

OVER THE COUNTY

ELMWOOD Leader-Echo

Mrs. Earl Cool, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leitz, for the past several weeks at Denver, Colo., returned home on Tuesday morning. She reported that the weather was fine when she left Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Valley of Murray and Archie Sheperdson were called to the bedside of their sister, Mrs. Lemuel Parish, who is very sick. Also Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill of Nehawka arrived Saturday and are assisting in caring for their sister.

On last Saturday Wm. Langhorst came in from Sugar City, Colo., for a day here. He reports that he and Art Schneider have all they can do with their outfits of Waterloo Boy tractors and plows. Wm. is also agent for this famous outfit. He went to Hastings where he drove back a fine car for parties at Sugar City. Will is looking fine and says that the country agrees with him. He says he has gained about ten pounds in avoidupis.

On Monday morning Lodge Caygill whose farm is just east of town declared vengeance on the pesky rats that had taken possession of his cow shed. The sides of the shed had been packed with straw and it was here that the rodents had made their runways and had taken refuge and were safe from hard. Mr. Caygill with several others plugged up the runways and started to remove the straw and when they had finished they had killed over 30 big rats. This was some big haul.

W. E. Palmeter and George Wilson have one of the finest and best cement mixers that can be found anywhere. They now have it so perfected that it will dump either way. This machine is a winner and will be manufactured and sold in large numbers. Since this machine has been originated here it ought to be manufactured. If the proper inducement were made no doubt but that it would. Why not have this factory for Elmwood. Get things stirring, this enterprise should be located here.

On Monday of this week Miss Mona Miller was united in marriage to Mr. Otto W. McKinney of Grand Island, Neb. This marriage comes as a surprise to the many friends of the bride here. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Miller and is well known to all at Elmwood having spent most of her life here and is a graduate of the Elmwood high school. She has been an efficient employee of various firms at Lincoln and other places, but recently has been working at Grand Island, Neb. The groom has been engaged in farming and his parents live on a farm near Grand Island. He has visited here and had become acquainted with a good many who found him a fine young man. They will make their home for the present at Grand Island, but expect to live on a farm next year. The newly weds have the hearty congratulations of the friends of the bride here for a long, prosperous and successful married life.

WEEPING WATER Republican

Workers at the Weeping Water Stone company quarry struck Saturday for an increase in wages of ten cents an hour. They have been getting 40c an hour and the company is holding out against any increase above that figure.

Mrs. C. E. Pool received word Saturday from Wauneta, Neb., telling of the death of the one year old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Colbert. Mrs. Colbert had just returned from Omaha where she had taken the baby for an examination but the doctors could give no encouragement as leakage of the heart was the trouble.

Lawrence Gilmore and his aunt, Miss Samantha Timblin returned Tuesday evening from Omaha where Lawrence had undergone an operation for appendicitis. He is getting along fine and was able to walk down town Wednesday, and his many friends were glad to see him getting along so nicely.

It will be of interest to all good road boosters to know that under the new county highway system being mapped out by our county commissioners the north and south road through Weeping Water to be designated as the county road is the one coming in from the south over the Boyle hill and going north past the Henry Smith stone house, the J. C. Ehlers corner, etc. As first mapped out, the north road was to be that going out the avenue and to the T. L. Davis farm corner and then north.

Henry J. Ruhga of North Platte was in town Monday on his way out to the farm to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ruhga. Henry drove down from North Platte to Elmwood in his car getting there Friday night. Mr. Ruhga accompanied by Mrs. Ruhga and little daughter went to Omaha Tuesday where he expected to buy some cattle to ship out to the ranch. He said he would leave the car with Mrs. Ruhga at Elmwood until the roads recuperated from their snow bath.

The singing of the spring-time birds, the planting of gardens, the sowing of oats and the reparations for blossoming out in new finery on Easter day received quite a set-back in last Saturday's snowstorm and blizzard. The result was a foot of snow for Easter day, an unusual sight even in weather freakish Nebraska. The snow was heavily laden with moisture (.6 of an inch) and will be of great benefit to soil and crops. In spite of the heaviness of the snow there was a lot of drifting with the resultant impairment of traffic and mail service.

Mrs. F. W. Fowler, while returning home Tuesday evening from the Mrs. J. W. Bullis home where she had made a short visit, fell off the sidewalk at the west side of Ambler's store. She was rendered unconscious for a time and her first thought was that her right arm was broken, but in some way she managed to get out of the gutter and make her way home and afterward found she had received a bad cut on the head and one of her limbs was badly hurt. Wednesday morning she was unable to raise her right arm so she phoned to her daughter, Mrs. Paul Marshall at Elmwood and Mr. Marshall came down and took her home with him so she could have the proper care. Mrs. Fowler said it was dark there and she couldn't see the walk and got too close to the outer edge and went into the rement gutter several feet below.

