PRESENTED CLAIMS OF CASS COUNTY

Members of Board of Equalization, County Clerk and Assessor at Lincoln Yesterday.

From Saturday's Daily.

The members of the board of county commissioners, acting as a board of equalization and accompanied by County Clerk George R. Sayles and County Assessor G. L. Farley, were in Lincoln yesterday where they presented the claim of Cass county against further advances in the assessed valuation of farm land. The increase made by the local board was exactly fifty per cent over that of 1916, and then along comes the state board and hikes it another ten per cent.

There were thirty-five counties represented at the hearing before the state board yesterday and while a few evidenced genuine soreness over the advance, the majority seemed to only want fair play. The board took the various protests under advisement and will in a few days announce its decision in the matter.

The present average valuation of farm lands in Cass county on the assessor's books is $150.50 per acre and the ten per cent increase would hike it to $165.55.

The average increase for the state at large is 64 per cent on farm lands while other real estate is increased 39 per cent. Personal property in the state is valued 40 per cent higher.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC.

In compliance with law the property owners of the county are notified that it will be necessary to have the weeds cut along the highways of Cass county by the 15th day of August, the last day fixed by law for this purpose. The citizens are requested to give this matter their closest attention. By order of the board of County Commissioners. d&w-tf.

LOOKING AFTER VIOLATORS

From Thursday's Daily.
E. P. Buck, justice of the peace of Weeping Water, was in the city today for a few hours, visiting at the court house. Mr. Buck has had more or less trouble in his bailiwick over the practice of the auto drivers neglecting to have numbers on their cars and failing to have the license plate fixed in their car as required by law and his protests have been in vain in checking this practice. Mr. Buck has a list of some fourteen cars that have been running without the proper license and the owners may have a serious time in answering for this violation of the law. The law is very strict in regard to the violation of this law and especially as regards the numbers on cars and the state "smelling" department of the law enforcement bureau at Lincoln have had a number of agents out at different times rounding up those who have sought to get away with something by not having their cars properly numbered. Mr. Buck is not desirous of making trouble for anyone but is getting tired of the seemingly reckless law violation.

From Thursday's Daily.
Three new cases were docketed in the office of the clerk of the district court yesterday afternoon, being Cash L. Wiles vs. Mrs. Jane A. Harper et al and C. A. Richey vs. Samuel Edenfield et al, both suits to quiet title. The case of A. W. Propst vs. Omar K. Yardley et al was also filed, involving the settlement over some machinery purchased and for which a note had been given. William A. Robertson appears as attorney for the plaintiff in each of these three cases.

VEGETABLES DO NOSE DIVE ON MARKET

SHARP REDUCTIONS APPARENT IN ALL LINES OF GARDEN TRUCK.

RELIEF FROM H. C. OF L.

Potatoes Drop to $1 a Peck—Bottom Falls Out of Tomato Prices—Peaches Arrive.

From Saturday's Daily.

The price of vegetables is really and truly on the Toboggan and old man H. C. L. is due for a jolt. Plattsmouth dealers are offering all sorts of garden truck at much lower prices than existed two weeks or even a week ago.

The most staple is probably potatoes. At early digging they were selling three to four pounds for a half a dollar and up until a week ago retailed at ten cents a pound and in some instances three pounds for a quarter. Now the price ranges around a dollar a peck, or 6 2-3 cents a pound. The spuds are home grown and great big ones such as Nebraska is famed for raising.

Tomatoes are another commodity to come down rapidly. The imported ones were on the market a week ago and still sold for from 15 to 20 cents per pound, but with the advent of home grown ones, the market broke and the selling price today is six cents a pound with every indication that they will go still lower.

Home grown water melons have not reached the market yet, but are due to arrive in about ten days. There has been considerable reduction on the shipped in ones however, and they are now selling from 3 1/2 to 5 cents a pound, depending on the quality and lusciousness of the fruit.

Good old roasting ear time is at hand, and that solves the problem for many a perplexed housewife. Select corn is selling at 20 cents per dozen ears and within the next week promises to go considerably lower, it is said.

Canning peaches are also on hand, and at a price lower than was anticipated, selling for around $1.75 per crate. Dealers predict this will be the bed-rock price. Sugar for canning is also off in price, best cane selling for 24 cents and beet for 22 cents per pound. It is said lower prices on this staple commodity are impossible until the new crop comes in about October 1st.

The berry supply is about exhausted and only a few blackberries are now on display. To take their place wild grapes have begun arriving and the tame ones will soon follow.

There are plenty of cucumbers and home grown cabbage and mango peppers are displayed in most of the stores.

Apples are scarce and what there are bring good prices for this time of the year.

TWELVE WILL BE LEFT IN TOWN

From Saturday's Daily.
Indications are there will be but twelve of our worthy male citizens left in town when the special train pulls out Monday evening for Omaha, laden with visitors to the Ak-Sar-Ben den show. It happens that Monday is the scheduled night for council meeting and upon the mayor, city clerk and ten councilmen devolves the task of remaining at home. If it were not a meeting at which extraordinary business would come up, it might be dispensed with, but bids are due to be opened for paving the cemetery avenues, and so the councilmen must remain behind while their friends and neighbors enjoy the hospitality of the Omaha boosters.

STATE FIRE INSPECTOR VISITOR IN CITY

Eddie Haduk, Formerly of Omaha, Fire Department Inspects Basements and Buildings.

From Saturday's Daily.

Eddie Haduk of Omaha, state fire inspector for this district, was in the city yesterday afternoon and today inspecting the basements and business buildings. Mr. Haduk was formerly connected with the Omaha fire department for a number of years, during which time he visited here on numerous occasions.

In conversation with the Journal representative he stated that many of the basements are in such condition as to harbor fire danger, while he found much of the inside electrical wiring far from passing Underwriter's regulations.

Where the conditions were dangerous to public safety he ordered some improvement be made.

Mr. Haduk's work takes him over a district on inspection work, although considerable of his time is spent in Omaha.

S. C. SCOTTEN WAS GREAT PIT OPERATOR

Relative of Plattsmouth Folks Succumbs to Heart Disease at Home in Windy City.

From Saturday's Daily.

Press dispatches today tell of the death of S. C. Scotten of Chicago, a brief account of which appeared in yesterday's Journal, and on account of which Mrs. W. T. Scotten and daughter, Miss Margaret, were called to the windy city.

Mr. Scotten, who was a brother of the late W. T. Scotten of this city and had visited here on numerous occasions is said to have been the largest board of trade operators prior to the advent of James C. Patten, the wheat king. He was 68 years of age.

Among other business connections he was a director of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad and other companies. He was also a former business partner of John W. ("Bet a Million") Gates, and owned what is said to be the fifth largest art collection in America including several Rembrandts. A part of his pictures were insured for $1,500,000.

Mr. Scotten was born at Burlington, Ia., October 31, 1851, and leaves several daughters besides more distant relatives.

FUN FOR EVERYONE HERE ON LABOR DAY

Shop Men Sparing No Efforts to Provide Amusement—Complete Program Soon.

From Saturday's Daily.

That the shop unions are arranging for a real celebration on Labor Day is self-apparent when one takes note of the spirit into which they are making and carrying out plans for the big event.

With an all-day picnic as the nucleus about which will be woven the entertainment, there is every good reason why Plattsmouth folks should find their Labor day amusement and recreation right here at home.

Last year the shop men staged a celebration of considerable moment, but which was of small consequence in comparison with the one now planned.

Keep your eyes open for the program soon to be released thru the publicity committee. It will be some event, believe us.
