The campaign is living up somewhat.

The majority of women have nerves and that is what it takes to wear the new styles.

The entire constitution was adopted Tuesday. Not a section defeated.

Governor Cox will be in Omaha Monday. The Ohio governor will be greeted by a big crowd.

FACT

Local Evidence

Evidence that can be verified. Fact is what we want. Opinion is not enough. Here's a Plattsmouth fact. You can test it.

J. B. Patridge, 8th and Locust streets, says: "Some years ago I was bothered a great deal on account of the bad condition of my kidneys, caused by hard work on the farm in my younger days. My kidneys acted very freely, at times causing me to get up a great deal during the night. At these times I was so bad I could hardly straighten. I had to walk with the aid of two canes. Not long after I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, I was well and I have not needed to take them any more. My kidneys were strengthened and acted regularly again. It has been several years since I have had to use a kidney remedy and I give Doan's the credit for the condition of my kidneys today. I got Doan's at Mauzy's drug store."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Patridge had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

No matter what happens you will always find plenty of people who predict it.

The Atchison Globe says women who wear knee watches don't care anything about what time it is.

Nearly everybody claims to possess "horse sense," but what we need is more folks who have automobile sense.

The eighteenth amendment covers wine; the nineteenth covers women. What will the twentieth amendment do to song?

The singular thing about that New Yorker who left a fortune to his landlady is that the landlady left him any fortune to leave.

A New York doctor proclaims that Scotch snuff is a sure cure for hay fever, but carelessly neglects to give the antidote for Scotch snuff.

Another difficulty the Italians find in becoming a bolshevik is the trouble he has making his long mustache spread upward in all directions.

A Massachusetts man celebrated his 101st birthday by drinking a quart of whiskey and smoking ten cigars. Well, boys will be boys.

It is, from at least two points of view, unfortunate that the hair done so compactly down over the feminine ears is not so soundproof as it looks.

The Polish statesman Grabisky, who wants another American loan, has a name calculated to make any finance minister in Europe turn green with envy.

Sometimes we stop to wonder what people did with the extra time before the day of the picture shows, for one thing, they didn't have so much extra time.

Rest and play seem to be about properly divided. The average man ought to be able to recover from the effects of a vacation of two weeks by fifty weeks of hard work.

Uncle Sam says that 5,600,000 firms and individuals are paying income taxes, but he says nothing whatever about an almost equal number who ought to be paying, but do not.

Now and then you find someone who is taking quite an interest in the campaign. Others regard it as the A. E. F. did the war—"Well, it's a helluva war, but it's the only one we got."

About the time a fellow begins to feel a personal interest in the young lady he sees in a dozen or so corset ads one month, the new magazines start to appear with another girl he never even met.

Italian scientists are reported to have discovered a way to make bread out of grapes. It will be regarded in many parts of this country as a sad perversion of the usefulness of a most useful fruit.

Women don't eat salads altogether because they are dainty and messy, and a lot of trouble to fix. Some salads are really quite wholesome and much better under certain circumstances than a full meal is popular with men folks.

"Women can vote as intelligently as men," says a contemporary. That's a very doubtful compliment. If they cannot vote with more intelligence than has been shown by some men of Plattsmouth at some recent events, the suffrage for women is useless.

"It seems no longer ago than yesterday that you used to toddle over to our house and sit on my lap," the elderly man went on telling the young lady, who was blushing furiously. "And," added the old gentleman, "you were wearing short skirts then, too."

ROOT'S HERESY

Having duly convicted Elihu Root of heresy, the Sun and New York Herald proceeds to read him out of the congregation of republican saints.

The permanent court of international justice is the cause of Root's downfall. Having helped to make it an integral part of the machinery of the League of nations, as was inevitable, Root's "thought does not represent the youth and vigor of the party. He is not in touch with the people and is not in their way. He does not represent them and is not in sympathy with them." No international court is genuine unless the front porch is blown in the bottle.

But if Root is a heretic, what is Taft? Many days before the plan for the permanent court was made, the former republican president rather brutally informed Harding that his scheme to revive The Hague tribunal as a substitute for the league of nations was rubbish.

"No one can suppose that the principal allied powers will consent to a new association or league when the old one is part of the treaty of Versailles; and it would be foolish for Mr. Harding to insist on this when only through a ratification of the treaty can he make secure our rights and privileges against Germany."

If Elihu Root is to be cast into outer darkness William H. Taft must keep him company. Neither is sound in the old guard faith.—New York World.

THE LIFE WORTH LIVING

What is life worth living? A different answer will be given by every class of individuals.

Call the shrewdest to the stage and he will tell you that the life worth living is a jag. His dream of bliss is contained in the sparkling wine and the flowing bowl.

The gambler will tell you that the life worth living is a jack-pot and the shrewdest says gets the stake. His life is in the whirl of racing horses, the click of telegraph instruments, the mad charge of chance.

The politician will tell you that the life worth living is graft. His conception of being is the political caucus. The highest dream he has is the dream of office. The sweetest longing of his soul is a yearning for patronage.

The hopelessly rich will tell you that the life worth living is money. The thing that stirs the souls is the jingle of gold. The sparkle of the diamond is the only glitter they can see, and to them commerce is simply a means of increasing their possessions and civilization but an agent to bring them profit.

