OVER THE COUNTY

EAGLE

Beacon

Miss Ida Blomenkamp and Carl Blomenkamp of Hastings spent Sunday with their brother, Will Blomenkamp, of this place.

C. C. Renner who has been afflicted with a game leg for some time, left Saturday night for St. Louis, where he will undergo treatment in the Missouri Pacific hospital.

Clyde Trimble has been having a wrestle with the flu this week, but has proven himself the better man and will be out in a few days.

Charlie Trimble is this week moving onto a farm southwest of town. Eagle won't seem like Eagle without Charlie's familiar face on the streets.

Rolly Brunell is this week moving his effects to his new home near Roca. Three loads were taken down Tuesday, and he is getting ready for the spring opening of work.

Mrs. J. A. Gardner returned last Friday from her trip to Adams county, where she left the sick folks all convalescent. She fell down on the job and was put to bed for a day or so, but is able to be about now.

W. G. McFall visited with his brother, M. McFall, Monday, going from here to Columbus on business Tuesday morning. Mr. McFall was a resident of Lincoln for 37 years, but now lives at Bellwood. The two brothers came here 38 years ago and bought the land Mr. McFall now lives on at $8 an acre. W. G. accepted work in Lincoln as a harness maker and later sold his interest in the farm to his brother at $22 an acre. He tells some interesting stories of those early days.

ELMWOOD

It looks natural again to see Wm. Hulfish back at his old job as janitor at the public schools. Bill is a good one and everyone is glad to see him on the job.

William Langhorst and Arthur Schneider betook themselves to Denver, Colorado, where they purchased two Case tractors and breaking outfits. They have contracted to break land near Sugar City and have all of this work that they can do. The boys have undertaken a big thing, but with a summer's hard work no doubt will make a nice sum of money. We wish them success in this venture.

Mrs. Frank Kraft and daughter, Viola, arrived in Elmwood Tuesday morning from Chicago to spend a few weeks visiting with Mrs. Samuel Bogenrief, William Kraft, a step-father of Mrs. Samuel Bogenrief and Mr. Frank Kraft, who is somewhat acquainted about Elmwood, will be 50 years old next July. He is still as spry as a cricket and travels to Colorado and St. Paul to visit his children.

J. T. Liston came in on Saturday evening from Plattsmouth to visit his brother, I. M. Liston and his friends here. We notice that he takes every opportunity possible to drop into Elmwood and take it for granted that he likes to spend his spare time here. We are putting his name in the paper so that he will know we saw his bright and smiling face and are glad to see him any time.

Last week Mrs. F. Backemeyer, who had been sick for a number of days was taken quite sick and it was found necessary that an operation be performed at once. So on Friday evening the operation was performed at her home. She was suffering with a severe case of gall stones. The operation was successful and she is doing well for one of her age.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Clapp and the former's mother returned from California, where they spent the winter. Mr. Clapp arrived in Elmwood on Monday while Mrs. Clapp and his mother remained in Lincoln for a short visit. He is now driving a fine Cadillac auto having sold his Hudson, which he drove out to California. The trip was made home over fine roads and Mr. Clapp reports they encountered very little bad traveling.

GRADER MEN WANTED

Four grader men for work in Cass county are desired at once. Residents of county preferred:

Head grader man acting as foreman, $8c an hour, with a minimum of $100 a month to protect against bad weather.

Rear grader man, 70c per hour, with same minimum.

Sleeping accommodations and a cook furnished by state but men must board themselves.

WEeping WATER

Republican

Mrs. Lester Shrader and children arrived Tuesday morning from Alma, Neb. Mr. Shrader arrived Wednesday with the emigrant car. They are moving back to Cass county and will live on his father's, Will Shrader's farm.

Jack, Bert, Wallace and Deforest Philpot left on Sunday evening for Kearney to look over the country. Jack Philpot bought a half section of land out there last week and Rudolph Hart bought a quarter section. The boys think it a fine country.

