More bread in a loaf will be an ounce heavier, but price the same.

Hair nets, made of spider-web silk, are sold in Paris for $300 apiece.

Cigar makers in Cuba employ a man to read to them while they work.

England seems to be willing to give Ireland everything except what she wants.

The idle rich are not half so great a menace to this nation as the idle poor.

It begins to look like the world is getting over its spree of easy money and high prices.

If placed on the United States, Cuba would stretch, tip to tip, from New York to Chicago.

Eighty-five per cent of all diamonds mined in all time have been produced since 1889.

W. H. Harrison was the oldest man ever elected to the presidency and Roosevelt the youngest.

If Henry Ford is really reducing prices, then we wish he dealt in porterhouse steak instead of tin lizzies.

Alimony is high and doubtless will continue so indefinitely, for the supply will never catch up with the demand.

Occasionally one meets a man who gives direct answer to a simple question, but most persons want to make a speech.

Jud Tunkis says a man who travels for pleasure these days has got to be somebody who doesn't care about expenses.

Some brave souls are still wearing straw hats. Perhaps they are laboring under the fond delusion that wool hats may drop in price.

The notion seems to prevail among the millworkers' union that this is a government of coal miners, by coal miners and for coal miners.

Senator Harding is certainly right about one thing. The next administration will not be a one-man government. The ladies will be present.

Silk shirts, the ads say, are coming down. If they will come down just a little further they'll do fine as evening gowns for ultra-fashionable ladies.

Another race riot has been narrowly averted in Chicago. What would Chicago do if its population was about evenly divided between the races?

The primrose path looks bright and tempting, but the old adage, "be sure your sins will find you out," is a true one and beats you to it nine times out of ten.

The main issue is the league of nations—Governor Cox is for and Senator Harding is against the league of nations. Now you can take your choice understandingly.

A New York musical comedy producer has ordered his playwrights to omit all references to prohibition in the framing of jokes. He's dead right. Prohibition is no joke.

It is an encouraging sign of the times when Mississippi bankers show that they are more willing to lend money to the man who raises cotton than to the man who buys it.

Dr. Jenkins, president of the University of Omaha, and a life-long republican, says "I am for the league of nations and shall vote the democratic ticket to get it. It is the league or none."

Nobody is so capable of self-delusion as a candidate for office. His judgment may be good on all ordinary matters, but where his prospects are concerned he is the poorest guesser in the world.