The debutant will tell you that the life worth living is dress and show. Her dream of bliss is a new bonnet. Her ideal old glory is a stunning gown. Her field of conquest the ball room.

But such do not represent the realities of life.

The mere lapse of years is not life. To eat, to drink, to sleep, to be exposed to light and darkness, to pace round the mill of habit, and to turn thought into an implement of trade, that is not life. Knowledge, truth, beauty, goodness, faith, these alone can give vitality to the mechanism of existence; these are elements of life.

The laughter of mirth that vibrates through the heart; the tear that refreshes the dry waste within; the music that brings childhood back; the prayer that calls the future near; the doubt that makes us meditate; the death that startles us with its mystery; the hardship that forces us to struggle; the soul that throbs with the immortality; these are things that make life worth living.

A man's life is a million times more important than a man's work. Nearly everyone plans how to do his work effectively, but only a few spend time in planning how to live their lives beautifully. Education is good because it enlarges vision, constructs new worlds in which we live, multiplies the possibilities of usefulness and infinitely creates the conditions wherein the joy and satisfaction which men desire shall be realized. The man who sees only so much electric power in the dew-drip and vexes his soul because Niagara is for the most part unharnessed and gets dollars, but it is not likely to get dollars, but is not likely to get vision.

After all, visions are worth most. Wealth is a good thing but the man who strives for it alone—thinks about it, lives simply to create it—is the man who degrades his soul and who puts a barrier in the pathway of his real life. To look upon education as a means simply to larger capacity to achieve and to pay to it the tribute of admiration for this reason, is to be guilty of misplaced emphasis.

The intellect is no better than a pick or shovel if it is nothing more than an instrument to produce food to eat, a house in which to live, or bonds to place in a deposit vault. He, therefore, who would fill a large place, rejoicing daily in living; who would catch beautiful visions, best harmonious sounds, come into touch with large thoughts and find himself continually amid a new and more perfect environments must enlarge his soul in the broadening outlook of religion.

Yes, life is worth living, but it is right living that makes it so. There is something to do. A world is to be reconstructed. The nations of the earth shattered in their ideals, broken in the social and political estates, with hearts crying out for sympathy and help, are to be reinstated in the family of brotherhood.

Never before in the history of the world was it so important that this thought should be impressed upon youth. If life today is more strenuous than it ever was before, it is also fullest of possibilities of the higher sort.

Chronic Catarrh

Our manner of living makes us very susceptible to colds and a succession of colds causes chronic catarrh, a loathsome disease, with which it is estimated that ninety-five per cent of our adult population are afflicted. If you would avoid chronic catarrh you must avoid colds or having contracted a cold, get rid of it as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is highly recommended as a cure for colds and can be depended upon.

Ask for your favorite kind of music—instrumental or vocal. Seat yourself with your back to the New Edison. Close your eyes. In short, let us give you Mr. Edison's

Realism Test

This makes an actual musical experience out of a demonstration of the New Edison. It brings back your previous musical experiences. You compare the present experience with your musical memories, and determine how listening to the New Edison compares with listening to the living artist.

Let us tell you, at the same time, about our Budget Plan—a "better business" way of paying for your New Edison. (Note: the New Edison has advanced in price less than 15% since 1914. This includes War Tax.)

$500,000.00

To provide facilities to supply the increasing demand for local and long distance service, the Nebraska State Railway Commission has authorized an issue of $500,000.00 of the common voting stock of the—

Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Lincoln, Nebraska.

This stock has paid dividends regularly every three months in January, April, July and October for the past 11 years at the rate of—

and is now being offered at its par and regular value of $100.00 per share in amounts to suit the purchaser, and presents an excellent opportunity for the safe investment of large amounts or small savings, and pays dividends from date of purchase.

It is free from normal Federal Income Tax and all Nebraska taxes, as these are paid by the company.

The stock issues and expenditures of this company are under the control of the Nebraska State Railway Commission, assuring fair rates to the public and protection of stockholders' interests.

The stock may be transferred at any time in whole or part on the books of the company without expense.

Adequate telephone service has become one of the prime and growing necessities of civilization, which fact gives absolute stability to telephone stock, and for a regular quarterly income stock in an established telephone company is the most satisfactory investment available.

This is an old established company with assets of $9,915,000 and furnishes exchange and long distance telephone service to 64,576 subscribers in 118 cities and towns in 22 counties of the fertile lands and prosperous communities of southeastern Nebraska. Its territory extends from the Missouri river on the east to the west line of Adams and Webster counties on the west, and from the Platte river on the north to the Kansas state line on the south, having an area of 12,500 square miles, with a population of 415,540 people.

Its present revenues amount to over $200,000 per month. It has 1,570 employes, and its stockholders and owners are the officers and employes of the company, hundreds of its subscribers and patrons, and many investors outside of Nebraska.

The officers and directors of the company are among the most prominent and successful business men of Nebraska, and are the same who are responsible for its continuous growth and prosperity.

7% net per annum, paid quarterly by a check for $17.50 for each $1,000.00 of stock you own, sent to your address every three months in January, April, July and October, is a good return on such a safe and conservative investment.

To secure some of this stock, send your check with your order for the number of shares you desire to purchase, and stock will be sent direct to you, or send the name of your bank to which certificate will be sent, and you can pay for it on receipt.

Reservations may be made for stock to be taken up within 60 days.
