Union Lad a Fruit Canner
Mathew Shumaker, living near Union, has proven that he can do things when it comes to competing with others, or singly as to that. He joined the canning club of boys at the state farm at Lincoln, and during the past summer canned 169 quarts of fruits and vegetables together. His net profit was $72, while the expenses including the cost of the material canned, $42.09 leaving a net profit of $39.93 or 18 cents per can. He has this to say that while he was interested in the matter of canning for some time that during the past year he has learned more about canning than he had during all the time before.

Expect to Organize a Band
There is some talk of organizing a band for Union, as there is now people here who have taken all the parts which is required to make a band and the matter would not be difficult. A band for Union would be a source of recreation and some work also, besides it would give the town a good deal of profitable advertising. The spirit which makes success in here and all have the needed ability.

Will Hold Bake Sale.
The ladies of the Baptist church will hold their monthly bake sale on Saturday, May 22, taking the day off from school. Instead of the third time, on account of the month coming in on Saturday. All interested in the success of the sale are asked to contribute their work and baking, and those who are needing something for the Sunday dinner are asked to purchase from the ladies, as they will hold their sale there on the above date.

Gave Very Interesting Demonstration
C. F. Schmidtman of Plattsmouth and one of the boys who was in the service when the war had closed, went west to look after the matter of securing a homestead which the government was offering to the service men. There he found a country which appealed to him, and acquired lands there. He also accepted the position of salesman for lands there and last Monday had a demonstration of the lands grow. His exhibit which was shown in the windows of the postoffice at Union was surely a great testimony of that country. Those who had the opportunity to see the products needed nothing else to convince them.

Undergoes an Operation
Mrs. Charles Garrison who has been at the sanitarium at Lincoln for some time where she has been receiving treatment, returned home last Tuesday feeling rather badly, and on Thursday went to the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha, where on Monday she underwent an operation for the removal of gall stones and in the operation had a large number removed. The operation proved very successful and the patient was feeling considerable relieved.

70 CENTS AN HOUR FOR HARVEST HANDS

Kansas Sets the Pace by Deciding on This Wage—Board Included—Season Starts Soon.

Lincoln, May 11.—The state labor department received today a bulletin of the federal employment service headquarters at Kansas City, announcing that at a meeting of the harvest labor conference at Hutchinson, Kansas, a wage of 70 cents per hour has been fixed for harvest hands the wage to include board. The wage for stackers, enginemen and cooks is left open for settlement between employer and employe.

Harvest work will start in Oklahoma about June 10 and in Kansas June 15 to 20.

The portion of the bulletin relating to Nebraska is as follows: "Early reports are to the effect that this state will harvest approximately the same acreage of wheat as in 1918, that is, slightly in excess of 3,000,000 acres. A great deal of labor from outside the state is needed during the harvest period and many men find it possible to put in two or three weeks in Nebraska following their work in Kansas, finishing in ample time to take part in the work in South and North Dakota. Cutting starts in the extreme southeastern counties July 1 to 10, and in the Sidney district about July 10 to 15. Farmers in this state usually pay the same scale as set in Kansas. "Permanent distribution offices are located in Omaha and Lincoln."

NEHAWKA News-Ledger

Rev. W. E. Moore is in attendance this week at the quadrennial M. E. Conference at Des Moines, Iowa, leaving Thursday morning. The directors gave the pastor a two weeks vacation with a donation of $75 expense money, which the pastor no doubt appreciates very much.

A number of mat fans from this place drove to Plattsmouth Wednesday evening to attend the wrestling match between Frank Schmarder, who is now employed at the quarry in this place, operating the steel shovel, and Ray Zimmerman of South Dakota, former middleweight champion of the world.

L. G. Plybon and son Chester, went to Plattsmouth last Saturday and came home driving a new car. They had made the purchase the week before, but on account of bad roads they had left the car there until Saturday. The new car is a Ford, but it is up to date having an electric starter and electric lights.

The bump of covetousness had been so thoroughly instilled in the mind of some party or parties that it led them to break another of God's commandments, when on Thursday evening of last week, the barn belonging to Grandpa Rose was entered and two automobile tires were stolen from his son Fred Rose. The thief stripped the tires off the wheels. The seats had been removed in search for other valuable tools or accessories, but nothing further was missing. No trace was left that would give any clue as to who the guilty party or parties were and no one has been suspected of the theft. It is not often such as this happens in Nehawka, but now since it occurred, it might be well to provide a little barrage in the way of lock and chains.
