MOREHEAD TO MAKE DEFENSE IN COURT

ENGAGES I. L. ALBERT OF COLUMBUS, AS ATTORNEY IN BALLOT CASE.

DECISION WILL BE MADE SOON

Attorney General Davis to Make Formal Appearance for Secretary of State Who is Named Defendant

Secretary of State Darius M. Amberry will not be compelled to be his own attorney in the suit filed against him by Will M. Maupin of Scotts Bluff county who says he is interested in enforcement of laws. The secretary of state has been notified by the supreme court to show cause Monday why he should not be commanded by the mandamus route to take the name of John H. Morehead from the primary ballot as a democratic candidate for governor.

A nice little legal fight is expected. Only one law point is involved. It is alleged by Maupin, old time political and democratic partisan enemy of Morehead that the payment of the filing fee by Morehead within the time limit set by law is not enough, that in fact a receipt for the payment must be on file in the office of the secretary of state when the nominating petition is filed.

As Attorney General Davis' department had given the secretary of state an opinion holding that the receipt must be on file at the expiration of the time for filing petitions in the office of the secretary of state it was generally thought the attorney general would decline to appear as attorney for the secretary of state and defend his action in putting Morehead's name on the primary ballot.

"He has complied with the spirit of the law, if not the letter," said Mr. Albert at the close of his inquiry. Governor Morehead was in Lincoln Friday. In his talks with friends he appears to take it for granted that Ralph Clark of Stella, who is Arthur Mullen's preferred democratic candidate, will remain on the ticket and the democratic voters will be asked to decide between the five candidates whose names are now on the accredited list of candidates.

Fred W. Barnhart of Hartington, republican candidate for state auditor called at the state house Friday. He visited his opponent, State Auditor George W. Marsh. Mr. Barnhart has been waging a fight against the non-partisan league members in his immediate vicinity and is glad to get into a campaign where he will have some excuse for keeping up the fight. He is not sanguine about his nomination. In fact he has figured out that he has about one chance in a hundred and he intends to take that chance.—State Journal.

president and H. N. Dovey, secretary and treasurer were re-elected.
