$500,000.00

To provide facilities to supply the increasing demand for local and long distance service, the Nebraska State Railway Commission has authorized an issue of $500,000.00 of the common voting stock of the—

Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Lincoln, Nebraska

This stock has paid dividends regularly every three months in January, April, July and October for the past 11 years at the rate of—

and is now being offered at its par and regular value of $100.00 per share in amounts to suit the purchaser, and presents an excellent opportunity for the safe investment of large amounts or small savings, and pays dividends from date of purchase.

It is free from normal Federal Income Tax and all Nebraska taxes, as these are paid by the company.

The stock issues and expenditures of this company are under the control of the Nebraska State Railway Commission, assuring fair rates to the public and protection of stockholders' interests.

The stock may be transferred at any time in whole or part on the books of the company without expense.

Adequate telephone service has become one of the prime and growing necessities of civilization, which fact gives absolute stability to telephone stock, and for a regular quarterly income stock in an established telephone company is the most satisfactory investment available.

This is an old established company with assets of $9,915,000 and furnishes exchange and long distance telephone service to 64,576 subscribers in 118 cities and towns in 22 counties of the fertile lands and prosperous communities of southeastern Nebraska. Its territory extends from the Missouri river on the east to the west line of Adams and Webster counties on the west, and from the Platte river on the north to the Kansas state line on the south, having an area of 12,500 square miles, with a population of 415,540 people.

Its present revenues amount to over $200,000 per month. It has 1,570 employees, and its stockholders and owners are the officers and employes of the company, hundreds of its subscribers and patrons, and many investors outside of Nebraska.

The officers and directors of the company are among the most prominent and successful business men of Nebraska, and are the same who are responsible for its continuous growth and prosperity.

7% net per annum, paid quarterly by a check for $17.50 for each $1,000.00 of stock you own, sent to your address every three months in January, April, July and October, is a good return on such a safe and conservative investment.

To secure some of this stock, send your check with your order for the number of shares you desire to purchase, and stock will be sent direct to you, or send the name of your bank to which certificate will be sent, and you can pay for it on receipt.

Reservations may be made for stock to be taken up within 60 days.

Uncle Sam claims to be experimenting in Louisiana and raising bamboo "shoots" 70 feet high in three weeks. Hope he is not trying to bamboozle the people down there. This is campaign year and we are prepared to hear almost anything, but there is a limit to what we can believe.

A Kansas girl has been sleeping several days. Here's a suggestion: Let some one whisper in her ear that the breakfast dishes are all washed and wiped and put away and see if she doesn't begin to stretch and yawn and show signs of waking up.

Even school teachers are not infallible. Although their first choice for the school dunce and the chief smart alec is just and permanent, they frequently are forced to change their minds about who shall be "teacher's pet" several times before Christmas.

No poll tax payment can be required of women who register for suffrage this year, says an opinion from the attorney-general's office. In other words, women will not be assessed for poll tax until next year. At present they are in the same category as young men who become of age after the 1st of February.

A man may be the boss of his own household, but his crown is liable to be tilted at a mighty dangerous angle if he leaves the refrigerator door open three times straight knowingly.

The Topeka Journal doubts if the instrument invented by an English scientist to determine whether people are telling the truth would work very well on the average politician in a campaign year.

"ALWAYS A CAMPAIGN ON"

"There is always a campaign on where Will Hayes is in charge," said Treasurer Upham on his second appearance before the senate committee. In explanation of the collection and disbursement of more than $1,000,000 by the Republican National Committee he seen December 18, 1918, and July 12, 1920. And by way of reminiscence, Mr. Upham remarked that "an hour after he (Hayes) was elected republican national chairman he telephoned me by long distance and asked me to try and raise some money.

A more sidelight this, perhaps, but revealing another fact of the interesting Republican chairman's character. That Mr. Hayes is a dynamic person is known by all. Lethargy flees his presence. Inertia departs when his name is announced. Figures and he are strangers. The fervor of the zealot is in his impassioned eloquence. An idealist who "can pronounce the name of Abraham Lincoln to bring tears to the eyes," said Meredith Nicholson once in a character sketch of his fellow Hoosier. He gives the impression, too, of being almost too finely fibered for the hurly-burly of politics; more at home in the cloistered calm of a library than along the broad highway.

But Mr. Hayes can grapple with facts and loses no time in grappling either. Immediately on assuming the chairmanship he called for money.

On the further authority of Mr. Upham we learn that, during what was previously a time of profound political peace, when, as Senator Kenyon observed there was no campaign committee collected and expanded more than $1,000,000.

No parallel for such off-season expenditures can be found even in the days when politics frankly wore the dollar mark. The Whitneys and the Hannas were super-financiers, but they did lay off between battles. It is different now. There was rest for the wicked in the bad days. There is no rest for the righteous now.

"There is always a campaign on where Will Hayes is in charge," and he, like Mark Hanna wants gobs of money. Anybody can manage a campaign with plenty of money and Will is surely getting the coin.
