AGED LADY IS BURIED LAST WEEK

Grandma Current Was Laid to Rest in Cemetery at Elmwood Tuesday.

From Monday's Daily.
On Tuesday morning occurred the funeral services of Mrs. Caroline Current, who died at Minatare, Neb., where she had been making her home with a son. Mrs. Current was well known by many of the earlier residents of this place having lived here a number of years. The services were conducted by Rev. Longacre and burial was made in the Elmwood cemetery beside her husband who died a number of years ago.

The following is the obituary:
Caroline Colburn was born at Flat Rock, Indiana, on November 14, 1831, and died at Hastings, Neb., on June 4, 1920, aged 88 years, 6 months and 20 days. Her father, John H. Colburn was a Methodist minister and her mother a woman well fitted to preside over his home. So from earliest childhood Caroline was trained in a Christian home.

At the age of ten years she removed with her father's family to Savannah, Mo., in Andrew county. Here she grew to womanhood amid the surroundings of a new country. Her father was a scholarly man above the average of his time and although educational advantages were few he taught his children himself and laid the foundation for the acquirement of much valuable information.

When she was about twelve years old Caroline united with the church of which her father was pastor and remained through her long life a faithful Christian worker.

On May 8th, 1850 she was united in marriage to James Alfred Current. With him she lived an affectionate companion for over forty-seven years. He died in 1897. To them were born nine children all of whom are living except one who died in infancy and one daughter who died in 1912.

She was a faithful wife, a good mother and a true friend.

Mrs. Current had twenty grandchildren, ten boys and ten girls, and twenty-four great grandchildren, nine boys and fifteen girls.

Those from out of town attending the funeral were Mrs. D. J. Roberts, Miss Marian Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Will Lota of Kenesaw, and Mr. W. P. Current of Omaha.

TRAIN STOPS OFTEN

From Monday's Daily.
Burlington train No. 5 from Chicago passing through this city at 8 o'clock a. m., stops here on an average of five out of seven mornings, but it is the uncertainty of the matters that prevents anyone having business to transact in the metropolis from waiting for it and taking a chance on its stopping.

The train has no scheduled stop here, but lets down passengers from points east of Pacific Junction and so important is Plattsmouth among the traveling public that nearly every morning one or more stop off of No. 5 here.

The commercial club plans to get the railroad authorities to include Plattsmouth among the scheduled stops of this deluxe train from the east and in view of the large number of mornings it is compelled to stop to let off passengers, it should prove an easy undertaking.

HAS BEAUTIFUL PIECE OF PERIOD DESIGNING

Emil J. Weyrich Completes a Phonograph That is Perfect Piece of Designing of Italian Renaissance

From Tuesday's Daily.
For over the past year Emil J. Weyrich the druggist, has been engaged in working on a phonograph cabinet that he had conceived in his mind that would equal both in design and workmanship the very expensive models that are on the market today. The finished result of his work is on the floor of the store today and those who have had the pleasure of looking over the piece of work have been loud in their praises of the splendid results secured.

In seeking a type of period furniture Mr. Weyrich decided on that of the Italian renaissance as being the most perfect of the artistic development that was brought about in the changing conditions in Europe in the fifteenth century and which brought to the front the wonderful artistic and beautiful types that replaced the previous heavy and ponderous gothic styles.

It was sixteen months ago that the idea of the construction of this case was first born and Mr. Weyrich at once prepared to carry out his inspiration but to this work he was only able to devote a very small portion of his odd time. To secure the material was one of the big problems of the workman and Mr. Weyrich has been constantly on the search for the best qualities of walnut timber that might be used in this case that was to enclose the mechanical soul of the phonograph. Where ever any amount of this old and seasoned walnut could be found Mr. Weyrich was prompt in securing it and has as a result a perfectly matched and designed case. The panelings of this beautiful instrument are of the rarest mahogany and the carvings and designing artistic in the extreme and perfect types of the designs that were originated by the Italian artists in the renaissance. This period in the field of architecture is one that has left its impression upon the European world and its influence has given to the world the exquisite creations in the light delicate types that replaced the previous heavier types and even in the designs of the Elizabethan and the early Stuart period in England this lighter type has left its impress. The Italian type has been the greatest in demand among collectors and commands the highest figures.

Every piece of work in the cabinet with the exception of the laboratory model of the New Edison has been carried out by Mr. Weyrich and the result is one that the owner can well feel proud of.

GREENWOOD WINNER OF SUNDAY'S GAME

Red Sox of This City Receive Shut Out at Hands of the Fast Team of Greenwood, 6 to 0

From Monday's Daily.
The Red Sox base ball team of this city journeyed out to Greenwood yesterday morning to take on the formidable base ball organization of that city and on their arrival they found that the Greenwood team had made preparations for a real game as Meyers of the Western League was the backstop for the team. Greenwood has one of the best teams in this portion of the state aside from any battery they might secure and the showing made by the locals was very pleasing.

For the Red Sox Connors did the slak work and pitched a clean and fast game and held his opponents to scattering hits, although in third inning through a timely hit and several fumbles the visitors registered four of their scores at home.

William Patrick O'Donnell proved the spectacular star of the game when he grabbed off two of the long high flies of the Salt Creekers from the fence and added in checking the score.

The Red Sox several times had runners on the bases but none were in danger of getting over the plate. For the Greenwood team Jardine and Armstrong were the fielding stars while Lyek was one of the chief operatives with the big stick.

The score of 6 to 0 which was the final result of the struggle was a much better game than had been anticipated when the formidable array of base ball talent was looked over by the Sox before starting in, and shows that the Sox are capable of playing mighty good ball when it is necessary.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Last evening the fire alarm sent from the Burlington shops drew a large number of the citizens and employees to the scene of the blaze which was found to be in a small frame building that is used for the storage of brass as a part of the brass foundry.

The fire originated from a number of hot ingots of brass which had been left in the building too near the wooden partitions and which after smoldering for several hours burst into flames and damaged the building to the amount of $250 it is estimated.

The ingots had been run out shortly before the closing time and placed in the building and were left too near the partition and as no one was working after that time, had a good opportunity to catch the wood partition ablaze.
