

How About Those $25 Suits?

—it all depends on what kind of $25.00 suits are in question. If they are those all wool, reliably tailored, standard make suits that we used to sell in the good old days (?) when labor was 10 to 17 cents per hour—why, then there are no such suits, for these are now worth $50.00 and they can't be bought for less anywhere.

—we speak with positive knowledge as to the $25.00 suit so alluringly described in city papers.

They are nondescript, no name, unreliable merchandise which have come onto the market as job lots and are being forced upon the public as "bargains" to compete with decent clothing bearing well known and proven labels and made by skilled and well paid labor.

THE NEED OF CITY DELIVERY IS APPARENT

PLATTSMOUTH WELL PREPARED TO RECEIVE FREE DELIVERY OF MAIL SYSTEM

Often the recurring question is asked as to why this city has not had a system of free mail delivery and the answer seems to be that there has not been a real concerted effort made to secure this feature of a modern postal system.

The city delivery is one of the conveniences of modern life that certainly should be asked for by this city and which the patrons of the postoffice are entitled to receive. Throughout the state there are many cities much smaller than Plattsmouth that have received free delivery and where the facilities for delivery are very poor indeed.

In the last few years there has been miles of sidewalks constructed over the city and now a well kept system of connecting walks can be found in any section of the city and which removes one of the reasons advanced several years ago against the installing of the free delivery. The receipts of the local postoffice more than justify the granting of free delivery and it is certainly something that the business men and citizens should see is secured if it is possible.

The installing of a free delivery system would be one of the greatest conveniences that could possibly be given the residents of the city and would enable the patrons of the postoffice to receive mail twice a day at their homes and eliminate the necessity of several trips each day to the postoffice and also lighten the labors of the clerks at the office. It is estimated that in some cases one family is given as much as eight different services during the day and probably receive no mail any time during the day and this feature would be eliminated under the free delivery system.

The securing of free delivery will demand a concerted effort on the part of the citizens but certainly it would seem that it is something that should receive some thoughtful consideration from the people of Plattsmouth.

SMALL BLAZE AT NOON TIME

Early this afternoon, an incipient blaze caused somewhat of an excitement when one of the members of the home discovered a small blaze in the floor of the west porch at the Masonic Home. The alarm was given and before any of the apparatus could be reached the signal came saying the fire had been extinguished. Situated as it was it was easily handled and a little work soon extinguished the fire with but a very slight damage.

George A. Kaffenberger, who is the manager of the elevator at Culom, was in the city today visiting with his friends and looking after some business matters.

CALLED WEST BY ACCIDENT

CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

Hon. W. F. Moran, of Nebraska City Spends Today Here with the Cass County Voters.

This morning Hon. W. F. Moran of Nebraska City motored up to spend the day here with friends and to look after the situation here in the political line as Mr. Moran is the candidate of the democrats for the office of state senator from Cass and Otoe counties.

The nomination came to Mr. Moran as the result of the demand of his friends as expressed in writing he is now before the people asking their suffrage. He has served four terms as county attorney of Otoe county and is one of the leading members of the bar in that county. If elected he will make an able representative of this district in the settlement of many of the questions coming before the next legislature. Mr. Moran has been a resident of Otoe county for more than 51 years, raised on a farm, taught country school four years, practiced law 27 years and was County Attorney four consecutive terms.

The Legislature which convenes next January will be one of the most important in the history of the state. On September 21, the people of the state adopted 41 amendments to the constitution. The next legislature will pass the necessary laws to put into effect these amendments and the way these amendments will affect the people depends largely on the laws drafted and approved by the next legislature.

One of these amendments creates a Commission of Industrial Relations with power to settle strikes and to regulate unfair business practice. This will be a new court. No state except Kansas has passed laws similar to the laws which will be required to put this amendment into effect. The jurisdiction and procedure of this court will require more careful legislation than has been passed since the adoption of our constitution.

One of the amendments to the constitution gives the legislature the power to pass laws respecting the acquisition, enjoyment and disposition of aliens' property. This amendment is a departure from our old constitution and the laws affecting the rights of the property of aliens will require careful consideration. The laws affecting these two amendments will require the most careful attention and consideration of men learned in the law.

Nebraska is the most purely agricultural state in the Union. Wise and judicious laws should be passed for the benefit of the farmer. The agricultural interests of the state should receive the most careful thought and serious deliberation of every member of the legislature.