EAGLE Beacon

Mrs. Joe Spahnle went to Chappell Saturday, to spend a few weeks at the Ed Oelschlager home.

Bill Blumenkamp and family returned Thursday for a brief visit at Hastings, returning Monday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Oelschlager, who recently moved to Chappell, are the proud parents of a baby boy born April 4th.

Carl Blumenkamp came out last week to run the postoffice and drug store while his brother took a short vacation and visited the old home at Hastings.

The teachers who have formed a habit of "going home" over Sunday missed out on getting back for school this week. When school opened Monday morning there were six teachers missing. Most of them arrived, however, on the late train, about 9:30.

The bank of Eagle looks like a picked chicken this week. All the brick from the north and west sides having been removed to make way for improvements. These are pressed brick and will be replaced by the Milwaukee tint, as it seems they were unable to get any to match these to carry the new addition being built on the east.

The village election last Tuesday was a very tame affair, there being only three caucus nominees and one candidate placed on the ballot by petition. The Beacon man did not vote, being in Lincoln on our regular weekly business trip, but from Geo. Peterson, one of the judges we get the totals of the vote as near as he remembers them. There are other reports of a larger vote, but as the returns are sealed there is no way of finding the exact figures until the official count at the next board meeting. Judge Peterson says as near as he remembers the result was: C. C. Renner 76 T. S. McMaster 75 Wm. Brothwell (about) 74 Wm. Muenchan (about) 50 H. Wetenkamp 9 Mrs. Kiel 1 H. K. Franz 1 Mrs. Will Hudson 1 There were a total of about 117 votes cast, and the women cast about 40 of them.

NEHAWKA News-Ledger

Henry Schwartz and wife are the parents of a baby girl born to them Easter Sunday.

Word was received yesterday of the sudden death in Portland of C. E. Wiley. No particulars as to the cause of death were sent. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wiley left last night for Portland to take charge of the remains.

Oscar Nelson left Wednesday afternoon for Whitney, in the western part of the state where he will spend the summer with his two sons Gustave and Theodore.

We are requested to inform the parents whose sons have air rifles, that some of the boys have been breaking street lights with these guns. Eight or ten electric globes were found to have been broken in this manner one day last week.

On account of the deep snow and crust, the school buses could not make the trips Monday and Tuesday of this week. Lumber wagons drawn by two and four horses, were pressed into service in place of the heavy motor driven school buses.

Obituary

Mabel Louise Rough was born November 14th, 1904, and died April 1st, 1920, at the age of fifteen years and four months and seventeen days.

She was born and grew to womanhood on a farm about one and one-half miles north of Nehawka. About one year ago, she with her parents, moved to Tekamah, Neb., where she had since resided.

About nine weeks ago she became ill with the flu. When just about well, a mastoid abscess developed, requiring two operations. She could not recover from the effects of the last one, and passed away at the Methodist hospital in Omaha, where she had been for the last month.

She leaves to mourn for her, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rough, and two brothers, George and Harry.

The funeral services were held at the Nehawka M. E. church Friday afternoon April 2 at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Moore. Interment was made at Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

LOUISVILLE Courier

William Pankonin and wife went to Omaha Monday to consult a specialist for Mr. Pankonin who has been on the sick list recently. His wife returned home the same day, but Mr. Pankonin went to the M. E. hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stander were Omaha visitors Tuesday, where they went to see Mrs. Stander's brother, William Berger, who is recovering from a serious operation and will soon be able to return to his home farm.

Mrs. Wendell Hell and son Walter, came in from Malcolm, Tuesday, where they went last Friday to visit Mrs. Hell's daughter, Mrs. George Young and family. They drove to Malcolm last Friday and found the roads fine and the weather good, but they were much disappointed when the severe snow storm Saturday prevented them from driving home, so they returned on the train.

Henry Oehlerking is having a lot of building done on his farm southwest of Louisville in the vicinity of Murdock. He is having a house, barn, double eodn cribs and other buildings erected on the eighty that adjoins his home place on the southwest and we understand that Ferdinand Brunkow will rent the new place when completed. The carpenter work is being done by John Fleischman of Manley.

The Louisville friends of Mrs. J. D. Creel of Omaha, who was formerly Miss Katherine Richey of this place, were pleased to see the picture of her little daughter, Polly Lou Creel, in the Sunday World Herald. The picture was most attractively displayed with four other little Omaha tots in an Easter basket with a big rabbit and was featured as an "Easter Greeting". Little Polly Lou is a handsome little miss and really resembles her grandmother, Mrs. C. A. Richey, to a marked degree.