John Colbert returned this (Thursday) morning from California. John reports a fine time and is strong in his praise of California climate, especially when he encountered the cutting wind here this morning. Mrs. Colbert and Horton will remain in California at least until school is out about the first of June, as Horton is in school there.

Martin Johnson is moving March 1st from the Lake farm near Washburn to another Lake place five and one-half miles west of Elmwood. Martin used to live right at Weeping Water's door, but he is getting further and further away which his friends here very much regret, but as Martin says a renter cannot always choose his location. The place Martin leaves will be farmed by Guy Lake.

County Commissioner Miller, of Alvo, was in town Wednesday having arranged to meet the county surveyor here and do some work on the new road near the Myers Stone Quarry. The surveyor failed to show up as he said it was too cold a day to make the trip, so Mr. Miller had his rather tedious trip here for nothing.

Word was received here Sunday announcing the death of Frank Parker at his home in Dix, Nebraska. No particulars have been received other than that he died very suddenly Sunday morning about 11 o'clock and that the burial would be at Dix.

The two daughters, Mrs. A. J. Wright and Mrs. Jesse Ronne and her husband left Tuesday evening for Dix to be present at the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Ronne had intended going to Hemingford at this time where they will make their home on a farm. Mr. Parker and family lived in this community for many years and only moved to Dix last fall. Frank was a good-natured and hard working man and had a host of friends wherever he was known. He leaves to mourn his loss beside the wife, six daughters and one son. He was in his 64th year and the last survivor of six brothers. We understand he had four sisters, two of whom survive him and live in Iowa.

LOUISVILLE

Courier

Mrs. Claude Seiver is recovering from an illness with the flu, but is still in a weakened condition. Herman Dehning went to Aurora this week to permanently close up the deal for the fine farm he purchased in Hamilton county last fall and which his son Conrad will manage this year.

Fred Schliefer is considerably under the weather this spring and while he is not bedfast, he is not able to be out very much. His sister, Mrs. Fred Bormann, of Ashland, came down one day last week for a visit between trains.

Theodore Koop is now reported to be on the way to recovery after a serious attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Koop and the children were also down with flu and they were all cared for by Henry Newmann, who is a very good hand at nursing and useful almost anywhere around the house.

Dr. H. J. Lehnhoff, one of Lincoln's leading physicians, came down Monday to see his uncle, John Osenkop, whose serious illness we mentioned in last week's issue. Mr. Osenkop is much better again and has been able to come down this week, although he is pretty weak. Dr. Lehnhoff was here only between trains, but long enough to see a number of his old friends in Louisville.

C. W. Spence came down from Havelock Tuesday to see his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Spence, who is laid up from a fall she sustained about a week ago, at which time she injured her leg seriously. Mrs. Spence is considerably advanced in years and the shock to her system is accordingly much greater, but her many friends hope she will soon recover from the effects of her accident.

W. P. Krecklow sold his blacksmith shop and equipment Tuesday to A. Pedersen, of Iowa, the consideration being $2,500. Mr. Krecklow has been in poor health for some time and was unable to care for the business and decided to sell. The new proprietor is an experienced mechanic and the announcement that he is to open up this once popular shop will be hailed with delight by the farmers of this vicinity. He is a brother-in-law of Lee Cole.

PLATTSMOUTH NIGHT ALL THE WAY AROUND

Double Header at Local Gym Results in Wins for Both High and Eighth Grade Teams.

From Thursday's Daily.
The basket ball fans who were in attendance at the high school gym last evening were more than delighted with the splendid work of the high school team and that representing the eighth grade who proceeded to do things to the Falls City and Springfield teams that they will long remember. The Springfield team was the opponent of the eighth grade aggregation in the opening contest and the visitors were handed a defeat by the score of 24 to 15 and in this game the youngsters of the grades displayed good generalship and skill in their plays.

In the chief contest of the evening the Plattsmouth high school team were very winners over the Falls City team smothering them in defeat by the overwhelming score of 62 to 13 and in fact grew weary of basket throwing as the contest was so much one sided.

