

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

SHOOTING NOW ON AT THE RIFLE RANGE

Soldiers from Fort Crook and Fort Omaha Come Down to Test Their Marksmanship.

From Saturday's Daily. The members of the military force stationed at Fort Omaha and Fort Crook, have commenced the spring and summer practice on the range north of this city and during the summer will have both rifle and machine gun practice at this training ground. The shooting is done by parties of twenty-five who are brought down from the range in trucks and taken back to the post after the day's shooting, thus doing away with the necessity of a camp at the range. The first to shoot have been the officers who were engaged in rifle practice Thursday at the range.

The shooting will be held one or two days a week until the officers and enlisted men have all completed their course and qualified as to their marksmanship. The practice has made the vicinity of the range a good place to keep away from and Mr. Bashus, the custodian of the range, has requested the public to abstain from trespassing on the range during the season for practice, as it is impossible to keep on the watch for stragglers that might visit the training area and get badly injured.

The government range at this place being so close to the two army posts at Omaha is especially suitable for the use of the troops there and during the coming summer they will visit the range every week.

Several of the officers, on completing their shooting practice here, will be assigned to commands with the troops in the foreign stations according to reports received from Omaha.

PLEASANT FAMILY GATHERING.

From Saturday's Daily. Mr. and Mrs. George Schoeman entertained a large number of their relatives at a pleasant family gathering at their home on Cherry hill last Sunday at an elegant dinner.

The affair was given as a farewell to Mrs. Rudolph Thimman, of Sidney, a daughter of George Schoeman, Sr., who came down to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. W. G. Meisinger, of Plattsmouth. She was accompanied by her two daughters, Miss Leona Thimman and Mrs. Walter Happel, but they returned home soon after the funeral and Mrs. Thimman stayed over until last Sunday evening for a short visit with relatives.

The guests arrived early and each family brought along a well filled basket and the dinner was one long to be remembered and was so plentiful that a big supper was also served. Among the guests were Mrs. Schoeman's father, George Delezene, —Louisville Courier.

PURCHASES HOME HERE

From Saturday's Daily. Peter Wendell and wife of Dallas, South Dakota, who have on several occasions, been visitors in this city at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ockerbloom, have decided that this city is a mighty good place to live and they have accordingly purchased the residence property of Earl R. Travis on Rock street and will move their family here at once. Mr. Wendell has been engaged in farming in Dakota for a number of years and feels now that he is entitled to a rest and in the search for a suitable home decided on Plattsmouth as the most suitable.

HAS VISIT FROM UNWELCOME NIGHT CALLER

From Saturday's Daily. Frank Rauen, who resides at Pearl and Eleventh street is mourning the loss of a fine week old pig that was taken from the pen at his premises sometime during the night and the party taking the animal seems to have made a clean getaway. The pen is made very secure and there was no possibility of the pig getting out without assistance and the night caller seems to be ahead a good young pig. Frank is of the opinion that misfortunes never come singly as he suffered the loss of a fine cow that died and this was followed by the death of three of his older hogs and to top this he was laid off from work for the past six weeks by a severe accident at the shops that almost resulted in the loss of two fingers of his right hand and from which he has not yet fully recovered.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE WEDDED

From Saturday's Daily. This morning Curtis M. Bell of Beatrice and Miss Alinee A. Nourse of Omaha, were callers at the office of County Judge Allen J. Beeson to secure the necessary permit that would allow them to assume the burdens of matrimony and the judge with his accustomed pleasing manner provided the much desired paper that spelled happiness for the young people. They then departed for the residence of Rev. A. V. Hunter, of the Methodist church to have the final ceremony that would make them as one performed.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FARTHING TODAY

Body is Brought in From Omaha This Morning and Burial Had at Farthing Lot at Oak Hill Cemetery

From Saturday's Daily. This morning the body of Mrs. Charles Farthing arrived in the city on No. 6 over the Burlington and was taken direct from the train to Oak Hill cemetery, where it was laid to rest in the Farthing family lot.

Mrs. Farthing passed away yesterday at the home in Omaha, aged thirty years, after an illness of some duration and the funeral services were held at the home in that city.

The body was accompanied here by the husband and the father-in-law, Jerry Farthing and wife who accompanied the funeral cortege to the cemetery.

The Farthing family were for many years residents of this city, where Jerry Farthing was among the best known of our citizens, but for the past fifteen years they have made their home in Omaha. The misfortune that has come to them will be greatly regretted by the many old friends here who had known the family so well during the years of their residence in this city.

BUSHEE MAY FAIL TO LAND RENOMINATION

Portion of District Goes Heavily Against President Pro Tem of Senate.

From Saturday's Daily. Returns from throughout the state on candidates for the state legislature have been slow coming in, particularly in districts where there were spirited contests. The warmest contests among legislative candidates occurred where non-partisan league men filed as republicans against regular republicans. In some instances favorite republican candidates were also written on the democratic ballot in order at least to have that nomination against the possible successful leaguer in the November election.

This was the case of E. A. Cook of Lexington, who was filed as a republican, and defeated by J. M. Beams in the republican primary, but received enough democratic votes to nominate him as a democrat.

Senator B. K. Bushee, president pro tem of the state senate, and who as acting governor signed the Kirk furlough, seems to have a real fight on his hands. Bushee's home county is Kimball, from which no returns have been received. However, in Cheyenne county, Bushee received only 55 votes against 375 for Uptergrove, and 195 for Potter.