Mrs. Edward Doran and four boys and little daughter, from near Elmwood, drove down recently for a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ossenkop in the country. Mrs. Doran is the daughter of the late Henry Ossenkop of near Louisville and kept house for her uncle, John Ossenkop, on the farm southeast of town. Mr. Doran expected to meet his family here the same day, but was coming on the train and in some way he missed his connections and did not arrive.

INTER-CHURCH CONVENTION

The Cass county convention of the Inter-Church Movement convened at the Congregational church of Weeping Water. Owing to the impassable condition of the roads the number present from the county was small. Revs. H. C. Whitcomb, A. E. Earnst, Z. N. Tompkins and C. E. Bowen composed the team of speakers. The addresses were full of information and inspiration.

The great needs of the world were graphically presented by stereoptican. The following permanent organization was completed.

- County Conventer—Rev. W. H. Riley, Weeping Water. Life Service Director—Rev. E. C. Moore, Nehawka. Spiritual Resource Director—Rev. H. G. McClusky, Plattsmouth. Stewardship Director—C. A. Rawls, Plattsmouth. Rural Service Director—Rev. S. A. Forobson, Nehawka. Womens Work Director—Mrs. Fred Zink, Murdock. Religious Education Director—Rev. J. B. Taylor, Union.

STATEMENT FROM GEORGE JACKSON AS CANDIDATE

Nelson, Neb., April 10.—To be the chief executive of a state having a population of a million and a half is both an honor and a responsibility. I approach my candidacy with a full realization of the duties that devolve upon the governor of a great state.

Fifty years of statehood has brought Nebraska to a place in the roster of commonwealths that creates a sense of pride in her citizens for her substantial and sturdy achievement. Every legitimate vocation and enterprise has contributed its share towards the upbuilding of that reputation, and it will be my purpose and pleasure—if elected to urge that selfish ambitions and class consciousness be subordinated to the larger good of all.

The business of politics is the state's biggest business. I have given many years to public service and it is a matter in which I hope I may take pardonable pride that the chief incentive towards my candidacy comes from those people whom I have most intimately represented in past sessions of the legislature and the present Constitutional Convention.

In the same measure that I have kept the faith with them, I shall hope to merit the confidence of every person in Nebraska.

Should I be nominated in the primaries next month as the democratic candidate for governor, I will make a vigorous campaign, calling to my support all those who believe in the fundamental principles of democracy.

If elected, I shall invite the candid suggestions of people of every class and station, reserving always the right to form my own conclusion of what my official duties shall be.

Upon my record as a servant of the people and a citizen of the state, and without appeal to any faction, I submit my candidacy to the voters of Nebraska.

Yours truly, GEORGE JACKSON

Mrs. Mary Schultz, who has been at the Mark Furlong home near Rock Bluffs for the past few weeks, departed this afternoon for her home.

ALVO DEPARTMENT

A SPECIAL NEWS DEPARTMENT FOR ALVO

Enterprising Village to be Regularly Represented by Department of Its Own in the Journal.

A representative of the Journal visited the bustling village of Alvo a few days ago and found the town very much alive and astir with the pursuit of its business enterprise.

The merchants all seem to be enjoying a liberal patronage and the citizens, with one accord, agree that Alvo is an excellent town in which to live—and that is what makes cities rise up in place of villages.

We were persuaded by numerous of the citizenry that the town needs a paper, and while not being able to locate there, we are doing what we can to furnish them with the news and advertising medium they desire through the establishment of an Alvo department in the columns of the Semi-Weekly Journal. Monday will be publication day of this feature each week and it is hoped the enterprise will meet with favor on all sides. It is the aim of the Journal to supply its readers with interesting news from the furthestmost corners of Cass county and we will leave no stone unturned to the end of doing so.

Mrs. C. O. Schafer will act as our correspondent and reporter as well as receive the business which may be offered the paper, either in the subscription, advertising or job departments. Inasmuch as it is our intention to thoroughly cover the field from a news standpoint, we ask that all those having news will call Mrs. Schafer by phone and communicate the same to her.

We need the co-operation of the citizens of Alvo and community in order to make this project a success, and trust that all will work with us for the best interests of the town and its citizens.

THE JOURNAL.

W. T. Richards lost two head of cattle Monday.

C. S. Murfin spent Sunday with friends and relatives.

Grover Otte was a Lincoln passenger Saturday evening.

Howard Wilson was a Lincoln visitor a few days last week.

Bernice Colbert stayed in Weeping Water Monday evening.

A large number from here attended the show in Weeping Water last week.

Robert and Walter Earls were Weeping Water passengers Wednesday.

