DEATH OF JUDGE HUNT

The announcement of the death of Judge George J. Hunt, formerly of Omaha and Bridgeport, Neb., is made in a dispatch from Long Beach, Calif., where the judge died suddenly Monday as the result of heart failure. Judge Hunt came to Omaha 35 years ago and entered into the practice of law with the firm of Richards & Hunt and later with Congdon, Clarkson & Hunt.

In the early 90's Judge Hunt became interested in the irrigation movement and removed to western Nebraska, locating in Bridgeport, and while a resident there assisted materially in the development of the Belmont canal.

Judge Hunt was a war personal friend of Frank E. Schlatter, of this city and during his canvass of the state in his campaign for supreme judge made a large number of friends here who will learn with regret of the death of this splendid jurist.

GIVE PLEASANT SURPRISE FOR TEACHER

Eighth Grade Pupils Tender Farewell to Mrs. Mae S. Morgan—Giving Up Work.

From Saturday's Daily
Last evening the young people belonging to the eighth grade of the city schools tendered a very pleasant farewell at the high school building to their retiring teacher, Mrs. Mae S. Morgan, who is soon to leave for Omaha to take up her work in the schools of that city. The young people had prepared a very sumptuous dinner in the domestic science department of the school and which was thoroughly enjoyed by the members of the party and the guest of honor. After the enjoyable dinner had been disposed of the members of the party adjourned to gym of the school where the remainder of the evening was spent in games of all kinds and at a late hour the members of the party adjourned expressing their regret as losing their teacher and wishing her success in her new field of work. As a token of the esteem felt for Mrs. Morgan by the young people with whom she has been associated she was presented with a very handsome string of beautiful beads as a remembrance.

Mrs. Morgan has been made the recipient of a number of gifts from the young people of the school, the seventh grade pupils presenting her with a fine electric iron while the members of the glee club gave her a beautiful clock as a remembrance of her splendid work with them.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF STOVE CRK. PRECINCT

On Tuesday morning word came to friends of Uncle William James that he had passed peacefully to his reward. This did not come unexpected for he had been in poor health for a number of years and recently had had an attack of pneumonia and he was in a very feeble condition owing to his advanced age.

Mr. James has been an invalid for a good many years. He was of that sunny and cheerful disposition that radiated happiness all about. His courage was of the greatest. He was a great reader and glad in having his friends call on him and they were sure to be interested for he was a man who could talk on many subjects and enjoyed conversation.

In his younger days he was identified with many things that meant much in the making of the early history of Elmwood and of the county. Mr. James was the owner of one of Cass county's finest farms.

The funeral services were held from the Christian church Thursday afternoon. The church was crowded to pay their last respects to this good man.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

SUFFERED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Nothing Did Him Any Good Till He Took Tanlac—In Fine Shape Now, He Declares.

"When I started on Tanlac, I had rheumatism so bad that it would keep me in bed for days at a time," said James A. Cornett, of 3556 Grand Ave., Omaha, Nebraska.

"The fact is," he continued, "I had not been a well man in fifteen years, and although I spent over a thousand dollars trying to get well, I never found a thing to relieve me till I got hold of Tanlac. My appetite was very poor and my stomach got so weak that for three years I lived on nothing but milk and a light cereal. I was constipated nearly all the time and my head ached constantly, dizzy spells would come on me and I'd get so weak and exhausted I could hardly walk. Rheumatism got its grip on me and my shoulders, hips and knees would ache so at times that I just had to give up and take to my bed. I fell off twenty-five pounds and had so little strength and energy that I wasn't fit to do a lick of work.

"I heard so much about the way Tanlac was helping others that I got me a bottle and before I had used up half of it my appetite picked up and I would get so hungry I could hardly wait for meal time to come. My nerves soon quieted down; I am not constipated any more and all those aches and pains that I suffered from so long have completely disappeared and I am now taking on weight. Tanlac certainly straightened me out something wonderful and I am feeling strong enough to go back to work again."

Tanlac is sold in Plattsmouth by F. G. Fricke & Co.; in Alvo by Alvo Drug Co.; in Avoca by O. E. Copps; in South Bend by E. Starzenegger; in Greenwood by E. F. Smith; in Weeping Water by Meier Drug Co.; in Elmwood by L. A. Tyson; in Murdock by H. V. McDonald; in Louisville by Blake's Pharmacy; in Eagle by F. W. Bloomenkamp; in Union by E. W. "He says I'm a good skate"
—Chesterfield

A REAL pal—that's Chesterfield. Look at its record. Three million smokers—less than five years on the market! Two words explain it—"They Satisfy."

Our expert buyers in the Orient select for Chesterfields only the finest grade of the four choicest varieties of Turkish tobacco. To these are added the best of mild but full-bodied Domestic leaf.

But, in the end, it's the blend that makes Chesterfields "satisfy." And the blend—our private formula—cannot be copied.

Extra wrapper of moisture-proof paper seals in the flavor.

We've just returned from the three days' convention of the Nebraska Retail Clothiers. We have listened to some of the brainiest men in the country discuss the "whys and wherefores" of the present high prices and the forecasts for the future.

Here are some facts that were brought out at the convention which perhaps you will be interested in:

FIRST—There is no clothing being hoarded. There is no surplus to hoard. The armies of the world have consumed the world's supply. Every bit of clothing that is made up is in the hands of the retailer and offered to you for sale at prices that cannot be duplicated.

SECOND—The major part of the increased cost you have to pay for clothing goes directly to labor. If all labor could receive equal increases it wouldn't be so bad, but this one class of labor—garment makers—have, by definite figures, received an increase of 231% in the last five years. In view of these facts it is clear that the retailer and the manufacturer are at the mercy of conditions over which they have no control. Clothing cannot come down and will not come down until production catches up with demand and garment workers' wages are reduced to a level with that of other commodities.

THIRD—We found that every clothier in this convention was not only willing, but glad to co-operate with the government and the fair-price movement to lower prices and so went on record.

These three facts stand out as prime factors in the clothing business today and do not shift the responsibility for present prices.

We believe in the common sense of the American people and that they will ultimately solve this perplexing problem. We have always tried to keep our prices down and this year more than ever shall exert ourselves to this end. If you will watch our ads, you will find many opportunities to rap H. C. L. Here are two good chances: Men's full cut overalls, $1.95; Fine Dress shirts, $1.98.
