The nation has been dried and found wanting.

She is a wise wife who pretends to believe everything her husband tells her.

Low moans increased in volume; it's the towns that didn't come up to their census expectations.

The league of nations will be an issue in the campaign, Mr. Homer Cummings, democratic national chairman, says.

A New York doctor has discovered a new war disease. Evidently the government has heard nothing about it as no appropriation has been made for it.

Indiana announces the arrival of a baby boy who has eleven grandparents. Unless his parents are of stern uncompromising sort, we fear that is going to be a badly spoiled child.

The Hohenzollerns in Holland are protesting against the close watch that is kept upon them. Well, they brought it upon themselves. They gave their word of honor that they would not try to escape.

That "coincidental" Mary Eckford speaks of wherein Owen Moore "happened" to be in Nevada the very day the Reno sheriff wanted to serve divorce papers on him sounds much like a movie coincidence.

The object, we understand, of the presidential primary is to learn something of the sentiment of the people towards the avowed candidates. And we leave it to you if the primary is not a shining success.

"As usual," writes a Chicago man to his newspaper, "the Tribune cannot submit an editorial without showing decided partisan bias. Pray, gentle reader, tell us what would be the purpose of such an editorial?"

Oregon wants Senator Lodge to run for vice-president, but, probably an unbiased examination of Senator Lodge's career and accomplishments will fail to disclose justifiable reason for such a mark of public displeasure.

Mr. Edison says we shorten our lives by overeating. Mr. Edison has confused his audience. The ones who are dead are the ones who shortened their lives. We're a different outfit.

The Topeka man who recently lost his temper and talked roughly to the telephone operator has been fined $50, and there is no complaint from him or any other local source that the price was excessive.

Some cigarette smokers are refusing to worry about the talk of shortage of tobacco. They say they have been getting along without the real thing so long it wouldn't affect them if they have to smoke alfalfa straight.

It now develops that the Cincinnati drug firm which was reported to have laid in a stock of a million gallons of whisky really bought only a million dollars worth of whisky. Which makes all the difference in the world.

Here's a bit of information that will not surprise you: William Fuld & Sons of Baltimore, ouija board manufacturers, have had to spend $125,000 to enlarge their factory. And the chances are Sir Oliver Lodge doesn't get a cent commission.

It's a wonder the safe blowing business doesn't collapse from the very lack of brains within its own personnel. In Pittsburgh the other night a safe was blown and rifled and then the blowers walked out with money and left nine dozen eggs on top of the safe.

MAINE MEMORIAL TO BLAINE

One of the events that will mark the centennial year of Maine as a member of the American union of states will be the long delayed and final welcome home, as the Kennebec Journal says, of James G. Blaine, the greatest figure that Maine has contributed to American public life.

For twenty-seven years the monument of Blaine in Rock Creek cemetery in Washington has been a hickory tree, whose broken top speaks of storms, while at the foot of his grave is a white stone and on it only the initials, "J. G. B." He is now to have a stately tomb and memorial in his home city, to which the remains are to be transferred in June. The site is one to which Mr. Blaine frequently went on Sunday rambles and the view that it commands is said to have few equals in all the length of the "imperial Kennebec" that Mr. Blaine, so much loved and praised. A part of the memorial will be a stone seat, from which the beautiful view may be observed at leisure. The spot is just above and adjoining the Augusta cemetery, in which the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine, who died in infancy, is buried. With the body of Mr. Blaine will be brought also that of Mrs. Blaine and their son, Walker.

It is easy to understand the state pride and affection that have determined the final disposition of the remains of the state's most distinguished citizen, and these long delayed honors by tomb and shaft and park to the memory of "Blaine, Blaine, Blaine of Maine", whose name is enrolled with those of that small group of American statesmen, whom in turn destiny was thought certain to have designated to the presidency, but who, with all their distinguished services, their superlatives of leadership and devotion—inspiring charters failed of the high honor.

We have no national cemetery for statesmen as we have for soldiers and sailors. Washington is the scene of their careers and of their triumphs, if they triumph, and of their disappointments. But it is never home, and home is where they desire, and are desired, to return at last. Blaine was so long a conspicuous and commanding figure in public life, so long a popular idol, and to such an eminent degree belonged to the nation as well as to a state, that the whole country will regard with satisfaction the memorial in his honor by Maine.

BURGLARY CASE IS STILL A MYSTERY

No Trace Has Been Found of Parties Who Entered McElwain Store and Made Away With Booty

From Saturday's Daily.

All efforts to get a trace of the person or persons who made the successful haul at the B. A. McElwain store on Thursday night, has proven fruitless and the parties that committed the act are still at large.

The loss sustained by Mr. McElwain will run in the neighborhood of $1,000 as he has discovered by a check of the stock the theft of many articles that were not missed at the time of the robbery, and including the loss of a number of watches which had been left out of the safe at the closing time Thursday.