Mrs. Ollie Allis and daughter spent Easter with her husband in Lincoln.

L. Laurson, the merchant, has had his name placed on the Journal's list of readers.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Miller spent Easter with their three children in Lincoln.

Faith Murfin is spending her spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Murfin.

T. H. Richard came down Monday morning and went over to South Bend to look after the stock.

H. T. Squiers spent a few days the first of the week in Lincoln with his daughter, Mrs. F. Wilson and family.

Ella Gerberling is staying in Elmwood this week on account of the roads not being fit for cars to run.

C. E. Sterner and family have moved out on the Marshall place and will work for Frank Marshall this summer.

Mrs. Guy Lake left Friday for Rochester, Minn., where she will undergo an operation for the removal of a goitre.

A good many Alvoites went to Elmwood Saturday evening. They intended to return on the 11:30 train, but the weather was such as to delay it until nearly 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

Wiliard and Lois Jackman stayed with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Jackman Sunday evening, taking the train Monday morning for Lincoln, from where they went to Murdock to look after their school duties.

Merrill McDonald, Olive Baker, Ella and J. D. Gerberling were invited over to Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Mitchell's to supper Friday evening. It was Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell's 30th anniversary. A very nice supper was arranged by the daughter, Miss Zella. At about 8:30 the young folks departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell many more years of happy married life together.

The Coatman hardware and machinery establishment has been unusually busy this season, and one has to wait a long time before he is able to obtain an audience with the proprietor, whose genial ways and business-like methods are winning unbounded success for this popular firm.

R. W. Stewart, the well and pump man, who handles paints and also does plumbing work, is an artist in his line and conducts his business with the single idea of being able to render the best of service at all times. He carries gas engines and is equipped to sink a well for you, erect a windmill or install a gasoline engine for pumping your water, and plumb your home for modern conveniences. He will gladly give you an estimate on any plumbing work you may desire done. Mr. Stewart has an ad in this issue of the Journal, as he is one of our progressive business men who believes in boosting the town and at the same time furthering his own interests.

John Murtey, the general, whole-souled lumber merchant and elevator man met the Journal man with a hearty hand shake and welcomed our enterprise in the city of Alvo, expressing himself as highly pleased at the prospect of our establishing a department regularly in the Journal for the promulgation of Alvo news. Mr. Murtey has but recently returned from the west where he spent the winter and says there is no place like Alvo. As a member of the state legislature the last biennium, he was instrumental in saving the state millions of dollars by defeating the sale of school lands, which have advanced greatly in value since that time. Thus his far-seeing judgment has been of great benefit to the citizens of Nebraska. See the firm ad in this issue of the Journal.

WEDDING BELLS

The wedding of Miss Frances Hell and Louis Meisinger occurred at the Evangelical Lutheran parsonage southwest of Louisville last Thursday, the pastor, Rev. T. Hartman officiating.

The bride is the youngest daughter and youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Hell and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Meisinger. These are two of Cass county's best and most prominent families and the two young people are highly respected and are very popular among a large circle of friends.

Their wedding day was chosen, as it was the 46th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, who were married in Louisville by Rev. Hannewalt then pastor of the Lutheran church in town. The pastor lived in the house now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCarty and the wedding occurred at his house.

The bride and groom were attended by Walter Hill, brother of the bride, and Miss Florence Gauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gauer. The happy couple will go to housekeeping on the old home place of the groom's father and mother who have moved to their new home in Cedar Creek.

The Courier joins with the friends of the young people in wishing them along life of happiness and prosperity.—Louisville Courier.

UNDERGOES SEVERE OPERATION

From Saturday's Daily. John E. Schutz of this city was operated on yesterday at the Methodist hospital in Omaha for the removal of his tonsils which have been giving him a great deal of trouble during the winter months. The operation proved a very severe one and the patient was worked on for an hour and a half before the operation was completed. He is still feeling very much the effects of the serious operation, but it is thought will in a few days be very much improved.

VISITS IN GLENWOOD

From Saturday's Daily. Q. K. Parmele, the well known horse buyer of Plattsmouth, will try to choose better April weather the next time he comes to Glenwood. Every one knows about Saturday's storm. Parmele tarried perforce in Glenwood among friends in the jail—residence, and the next morning escaped (?) by means of snowshovelling.—Glenwood Tribune.

FOR DISTRICT CLERK.

I am a candidate for the office of clerk of the district court, subject to the will of the republican voters at the primary on April 20th. Your support will be appreciated. JAMES ROBERTSON. d&w.

A. B. Fornoff of Cedar Creek was among the visitors in the city today attending the funeral of Mrs. W. G. Meisinger.
