
Along the trail of a Lost Ideal.

It always leads back to a failure,
It's crooked and long and deep;
It's influence worse than nothing,
It's fruit only tares in the wheat.

And the one who travels this long,
long trail
Finds little in life worth while;
While the one who follows the Jesus road.