The robbing of the store makes the third burglary that Mr. McElwain has been through as on two previous occasions he has had visits from the unwelcome night callers but in this case his loss is not as heavy as on previous occasions. At one of the robberies Mr. McElwain was sleeping in a small room adjoining the store room he was then occupying and the robber on that occasion proceeded to give Bert a dash of dope that put him in dreamland while the visitors proceeded to carry off the greater part of his stock, so that on this occasion he can feel very fortunate in not suffering a greater loss than he did.

How is Your Complexion?

A woman should grow more beautiful as she grows older and she will with due regard to baths, diet and exercise, and by keeping her liver and bowels in good working order. If you are haggard and yellow, your eyes losing their lustre and whites becoming yellowish, your flesh flabby, it may be due to indigestion or to a sluggish liver. Chamberlain's Tablets correct these disorders.

NOT A WELL DAY IN ELEVEN YEARS

Lincoln Man Takes Tanlac and Says He Has Gained Sixteen Pounds as Result.

"I never knew what a well day was in eleven years till Tanlac straightened me out," said C. A. Crawford, contracting painter and paper hanger, living at 2323 Q St., Lincoln, Neb.

"I had been in such a wretched state of health for so long," he continued, "that I was a total wreck. I couldn't sleep well and my stomach was in such a dreadful condition that nothing I would eat agreed with me and I lost weight till I was little more than a living skeleton, for I had gotten down to one hundred pounds. Every summer my vitality would run low and I would have to take to my bed and be laid up for three or four months at a time."

"Finally I got a bottle of Tanlac and soon after starting on it my appetite improved so I could enjoy my food and I started up hill again. I have already gotten back sixteen pounds of my lost weight and am still gaining right along. My nerves are so much stronger and I have improved so much in every way that I feel like a different man. I have been working hard every day the past summer, sleep like a log every night and feel fine all the time. I am now full of life and energy and I don't hesitate to say Tanlac has done more for me than everything else I have tried put together."

Tanlac is sold in Plattsmouth by F. G. Fricke and Company and the leading druggist in every town.

NOTICE TO NON-RESIDENT DEFENDANTS

In the District Court of Cass county, Nebraska.

Richard A. Johnson, Plaintiff, vs. Wm. D. Merriam and Merriam, his wife (first real name unknown); E. E. Speck, a single man; William Brookaw, a single man; Frank M. Price, a single man; Johnathan E. The State of Nebraska, to all persons interested in said estate, creditors and heirs, take notice, that Mary E. Carney has filed her petition alleging that Andrew Barry died intestate in Cass county on or about June 15, 1914, being a resident and inhabitant of Cass county and the owner of the following described real estate, to-wit: Thirty-three acres off the south side of Lot 27 in Section thirty-three (33) and Lot twenty-seven (27) being the South half of Lot three (3) in Section thirty-three (33), all in Township twelve (12) North, Range fourteen (14) East, together with all accretions now made or hereafter acquired, all of said lands being in Cass county, Nebraska; leaving as his sole and only heirs at law the following named persons, to-wit: His widow, Elizabeth Barry; Lena Jordan, daughter; Robert Barry, son; Edward Barry, son; Mary Carney, daughter; Agnes Bach, daughter; George Barry, son and praying for a decree barring claims; that said decedent died testate; that no application for administration has been made and the estate of said decedent has not been administered in the State of Nebraska, and that the heirs at law of said decedent as herein set forth shall be decreed to be the owners in fee simple of the above described real estate, which has been set for hearing on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1920, at ten o'clock a. m.

Dated at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, this 2nd day of April, A. D. 1920.
ALLEN J. BEESON, County Judge.

Unwavering Power

depends quite as much on correct lubrication as on suitable fuel.

It is quick, complete combustion that generates power in a motor; but it is lubricating oil that supplies the seal which insures full compression of the fuel charge and which holds the explosive gases behind the pistons and makes them work.

Polarine does this effectively—and more. Between engaging parts and in bearings it maintains a protective oil cushion that insures quiet, smooth operation with minimum vibration, wear and strain. Keeps motors fit the year round and makes overhauling and repair bills small.

Buy Polarine for your motor at the same place you buy big-mileage, quick-fire Red Crown Gasoline—at first class garages and service stations where this sign is displayed.

How Diphtheria is Contracted

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. If your child has a cold when diphtheria is prevalent you should take him out of school and keep him off the street until fully recovered, as there is a hundred times more danger of his taking diphtheria when he has a cold. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

The great benefit derived from the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been gratefully acknowledged by many. Mrs. Benjamin F. Blakeney, Deatur, Ill., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is by far the best medicine for colds and coughs we have ever used in our family. I gave it to my children when small for a group and have taken it myself."

The merchant who doesn't advertise only when business is good will eventually quit it entirely.
