COX LOOKS GOOD TO BOTH WET AND DRY

BLESSING BESTOWED BY DEMOCRATS OF BOTH SIDES—GOING INTO EVERY STATE

AT CAPITAL TO SEE WILSON

Given the Party O. K. by Senators Shepard and Hitchcock—League of Nations to Be Discussed Today

Washington, July 17.—The national capital gave a cordial welcome today to Governor Cox, democratic presidential nominee, upon his arrival for a conference tomorrow with President Wilson. Met at the station by Franklin D. Roosevelt, his running mate, and other prominent democrats, a crowd of several thousand persons cheered and almost stampeded Governor Cox in their reception. He shook hands with scores, posed for moving picture men and was greeted by many en route to the home of former Representative T. T. Amsherry of Ohio, his host. Preliminary to his conference with President Wilson at 1:30 tomorrow at the White house, Governor Cox talked over campaign questions with several party spokesmen. He will see other tomorrow before leaving at 4:50 p. m. for Columbus.

The league of nations and other international questions, Governor Cox told newspaper men, will be the principal issues discussed with President Wilson.

"The president knows more about international affairs than anyone I know and I am here to counsel with him," the governor said. "It will be the first time," he added, "that I have seen him since his illness, but our relations have always been very cordial."

The league of nations also was the main subject of a conference tonight between the governor and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking democrat of the senate foreign relations committee and administration spokesman in the senate treaty fight. They declared they were in perfect harmony on the league of nations. Senator Hitchcock said the governor's views also were in accord with those of the president. The senator expressed the opinion that all the democratic leaders would be in accord with the governor.

Senator Sheppard, leader of the dry forces in the senate, declared after a five minute talk with Governor Cox that he was perfectly satisfied with the governor's stand on the prohibition question and that he not only would support him but would take the stump for him.

Another conference was with Victor Murdock, of the federal trade commission, who was among those considered at the San Francisco convention for the vice presidential nomination. The governor said their information he wished from Mr. Murdock referred to the high cost of living and profiteering and "other subjects of considerable economic importance."

The governor reiterated that he would go into every state and said:

Car New Salt Just Unloaded!

Nice bright cooperage, both plain and sulphur block salt. Also have a few hundred sacks of old wheat flour left, upon which we can make a very attractive price. Call and see me.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE MEETING

Held at Weeping Water Yesterday
J. M. Teegarden Chairman and Will Robertson, Secy.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The Cass county republican central committee met at Weeping Water yesterday and a very large attendance of the membership was present, both of the ladies and male members of the county steering organizations. The meeting was called to order by James M. Teegarden, of Weeping Water as the county chairman, and in the perfection of the committee organization for the coming two years. Mr. Teegarden was once more chosen to pilot the political craft of his party in this county. Attorney William A. Robertson of this city was selected as the secretary of the committee for the ensuing campaign.

The meeting took up the matter of vacancies on the ticket for the fall election and County Commissioner William Atchison, who has made such an excellent record during the time he has been in office, was named to fill the un-expired term in the third district. In the office of county assessor the committee took no action as there was no one willing to assume the burdens of the position.

COX SEES PARTY HEADS ON RETURN TO COLUMBUS

Columbus, O., July 19.—Conferees on democratic campaign plans engaged Governor Cox, the party standard bearer, immediately upon his return today from Washington.

Homers S. Cummings, chairman, and many members of the national committee arrived today for the meeting of the full committee tomorrow and kept Governor Cox busy with discussions of selecting a campaign manager, speaking tours, finances and other affairs.

Governor Cox declined to reply to the statement of Senator Harding calling for a bill of particulars of the governor's conference with President Wilson. Stating that he was "very much pleased" with the results of his talk with the president, Governor Cox reiterated with respect to Mr. Harding's statement that he would not engage in a wire debate with the opposition.

"In my speech of acceptance," said the governor, "I will answer all that I deem requires an answer."

The national committee is to meet tomorrow morning.

The mercantile who doesn't advertise only when business is good will eventually quit it entirely.

The governor asked that attention be called to the fact that the democratic national committee would meet Tuesday at Columbus instead of Dayton. Chairman Cummings had called it for Dayton, but the nominee had it transferred to Columbus.

After a reception arranged by the District of Columbia commissioners in the presidential room at the station, the governor drove to the home of Judge T. T. Amsherry.

As the governor first came into view walking briskly up the train platform a roar of cheers went up from the crowd which had waited more or less impatiently for the arrival of the train, which was an hour late. A brass band added its din to the welcoming noise.

After running through an accumulation of more than 2,500 congratulatory letters and telegrams, Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic vice presidential nominee, announced today that more than a third of them were from progressive republicans pledging their support of the democratic presidential ticket.