The basket ball season will be closed Friday evening when the Nebraska City high school, who won from the locals a few weeks ago will attempt to repeat their victory but from the excellent form in which the locals have been operating it looks poor for the Otce lads to get away with it.

The season has been very satisfactory to the team representing the high school here who have suffered but few defeats and these have been by such close scores that they reflect no discredit upon the skill of the local basket tossers.

SAYS NOTHING DOING

From Thursday's Daily.
Councilman Frank Buttery, who was mentioned as one of those upon whom might be thrust the nomination for mayor of the city in last evening's Journal states that however well meaning the suggestions of his friends that he be given the honor, he is not and will not be under any condition a candidate for the office of mayor.

REPULSES THE ENEMY

One of the business men of the city who in the days before the war was engaged in the disposition of more than Famo and Pablo, had an experience a few days ago that will long linger in his recollection and his opinion of the fair sex as warriors has greatly risen since his encounter with the one in question. It seems that this family was about to depart from the city and among other things that they had several cases of empty bottles that had once contained more than 2.75 per cent of joy water and the owner of the bottles desired to have them returned so that he might receive credit upon them from the wholesaler. To secure the bottles the services of Chief Manspeaker was secured and the businessman and the chief hastened to the depot where the family were departing. In the melee that ensued the law escaped without injury but the full fury of the enemy barrage and counter attack fell on the unlucky business man and he was severely shaken by the infuriated lady as well as given a verbal dressing down that will be long remembered for its forcefulness if not its polite language.

Our Home Destroyed!

Our beautiful music store was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, a complete loss. While this catastrophe means a temporary setback, yet we are going to continue as before—going to give the same four-square treatment to our patrons they have always enjoyed. We are coming back bigger, better and stronger than ever before.

At our branch office, located in the Stanfield Book Shop, we have some beautiful designs, both in straight pianos and players on display. We will be glad at any time to talk over the piano or player proposition with you. We will trade for that old piano which you seldom, if ever, use and will give you terms and prices to suit every home. You are welcome at any time.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

From Friday's Daily.
Have you heard the red bird yet? He's back again.

The deaf mutes of Omaha didn't have much to say last Friday, but just think what they did to us! Nevertheless the team had quite an interesting time with them and enjoyed the visit in spite of their defeat. They were invited to remain for supper after the game which was much enjoyed in spite of the fact that conversation ran at a low ebb. Verily, the Nebraska School for the Deaf is a place to be seen, not heard.

Thanks to George Washington (and a generous faculty) we enjoyed a day's vacation last Monday.

Tuesday morning Mrs. E. H. Westcott came over and led one of the most enjoyable assembly song fests that we've ever had. An interesting feature of the incident was the simultaneous singing of "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and "There's a Long, Long Trail" by opposite sides of the assembly. This is the national community sing week and Sunday afternoon the music lovers of the community are urged to be present at the high school auditorium for a good old singing bee. Let's all be there, high school, and help 'em out.

More canned music Wednesday. Great stuff, Miss Weyrich.

We had quite a little rally Wednesday. The Falls City team came up on the platform where we could look them over. Good looking bunch too. It was a shame to massacre them like we did, but this is to be said of them: they played a straight, clean game and fought right up to the last whistle in spite of our overwhelming lead in points. They are dandy good sports.

The eighth graders are quite tickled over their victory. Well, why not? They deserved it the way they played.

Rev. Hunter favored us with a short talk Thursday morning which was well flavored with pep and things to think about. He spoke on "Getting By" and showed that the world demands more of him who would be successful than just merely "getting by" with a task.

Tonight is the night we've got to scalp Nebraska City. They're going to bring a bunch of rooters and lots of confidence. We hope to send them home a sadder and wiser outfit. Nebraska City played a stiff game on their floor last month and beat us. Everybody out tonight and help turn the tables on them.

Miss Staats—If you should get zero for five lessons, what would you have. Harold Peters—I'd have five below zero.
