Nebraska's 340 Lodges Sending 8 Delegates to Sovereign Grand Lodge, Two From Lincoln

From Friday's Daily.

Nebraska Odd Fellows will be represented at the sovereign grand lodge in Boston next month by eight elected delegates and probably several who will go on their motion. The hundredth anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America will be celebrated at this time, and Boston is preparing to entertain thousands of visitors. The Nebraska delegation will include Grand Representative J. W. McKisick of Beatrice and Mrs. McKisick, E. J. Farr of Blair, A. P. Hansen of Omaha, grand representative from the encampment; Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Hoagland of North Platte, and Dr. and Mrs. E. Arthur Carr of Lincoln. The grand lodge will convene September 26 and adjourn October 1, and three days of that time will be given to anniversary celebrations.

The first Odd Fellows lodge was instituted in Baltimore in 1820, and there the sovereign grand lodge was founded shortly after. It now has jurisdiction over sixty-eight lodges, with more than two million members in 28,000 chartered lodges. Nearly a half billion dollars has been raised, most of which has been expended for the relief of five million members. The I. O. O. F. maintains fifty-five homes for the aged and orphans in the United States.

Nebraska City has the first of the 340 lodges in this state and Lincoln the eleventh. Several of the earliest organizations have discontinued.

PHILOSOPHY FROM THE FORD WEEKLY

"Pretty Soft" the Common Thought When Speaking of Another's Job Shown in Timely Article.

Nearly every man you meet will give you the impression that he thinks the other man has an easier job. "Pretty soft for him" is a phrase which ought to be outlawed from every respectable vocabulary. If admitted at all, it should always be under the most careful scrutiny. The danger of it, as a germ of personal discontent and distrust, is that the man who uses it about another rarely hears it used concerning himself. Yet, there is not a man in the world, or a class of men, of whom it has not been said, "pretty soft for them!"

The shopmen passing the office window see a man sitting at a desk, apparently doing nothing. They are going home at 4:30. He will be at his desk until six—maybe he will come back in the evening. The men streaming out of the shop say, "pretty soft for him." At the desk may say, "pretty soft for them." No doubt both parties could make out a pretty good case before any jury. The men in the shop have left their work in the shop—"pretty soft for them!" They have nothing whatever to do with their job until they get back into the shop next day—"pretty soft for them!" If they break a machine, they are not required to carry it home with them in the evening and fix it—"pretty soft for them!" They have nothing whatever to do with making the business meet between the cost of material and labor, the difficulty of shipments, and all the rest; all they have to do is to do their day's work and draw their pay—"pretty soft for them!"

The man in the office hasn't any hours, if he is a responsible man, but that is no occasion to sing "pretty soft for him!" because as a usual thing his hours are too numerous for any schedule. If his work breaks down, he takes it home with him to fix it. He may think he is leaving it in his desk, but it is in his head—that is his "shop," by the way—and on his pillow. His work is not done in a day because it isn't a day's work; the next day and the next month, with their preparations are always crowding into today, joggling yesterday and last month's work, also come for their reparations. "Pretty soft for him!"

The truth is that everybody who is connected with a serviceable business is carrying about all the work a man ought to carry, and some are necessarily carrying more. The whole matter merely indicates the surroundings in which a man works, not the degree to which he works. The same with blue jeans.

And monotony—you will find monotony wherever you go. Ask the president of the United States; he will tell you something about the monotony of his job. Ask the doctor; he will tell you that his life is pretty much a round of the same old colds, the same old fevers, people being born and people dying in the same old way. There is a great deal of monotony in every profession, every job, every job. Ask the teacher's job is most monotonous. The writer just does the same thing over and over again, with the same motion of the wrist, using the same set of muscles, as a man on a small job in the shop might make. It is pretty much the same thing all the time, so far as the material plane goes and if there is no variety and life in the higher plane, then it is monotonous indeed.

Monotony really means monotony. It is life that makes the tone. It is ourselves that control the tone of life. Lives lived in a monotone indicate monotonous souls. It is inside a man that monotony has to be broken up—inside the man! Outside everything is always the same; the same old heart-beat-beat-beat; the same old breathing; the same old rotation of the earth, the same old light and darkness. Outside a man, everything goes on with a perfect sameness. If there is to be variety, color and life, it must be inside. "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth," but in the variety and vitality of the things which he is.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR WANTS RECORD CLEARED

Leavenworth, Kas., Aug. 20.—Samuel T. King, 74 years old, a resident of Joplin, Mo., appeared at the United States disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth and asked that he be locked up as a deserter or else that his civil war record be cleared. King wept while telling his story to Lieut. Colonel Rosenbaum, assistant commandant of the prison. Col. Rosenbaum refused to hold the aged veteran and said the matter would be investigated.

King had documents to show that he was honorably discharged February 10, 1865, on a surgeon's certificate of disability issued by the adjutant general of Missouri. He also showed papers from the bureau of records and pensions in Washington, which stated that he had twice deserted in 1864, being convicted of desertion by a court-martial between the time of the two alleged offenses. Should King's record be cleared, army officers declared he would be entitled to more than $20,000 in back pension.

HAD FIRST WELL DAY IN 25 YEARS

Feeling Fine Now, Miller Says—Taulac Has No Equal—Gains Fifteen Pounds.

"For twenty-five years I never knew what a well day was, but a year and a half ago I began taking Taulac and have enjoyed splendid health ever since," was the truly remarkable statement made by Fred C. Miller, well known contracting painter and paper hanger, living at 718 J street, who has been a resident of Lincoln, Nebraska, for forty years. "Finally got so weak and run down that I had to lay off from my work for days at a time," said Mr. Miller, "but Taulac has put me in such good shape that I haven't lost a bit of time since taking it. My appetite was very poor and what I did manage to eat felt heavy in my stomach and soured, forming gas, which pressed out around my heart, keeping me in misery nearly all the time. I suffered from constipation, having awful headaches and dizzy attacks, which lasted for hours at a time, and I was also troubled with severe pains in my left side. To cap it all, I took the painters' cold, and I just suffered terribly. My nerves became so unstrung that many nights I couldn't sleep a wink, and in the mornings I was so tired out and had such little energy that I could hardly get about. I had to live on soups and other light foods and fell off until I weighed only one hundred and thirty-five pounds, and although I took many different medicines, my condition was rapidly becoming worse."

"I read so many statements praising Taulac that I decided to try it myself and it's lucky for me that I did, for it has put an end to all my troubles. Why, after taking only four bottles my appetite was just fine, and you may know how well everything agreed with me by my big gain of fifteen pounds in weight. I am entirely free from headaches, dizzy spells, nervousness and pains in my side and am just feeling fine in every way. In all the years of my life I have never seen any medicine to equal Taulac, and I'm certainly glad to recommend it."

Taulac is sold in Plattsburgh by F. C. Fricke & Company and the leading druggist in every town.

COX ANXIOUS TO MEET HARDING

Declares He Is Sorry Senator Is Not to Speak at the Ohio State Fair on August 31st.

Columbus, O., Aug. 20.—Regret over his opponent's announcement that he probably will not make an address at the Ohio state fair, August 31, was expressed today by Governor Cox.

"I am very sorry Senator Harding is not going to speak," the governor said, "as I already have spent more than an hour preparing my speech, which I hope to deliver from the same platform. I had expected to request that I be permitted to speak first, granting the courtesy to the senator of being permitted to answer me."

Governor Cox spent today at the executive office in the capital looking after two boys who made an escape after two addresses tomorrow en route to Canton, where he will speak in the evening. He will make an address at Orville, where he will leave the train to go by automobile to the former city.

Governor Cox said today that he is going to investigate circumstances surrounding the taking off of workmen in various industries, following receipt of alleged information that republican leaders are planning to use "unemployment" as an argument to persuade workmen to vote against the democratic ticket. The presidential nominee said the survey first would be directed at the American woolen company and a "certain railroad system."

ENJOYS PLEASANT OCCASION

From Thursday's Daily.
 The girls of the Kezeshkone campfire yesterday afternoon enjoyed a very pleasant picnic party at Garfield park and which was attended by a large number of the members. The time was spent in games of all kinds as well as in the disposition of the store of good things to eat provided for the occasion by the members of the party. In the evening the young people formed a theater party at the Parmele to enjoy Wallace Reid in "Slek 'Abed."

FUNERAL OF MRS. J. N. WISE

From Thursday's Daily.
 The body of Mrs. J. N. Wise arrived in the city this afternoon at 1:12 over the Burlington and was accompanied by Judge Jesse L. Rose and wife. The funeral services were held this morning at the home in Omaha and the body taken direct to the Burlington station for shipment to the old home. At the station in this city a number of the old friends and neighbors were present to accompany the cortege to the grave. At Oak Hill cemetery a short service was held, the prayer being offered by Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church while a quartet com-

ROOT SUPPORTS SIDE OF THE SMALL NATIONS

The Hague, Aug. 20.—In the course of the jurists' conferences which have been held here to draw up plans for the organization of an international High Court of Justice, Raoul Fernandez, the Brazilian delegate, found Elihu Root a supporter in his fight for the interests of small nations.

At two different occasions, Mr. Root succeeded in inducing the conference to adopt articles which Senator Fernandez proposed. The first case was the right of the country which had no judge in the court to name a judge to sit while that country's case was before the court.

The second case in which Fernandez and Root closely collaborated was when the latter's proposal to extend the power of supplementary Judges was about to be rejected.

According to the original plan the vacancies caused through the absence of judges could only be filled when at least three judges were absent. Mr. Root, however, supported the Fernandez amendment, and the substitute takes the function as soon as one judge is absent. In these two cases the small powers are closely interested.

The small powers are to have a majority in the high court, there being five judges representing the big powers and six representing the small powers while the substitutes belong to the small countries. This majority was endangered by the old plan when in case of two absent judges the small powers vacancies would not be filled and the big powers would have a majority of five to four.

EDDIE RICKENBACKER SAFE

Columbus, O., Aug. 20.—Eddie Rickenbacker of Columbus, premier American ace during the war, is safe in New York City and not lost in the wilds of Mexico, according to his mother who lives here. Mrs. Rickenbacker said today she had received a telegram from Chicago a day or two ago from her son asking that his mail be forwarded to him from New York. Reports from Omaha told of word being received there from Rickenbacker saying he had been blown across the border in an aeroplane. The Omaha reports said friends feared for his safety.

THINK IT IS THE SITE OF ANCIENT TIBERIAS

London, Aug. 18.—The site of ancient Tiberias is believed to have been unearthed, says a Jerusalem dispatch to the London Times. The alleged discovery of the ruins of the city which played a notable part in Jewish and Christian history was made by workmen on a government road near Tabariyeh, the modern town. The Jewish Exploration society has been given permission to conduct further excavations.
